Chapter One: Here we go again

As I try on clothes my mother just bought me, my father yells “Gil breakfast is served!!”

I respond back to him in a shout “OKAY I’LL BE RIGHT DOWN.” I look at myself in the mirror as the sun dims down into my room but only shines directly at me like I am the spotlight. My white hair shines like the stars of the night and my horn is sparkling to where the mirror cannot visibly see it. Three minutes pass and I head downstairs. My mother while grabbing some orange juice out of the fridge compliments my outfit. I also Compliment her clothes as we’re talking. Her long pink turtleneck dress shivers down to the ground where it slide across the floor like the ocean to the shore. Her long pink curly mane hair shimmers on the fridge.

She then looks at me and asks “are those the jnco jeans I bought for you?” “yes mom it is” I answered.

While mother and I are having a conversation. Father sets the breakfast table up and calls us over to eat. While eating, father has a conversation with mother about training me to be successful with my powers. You see, my parents are unicorns with powers. Not just any powers, they have the most powerful powers across this whole city of heroes. I happened to follow the genes of them and having powerful abilities as well. But not only that I had special powers, I had powers that originated from ancient times. They never believed in me, not even if I got fantastic grades. I know they just want me to be safe, after what happened years ago. Our planet Enaria has a city full of superheroes. One day on a unsteady Tuesday that city has been announced dead because of that one war they had with dragons. I wasn't alive that time of year but this history was all over the planet of Enaria. Everyone else thinks we don't exist but only us few know we are real and we're keeping it top secret to keep the peace open. My dream one day is to let every planet have peace and be a hero. We hadn't heard of a war ever since our city was announced non existence.

Chapter One: Here we go again

After breakfast I help clean up. I go on and start training with father in the backyard. When I walk outside I see my father. The one with big muscles to where he can pick up buildings and has the color hair of blueberries.

Farther starts encouraging me "COME ON GIL, TRAIN THE POWERS!!" In addition to him giving me courage I train my powers to the level he wants me to. Such as starting on my shooting powers. I shoot my rainbow liquid at these targets. Then I start to work on my laser aim. An hour passes and it gets overwhelming.

"All that training got me tired" I bawled.

"You can go take a break son, we will start on your other powers on another day" my dad went on.

I walk inside of the main part of the house. As I walk inside, I past my mom in the living room who gives me a slight smile while I walk up the stairs.

My mom knocks on my bathroom door and asked "What are you doing Gil?"

I reply in a hesitant tone "I'm trying on clothes mom..."

Although i'm mad at her because of that conversation at breakfast I still answer her to my best ability.

Gil walks out of the bathroom in comfortable pjs and talks to his mother. Gil and his mom talks about school and how he is getting a lot of scholarships. Mother is very proud of him but his father could care less about school for him. Ever since they found out he had powers and followed the genes of them, they knew he has to quit school and focus on training. His mom then tells him to follow his dream and don't let anyone crush it. Mother walks out of the room to get her rest. Gil studies his school work and falls into deep sleep.

Chapter Two: The talk

The next day, Gil gets a call from his friend, ring ring, ring ring the phone rings from afar. Gil gets out of bed and grabs the phone to answer it.

His friend asks "Gil want to meet for breakfast today at Renor's cafe?"

"Yes, i'll meet you there at 9:00 sharp, see you there Adrian," Gil says without a doubt.

At 8:30 Gil starts getting ready and heads out his front door. He goes into his car and heads to Renors cafe. I reach my favorite cafe , as I am walking in I spot Adrian and sit adjacent from him. We both order galaxy milkshakes and talk as we sip our drinks. All of the sudden the TV starts showcasing news that all planets are in danger. The news start showcasing the most powerful dragon Rygud. Apparently he has been destroying the planets all across the milky way. Adrian and I look at each other.

"You thinking what i'm thinking..?" I say to Adrian.

"For sure am!!!" he says back to me.

Both of the boys start updating each other on life. After they had finish their drinks they head out of the cafe. Adrian asks if he can sleepover at Gil's place, in order for them to make a plan to help the planets at peace again.

Chapter Three: "Teamwork makes the dream work"

Gil and Adrian planned their whole layout all night. When they both realized they don't have a ride to get anywhere.

But then a light bulb came to Gil's mind, "Wait! I have a spaceship we can take on our adventure there" he acknowledged.

"Great idea, where is it at?" Adrian says with excitement.

