Quote: "I may be set apart from the rest but I feel I still have a purpose in the Universe I live in"

Backstory: Flare comes from a family of some of the strongest Phoenix's in the Universe. There had been 3 of these powerful phoenix's that had roamed her planet of Uelia. The only thing is that she was made a little more unequal from her brothers and sisters... she almost had less power than them. The only thing that sets her apart from the rest is she has one power that no other Phoenix has which is invisibility, normal phoenix's only have fire powers and the ability to fly. Flare knew and wanted to make a change in the universe and make her parents proud, but there were some things that made her scared of achieving this dream.

Planet Description: Planet Uelia was made so that it is sustainable for humans to live on. The planet is a gassy planet, but there is some sort of technology where the planet is only visible to the people/creatures living on it. The planet is mainly made of red sand, and it has yellow grass with tall fire trees all over, but there are also many cliffs, mountains, valleys, canyons all around the world.

City/Country Description: Flare lives on the part of the world where only part phoenix and part humans live. There are many other types of phoenix humans, they all have their own unique powers, there are many training bases all over the planet for the younger phoenix's to train at. Flare lives where there is both grass and sand around her. There are also some rare parts of the world where it looks like earth and there is grass and trees.

Political Climate / History: The planet of Uelia is quite a peaceful planet and is quite calm. The climate is warm all year round. The world is also quite equal because everyone there had mostly the same powers but there are some things that can set each other apart from each other which make everyone there special in their own way. Flare lives in a city called Preta which is in the middle of nowhere with not many people around. Way back in time there were some of the most powerful phoenix's living on this planet which is why it was made so that the planet was invisible to anything but phoenix's because if these powerful phoenix's got killed the planet it would have trouble staying invisible/hidden, the only thing that could keep this planet going is if another phoenix took over the powers from the powerful phoenix's, till this day no one knows who took over the powers of those phoenix's and it will remain a mystery. Who ever holds these powers of the most powerful phoenix's to ever roam, they will be our only chance to keep this world alive and defeat the bad that is coming their way.

Q: What do you like to do in your free time?

A: There are many caves that are full of many unique creatures that I enjoy going to visit. I also enjoy going to the fire meadow which is full of many flowers that can give you unique powers that only last for a certain amount of time.

Q: What is your favorite delicacy to enjoy, unique to your planet?

A: My favorite delicacy is a dessert that my mom makes it had a special chocolate that is only native to my city of Preta. She puts a lava filling on the inside that is gooey, and tastes wonderful. She makes this special frosting or some sort of filling, or whip cream on top, and she serves it in a dish that keeps the dessert warm and fresh.

Q: What would you do if you suddenly came upon your planet's equivalent of one million Earth dollars?

A: If I ever came upon one million dollars I would spend it on making some sort of item that will help my invisibility powers and make them even stronger. I would also use it to make myself a secret base with all the weapons I will ever need to help save my planet from the bad things that would be coming our way.

Q: What's one time you used an ability of yours to get out of a sticky situation?

A: I have used my abilities to get out of a situation with my parents, I used my fire powers in the house while my parents were gone on a date night and I accidentally burnt a huge hole in the table. I didn't want to get in trouble so before my parents got home I told my sibling that I was going somewhere and I would be back in a little. Once they got home my mom saw the huge hole I made in the table and she had ended up blaming only of my sibling for it because I just turned invisible and stayed inside the house until my parents found someone else to blame.

Chapter One: Uelia History

For Flares entire life all she has ever hoped for is to save the planet,, she has a tingling feeling that there might be some evil coming since their most powerful phoenix's had died, they had been the mighty protectors of this planet. For years and years Flare has only ever had one dream and that was to become just like those phoenix's and be the one to save this planet once and for all. The only problem was is that there were something that has held her back from achieving this magnificent dream of hers.

It was a warm summer evening and the sun was beaming down on Flare's face while she laid in the fire meadow with the most gorgeous flowers consuming the fields, this Fire Meadow was one of her favorite spots to go, this meadow gave her time to think, relax, and just have time to herself from all of her unhinged siblings. This was the summer when she had just turned 15. Flare has always known that she wasn't like the rest of her siblings and she was made almost unequal from her siblings and she seem to not be as strong as them. Flare has taken a long look back into the history of this planet. The one thing that Flare has known was that something big was going to happen this year, but who knows what it might be...