"It's in my parents secret lair, but don't worry they never go down there." Gil responded to Adrian's question.

Adrian and Gil grab their map, layout sheet, tools and head downstairs. Once they're in the spaceship Gil tells Adrian to call some of their hero trained friends for backup. Gil packs supply for them to survive this mission while Adrian calls. An hour passes and all of the people they called for backup arrives.

"Hey guys, thank you so much for coming on this mission with us." Gil says in a joyful tone.

Once I got everything set I started to place everyone in teams. I then gave every team tools and supply for protection of their body. I move everyone to different stations of the spaceship to train their powers. While everyone is training I then teach one of my hero friends the commands of the spaceship so she can keep watch of where our destination is. Me and Adrian then start estimating where Rygud's next destination is so we can head there before him and his troops.

Chapter Three: "Teamwork makes the dream work"

"We found it!" Adrian screams with joy.

He tells us the location of where they're headed. I estimated approximately 5.4 minutes that we are going to get there before Rygud. I head down to the training areas and assigned everyone their dorms. I tell them to get lots of sleep and we will land in the morning.

As the morning comes everyone got their sleep. I stop the spaceship from flying by itself and command me to control. I speak on the announcements and say "Everyone we are landing in now, everyone we are landing in now, so please get ready for land."

Mostly everyone showed up to the main area. Adrian assigns people in different areas of the planet.

Adrian and I walk off the spaceship and spot something walking towards us in a distance. This planet is foggy and has an earthy smell to it. We start walking towards this creature who seems interested into to us as well. When we walk towards this creature we see some elf ears pop out of the fog.

"It's a human ELF!!!" Adrian screeches.

Alongside Adrian screams, and everyone starts running back into the spaceship. They closed the doors onto me which locked me out. This mysterious creature reaches my range and starts talking to me.

"AGHHH who are you!??" the mysterious creature says to me.

"Excuse me but I am Gil, I didn't mean to scare you," I proclaimed.

Chapter Three: "Teamwork makes the dream work"

As I introduce myself and explain to this mysterious creature why i'm here, she doesn't believe that I am real.

"Are you really real??" the elf says in a curious voice after me telling her my story of Enaria.

"Yes I am real!" I tell her no matter how many times she denies it.

"Okay fine i'll believe you if you help my planet out on defending the Dragons. THEIR AFTER USSS!!!" She says.

"I KNOW that's why I CAME here in the first place" I say. She introduces herself to me then I introduce her to a few of my fellow friends. After having conversations with everyone on this mission team we give her gear, tools and put her in my group with Adrian. We all split up in different parts of her planet. A few hours past by and we still wait for Rygud to attack. We all head back to spaceship as the cold air flies by and the fog diffuses throughout. When we reach the spaceship the door opens slowly with the smell of cheesecake and the light of the stars that shine in night the sky. We all head to out dorm rooms and get some rest while we wait for the enemies arrive to attack.

Chapter Four: Here they come....

Five hours later it's 6AM in the morning and we hear an alert going off for about three minutes. All this cacophony woke everyone up. We communicate with our radios and stay in our rooms because of our confusion. Me, Adrian, and Sirze get into the security system. We check the cameras and watch it, apparently a powerful creature hit a fire ball towards the ship. Luckily the fire will wore out and the ship can build by itself again. As we are reviewing the footage we find out its Rygud....

"Everyone get into gear, Rygud has arrived an hour ago, I repeat get into gear!!!!" I shout.

Gil splits the groups and they rearrange their areas. They all decide to go together since Rygud is a very power mystic dragon that no one has defeated. Sirze sneaks Gil and his team around the squad of Rygud's. Rygud and his squad is scouting the planet of Serenella..

"I guess everyone evacuated." Sirze sadly spoke. Gil then gets spotted by one of Rygud's guard.

"OH NO RUNNN!!!!" Gil belted.

Everyone starts running in different directions while Rygud and his team is scattering to defend.

Chapter Five: The agreement

Gil's team starts attacking Rygud's guards and defeats them. Just then when Gil's mission people starts getting hurt.

"Okay we have to head back to the ship for you guys to heal up." Gil shouted in a nervous tone.

"I will take them back!" Sirze says.

Sirze takes the hurt people back to the ship. (AKA mostly everyone except Gil)

"Oh no I guess I have to defeat Rygud..." Gil whispers to himself. Gil runs up to Rygud while running, he flies into the air, and shoots his rainbow liquid out. Rygud dodge his powers and grabs Gil into a chokehold. Gil uses his manipulating time power and goes back 4 minutes.