This planet of Uelia has quite a strange and unique history, this was the place where some of the most powerful phoenix's wandered, but these phoenix's weren't the type that were just there for show they actually had quite the responsibility to hold for Uelia, they had to keep it safe from the unknown that may be coming. Other phoenix's had also roamed this Uelia but they all had the normal powers of flying, the ability to turn into a phoenix, and fire powers but some may be blessed with the most unique powers to hold. Though many wandered Uelia, the 3 powerful phoenix's names were; Ash, Elemence, and Ferno. They all held their own special and unique powers which were very different from the other. Ash held the powers of teleportation, invisibility, and telekinesis. Elemence holds the powers of manipulation, healing, and telepathy. Finally, Ferno had held the powers of shapeshifting, super vision, and time travel. These 3 had made this device that made the planet nearly impossible to find, you were only able to see it if you were a phoenix, they made it like this so that nothing could harm Uelia, this element was held in the most top secret place and no one knows where it is to this day, only the 3 phoenix's that had hidden this element know where it belongs, there is only one possible way for you to know where it is concealed, but no one know quite what that may be.

Chapter Two: Powerful World of Phoenix's

Ever since Flare has turned 15 she had been feeling nothing but weird, she thought that now she was 15 things would be way more different than they were before, Flare thought she would finally have her chance to prove to her parents that she was worthy. Lately it hasn't really been going to well for Flare, she decided to go and ask her mom a question that was going through her head over and over again.

"Mom, I have a question for you, I have been thinking about for a while now" Flare said

"What is it honey?" mom said concerned

"I have been feeling weird lately and I have no idea what is going on with me. I was wondering if maybe you knew what is going on with me" asked Flare with a nervous tone

"Oh, I have no idea what that may be, but I do have one idea in mind..." mom said

"WHAT! what could it possibly be I really need to know. I need to fix myself!" Flare yelled

"Quite down, the only possible reason I would think is that maybe you have received a new power, but this can rarely happen to a phoenix so I don't know for sure" mom explained in a low tone

"What, really!? I really might have a new power, that's amazing!" Flare exclaimed while running off.

Thrilled Flare ran far into the desert to see what this new power may be. Flare went deep into the fire meadow, while carrying the book of Uelias history, this could be the key to her figuring out what her power may be. She sat in that Meadow against a big rock covered in moss and beginning to crack along the side, for hours she was sitting there trying to figure out what this power may be, but... she had no luck.

While flipping through the book she saw the amazing powers the powerful phoenix's held. Flare's favorite phoenix was Ash, she held these breathtaking powers that anyone would be so lucky to have. Ash held the powers of teleportation, invisibility, and telekinesis, Flare could only ever dream of these powers. Some time later Flare packed up and headed back home. The sun just began to set, the sky was the most beautiful colors of pinks, yellows, and reds, that were lined in a beautiful ambre gliding and glistening through the sky. Flare walked for miles and just saw her house over the large sand dunes that covered this land, but out of nowhere something happened... a rock just began to float in the air with no one around for miles and miles. Flare suddenly saw a flash of light and she was suddenly at her doorstep, Flare tried not to think much of it and just thought she had been seeing things.

Chapter Two, Part 2: Powerful World of Phoenix's

As Flare walked in the door she saw her mom with a worried face. Flare was wondering what she could possibly be worried about, she began to walk up to her and see what she was worried about. Flare walked right up to her mom and was standing directly in front of her, her mom just seemed to not even see her, her mom was even looking directly at her but didn't say a single thing...

Flare said confused "Mom, what is going on, why are you so worried."

"Who's there? What was that?" her mom said frightened.

"Mom its me, what are you talking about." Flare said confused

Flare was so weirded out about this situation, but then headed for her room, as she walked past her mirror she realized that she wasn't even visible. She was both excited and a bit terrified because she had no idea what was going on but she knew that invisibility must be her new power! She also realized that teleportation was also one of her powers which explains how she got home so quickly and saw that flash of light. Now she knows that she has another power which is invisibility. After some time of sitting on her bed, Flare realized the rock she saw moving in the desert was because of her! She then realized that she had the power of telekinesis as well! Flare did some research when all of a sudden she knew that she had the powers of Ash and she was the most powerful phoenix of all. Flare then knew she had to set out on her mighty adventure to protect Uelia just like the other powerful phoenix's. There was one problem that ran through Flare mind immediately and it was that she had to go on an adventure to find the other phoenix's that hold the powers of Ferno and Elemence.

Chapter Three: Adventure into the Unknown

Flare knew she was going to have to tell her parents that she has to leave and pursue her duty of helping and saving Uelia. Flare walked up to her mom and dad while they were sitting in the kitchen.

Flare said "Mom, dad I have to tell you guys something"

Mom said slightly confused "What is it, you can tell us anything."

Flare exclaimed "I hold the powers of one of the most powerful phoenix's that roamed Uelia, I literally hold the powers of Ash!!" Flares mom and dad had both shocked and questionable faces, almost like they didn't believe a single thing that she said.

Flare knew she was going to have to show them her new powers, but the problem was is that she had no idea how to use her powers, so now her parents were definitely not going to believe her.

Flare said in a sad tone "Nevermind you guys won't believe me anyways" as she left the room with her head looking at the ground.

Flare decided she was going to have to leave anyways, she packed her bags and left to go on her journey, she still made sure to leave her parents a note so that they would know that she had left and she won't be back for some time. Flare then set out on her mighty adventure.

While Flare was on her journey she had ran into these other phoenix's, there names were Blaze and Aurora. Flare found out that they were related and not only siblings but twins. As they began to talk Flare started to ask them some questions.

Flare asked "I was wondering if you guys knew about the history of Uelia? and if you knew about the 3 powerful phoenix's that used to roam Uelia? there names were Ash, Elemence, and Ferno."

Blaze exclaimed "Yes, we know exactly who they are, I even hold the powers of Ferno!"

Aurora also exclaimed "And I hold the powers of Elemence!"

Flare was so excited she had found friends, Flare then went on to talk to them about the journey that were going to have to pursue and try and save Uelai. There was now people all over the universe who knew the 3 powerful phoenix's had died, and now there planet was going to be under attack. Blaze and Aurora then pack their bags and set out on this adventure with Flare. The only problem now is that, they were going to figure out how to use these powers they were given.

Chapter Four: Mysterious Powers

As they set out on their long journey they knew that they were going to have to learn how to use their powers. Learning how to use these powers was going to take some time but they have no idea how much time they are going to need because they don't know when someone of something is going to attack Uelia. They are going to have to put in a lot of work to try and figure out these powers that they hold.

Flare declared "We have to be prepared for this battle, and we are going to have to figure out how to use and control our powers and not have them show up sporadically."

Aurora said, "How are we ever going to figure out how to use our powers?"

Blaze questioned, "Yea, how will we ever control them?"

Flare suddenly realized that it has to talk about controlling their powers somewhere in the history of Uelia book because it also talks about the powerful phoenix's.

Flare exclaimed "I have an idea, how about we do some research about the powerful phoenix's, it must say it somewhere in there how we can control these powers!"

Flare began to take a good look through the book. After about an hour she had finally found something that could be very useful but it was going to be kinda hard to trust. It said that the powerful phoenix's powers came out when they really needed them, or at a moment when they were really important to have and eventually after some time of the powerful phoenix's having their powers they eventually learned how to control them and use them on a daily basis. They were going to have to be patient and wait for that moment when their powers come into use.

Blaze freaked out "How are we just going to trust what that book says what if it's completely wrong and once we get into battle they don't work... WE COULD DIE!"

Flare said "I really have no idea if this book is telling the truth but we are going to trust it. If you have an better idea of how to use or control our powers I would love to hear it Blaze."

Chapter Four, Part 2: Mysterious Powers

Blaze stayed silent while looking at his feet and kicking around sand, and with his hand behind his back.

Flare empoweredly said "That's what I thought"

Aurora advised "Well if we can't do anything about learning our powers we are going to have to at least learn how to fight and learn different fighting techniques if our powers end up not working."

Flare said "Yes we definitely should learn some different fighting skills and techniques that could help us for the better."

Flare then suddenly realized that there was an element that was held on Uelia. This element was the only thing that had kept Uelia invisible and safe from all danger, and they now had access to this element. The element was held in a secret base that only the powerful phoenix's knew about and in that exact spot there was also a training base which is where they could train and prepare for their battle.

Flare exclaimed "Guess what... we finally have access to the secret element and where this element is held there is a secret training base that comes with it, which we could use to help our skills and maybe even see if we could try and learn our powers!"

Aurora questioned "We definitely could use that base but, how are we ever going to find it?"

Blaze said "I think there is something in the book explaining how you can get to it"

Flare began to shuffle through the book looking for anything about the secret base. She finally found something...

Flare announced "It says to find the base whoever holds the powers of Ferno has to use their super vision to find it."

Blaze questioned "But I have no idea how to even use my powers yet so how the heck are we gonna find this base."

Aurora reassured "Don't you remember the powers will come in handy when ever they are really needed and right now is a time when we need our powers, so just focus and try to find this base."

After a couple of minutes, Blaze exclaimed "I found it! It's just right over that sand dune.!"

They all began to run in that direction and they had finally found it, once they got in they were astonished by how ginormous, and nice the base was. They then began to train for hours on end and learning different techniques and skills, but something came to their surprise while they were training.

Chapter Five: Battle of the Century

There was a big rumble that made the whole planet shake, it was even bigger than an earthquake. They all exchanged frightened looks and they knew exactly what was coming next. As they ran out of the base they saw a big red, yellow and orange glowing figure and it wasn't just any normal size this thing was massive, they had no idea what it was but they knew what had to be done. They sprung into action immediately, as they began to fly the way of the monster it just got bigger and bigger by the minute they were like ants compared to it.

Once they got there Flare knew exactly what monster this was and it wasn't just any monster it was a dragon that came from an urban legend, but now this urban legend came to life. The dragons name was Eirsoissud the Lord of Fire, from what Flare has heard this dragon is was going to be difficult to beat.

Flare announced "This just isn't any monster it's a dragon from the urban legend of Eirsoissud the Lord of fire."

Aurora advised "This can't be Eirsoissud that's just a stupid urban legend those things are never true"

Flare said "But this one is true."

Blaze gulped "If this truly is Eirsoissud this is going to be one tough battle from."

Flare realized "But now that we know this is Eirsoissud we know what it's weaknesses are according to the urban legend. Eirsoissud can never focus on more than one object and there's 3 of us so that will make it a little easier on us."

Blaze asserted "We have to come up with a tactic so that it will make it easier for us to win this battle."

After a couple of minutes of devising a plan they finally had an Idea of what they were going to do. They all spread out and went to different areas surrounding Eirsoissud.

Chapter Five, Part 2: Battle of the Century

They were going to have to deliver this plan exactly like they talked about or this battle could go completely wrong and they all will die, Uelia will also disintegrate. All at once they flew out and Eirsoissud had no idea of who to focus and started uncontrollably spraying fire everywhere.

It was true their powers did come in at the right time when they were needed. Flare used her teleportation to get closer to Eirsoissud and get a better attack, but Eirsoissud tail had wacked Flare right out of the air with a hard landing on the firing hot coals. Aurora and Blaze attempted to take a different approach but it didn't go as planned, Blaze got swept out of the air by Eirsoissud's tail as well and Aurora also got hit by Eirsoissud's. As they all sat there on a rock out of sight they thought right then and there that this battle was going to be over and they had failed to save Uelia.

Flare announced "We have to keep on trying, Aurora you hold the powers of Elemence and she had the power of healing if any of us ever get hurt we have you to heal us, and Blaze if anything really bad happens and there isn't any way we can fix it we can use your time traveling to take us back minutes before so we can fix that mistake, so let's get back to this battle and win it!"

They then start with a different tactic and they all stay in the same spot all right by each other and then they attacked with each other. As Flare used her telekinesis to move huge boulders to try and distract Eirsoissud while Blaze and Aurora attacked, Blaze began to shapeshift into a creature that could possibly distract Eirsoissud, which caused Eirsoissud to only be interested in Blaze. Flare and Aurora started attacking Eirsoissud to weaken her, their only problem now and that was that Blaze can only shapeshift for a certain amount of time until it runs out. Blaze's time ran out and Eirsoissud whipped her tail and sprayed fire at Blaze and he got hit. Blaze and Aurora both fell, it was now all up to Flare to take down Eirsoissud. Flare teleported on top of her and then went invisible, she then moved more boulder to try and distract Eirsoissud, Flare then used her fire powers to weaken Eirsoissud even more. It started to work until Flare's invisibility wore off and Eirsoissud wiped Flare off her back and Flare took a hard landing alongside Aurora. Aurora and Blaze were back to full health, Aurora then went to heal Flare but a huge fireball came past them, Blaze then went back into battle while Aurora healed Flare.

After a long couple of hours of fighting Eirsoissud, they couldn't manage to defeat her, they thought there must be something keeping her strong enough so that she doesn't run out of energy. Blaze then remembered that he has super vision and whatever it is that is keeping Eirsoissud at full health he would be able to see.

Blaze exclaimed "Guys! I just remembered that I have super vision and I will be able to see anything that is on Eirsoissud's body that is helping her."

Blaze then began to use his super vision and he found exactly what was helping Eirsoissud out.

Blaze said "There is a small thing attached to Eirsoissud's back and it seems like it could be helping her, if we get that off or at least burn it I think that could help us a lot."

Flare and Aurora then went into action, Aurora was the distraction as Flare went up to get the thing off of Eirsoissud's back and it was almost like a little energy box and it held a certain chemical that went into Eirsoissud's body to almost make her indestructible. Flare ripped it off and burned it, then threw it to the side. Right at the moment Eirsoissud became weaker and weaker.

Flare, Blaze, and Aurora all used their fire powers and beamed fire at Eirsoissud which made her come to the ground with a hard fall and a loud rumble. They had finally won the battle and saved Uelia.

Chapter Six: Ceremony

They started their long journey back from the battle and they finally made it back, there were tons and tons of people waiting for them back at home and a bunch of questions were asked.

Reporter #1 said "How did you guys ever defeat that monster it must have been really hard, why don't you tell me a little about this battle?"

Reported #2 yelled "How did you guys ever find out that you held these powers of the powerful phoenix's?"

Later that day a huge ceremony was held to celebrate them for all the thing they did to save Uelia, and how much they sacrificed to save Uelia. There were people gathered as far as the eye could see, the whole crowd was waiting for the ceremony to start. There were bright white flashing lights that blinded them, making it difficult to see anywhere past the front row of seating. Flare stomach began to rumble she felt queasy to the stomach, there was a lingering feeling that her parents were not there to see her. Flare looked into the crowd and failed to spot her parents. The president walked out on the stage with a microphone in his hand hanging down by his side.

The President exclaimed "Hello and welcome everyone to the ceremony to celebrate these astonishing 3 that saved Uelia! They saved us from the wicked and evil that tried to destroy us and our planet but that evil has been put to a stop once again!" There was loud cheering and clapping that boomed and rumbled through the ground.

The President said "We are here to congratulate them and to honor them because they have now claimed the mighty power of the old phoenix's that used to roam, these 3 are the chosen and we have to praise them from holding this title and being the protects of our planet. We would like to give them not only the title of the almighty, the powerful, and the planet protects but also gold metals that can be cherish forever and ever. They will also be receiving the prize of 1 million Uelia dollars each"

Chapter Six, Part 2:

Ceremony

More cheering and applause, made the surface boom and rattle, Flare looked into the crowd once again trying to spot her parents but she came out with no luck and was unable to spot them in the roaring crowd. 3 people walked out and put the metals around their neck, but for some reason even having this title, the metal, the money and all, Flare still felt an empty pit in her stomach. There was only one thing that would ever fill this empty pit and it is all she has ever wanted for a long time.

The President had finally began to wrap up the ceremony as 3 more people carried out 3 massive checks with 1 million Uelia dollars written on each of them, each written in a fine cursive print with each of their names bolded for the world to see.

The President finished up the ceremony "Lastly to end this ceremony I would like to say thank you, you have saved our planet from being demolished. You guys will have some big lives ahead of you and whoever you give your powers to next will have some big shoes to fill."

The ceremony finally ended and as they began to walk off stage standing right there Flare saw her entire family waiting for her, her mom was in tears, her dad standing right next to her, and all her younger siblings running around. It almost felt like the world had stopped when Flare saw them it definitely began to fill that pit she felt inside. All her younger siblings ran towards her and began to hug her leg since that's all they could reach. Once they let go and Flares mom then walked up to her and gave her a big hug as well.

Flares mom mentioned "I just want you to know that I am so proud of you for everything and I love you so much."

Flare felt tears in her eyes because she finally got what she wanted and that was for her parents to love her and finally appreciate her for who she was and not have that feeling of rejection.

Flare replied "Thanks mom, I love you too" she then held on even tighter to her mom.

Flare felt more tears softly rolling down her face as they glistened in the sun, and she felt that the hole in her heart was finally filled, those were the only words Flare has ever wanted to hear come from her mom.

Flares dad added "I also want you to know that I am also so proud of you kiddo, and I love you so very much."

Flare then responded "I love you too dad"

Then followed by a huge family hug that Flare was in the middle of, it was to the point where she almost couldn't breathe. Even though she couldn't breathe Flare didn't care because she finally knew right then and there that she was finally loved by her family and she had a place on Uelia, she finally felt like she belonged here. Flare just felt more and more tears roll down her face, but they weren't the sad tears they were happy tears or the ones that you have when you are overwhelmed by a good emotion or moment. Flare finally knew she had made her parents proud for who she was and for all that she has done for them and everyone around her.

Out of nowhere there was a huge rumble that shook the entire planet but this wasn't just any rumble it felt extraordinary and this rumble definitely couldn't have come from the crowd since they all have left. This rumble was something much bigger than just people.

There was still one more surprise that was coming their way and it was nothing that they would ever expect. Those so called dead powerful phoenix's that died many years ago, maybe weren't so dead after all.