He then tries a different method of defeating Rygud. Two different tries go by and Gil decides to go in the future to see what happens.

Ohhhhhhh, Rygud is supposed to choke hold me Gil realizes.

Gil does his first method again and Rygud choke hold him.

"AGHA YOU'RE CAUGHT HAHAHA!!" Rygud chuckles.

"Wait!! Before you deceases me I would like to make a deal, a agreement with you" I say.

Chapter Five: The agreement

"What's the agreement ???" Rygud curiosity kicks in.

"You can let me live and you have peace with everyone or you can give up your powers and have no peace with everyone."

"Hahaha NO! I'm going to choose the agreement, you can defeat me or you can die!!"

"Okay!" I agree in a confident tone.

Gil and Rygud battle here and there in this small area of the planet. They destroy cities as they miss each other with their powers. Holes in the ground, buildings collapsing, and dust everywhere as they go.. Gil then uses his stinking rainbow fart to stink the area. Rygud coughs and coughs, he then uses his super speed and breathe out his fire. Oh no fire is spreading everywhere...what do I do ? I then fly with my wings searching for Rygud. I fly for about 3 minutes and spot red wings and a purple dragon bodie in a distance of the fog. Flying around this body I noticed it's Rygud. I see that he is hurt and I can tell he is unresponsive. As I go and seek around him I then think to myself. I think he needs help, I should bring him in.

Gil picks Rygud up and heads back to his ship. Sirze sees him heading towards the ship so she opens the door and lets them in. Gil zooms in ordering someone to get Rygud to an operating room.

Chapter Six: Friends 4ever

It hits morning, the sun is shining, birds are chirping, and the planet is so quiet. I walk outside and fire starts burning out, smoke is everywhere, rocks flying by along the wind, buildings destroyed, and the roads are cracking. It takes a while for Rygud to wake up, as if he's in a coma. They head to the breakfast room and eat. As they are eating they hear something in the distance. Some minutes go by and it stops, til it starts again...

Gil checks to see what all the rustling noise was. It was Rygud....

"I see that you're awake" Gil chuckles.

"What do you want? If your going to kill me do it ALREADY" Rygud's heart rate goes up as he is mumbling words.

"I'm not going to kill you silly" Gil chuckles again.

"Then what are you doing to me??" Rygud says in confusion.

"I'm here to make peace with you and get your part of the story, everyone needs to be heard. I don't want you attacking others for your story to get heard" Gil says.

Rygud pauses for a moment....speechless. The tension between them turned into a sweet and kind friendship.

"You promise you won't hurt me ?" Gil says.

"I promise, I want peace in everyone and I hate to take my anger out on everyone" proclaimed Rygud.

Chapter Seven: Finally at peace

After Gil and Rygud build a special connection as they're heading back to Enaria.

"Thank you so much for letting me talk my feelings out, my parents got divorce and it's just hard for me" Rygud says with a guilty feeling.

"Your welcome, you can come to me anytime Rygud" Gil exclaims. Gil and Rygud have deep talks to talks with laughter. All of a sudden they hear a loud THUD. They both look outside and Rygud's face widens as if he's flabbergasted.

"Oh we're here, meet my planet Enaria!!!" Gil says

"WOWWWWW IT'S SO LUXURIOUS HERE." Rygud flashes out.

Gil heads outside and there are news reporters everywhere.

"Who are you? Where did you come from? Were you the one saving the planet of Serranilla?" questioned the news reporters.

"Hey everyone! I am Gil and I am the son of the two most powerful unicorn hero's. Yes we unicorn hero's still exist, we've been hiding in a city not too far from here. Yes I did save the planet of Serranilla but I couldn't do it myself so thanks to the people who came along with me on this mission!" Gil speaks in a microphone that was given to him. Adrian, Sireze and the other unicorn hero's walk out while the audience applaud. When just then Gil says a few more words.

Chapter Eight: "Everyone has a story to tell"

"I also want to recognize Rygud."

Everyone gasps and the looks on their faces were frightening.

"I also want to say that Rygud isn't who you think he is. You see I always wanted to be a Hero growing up, just like my parents. So when the news came on about Rygud I took action. But Rygud isn't that dragon anymore, he just needs to have his story heard. Well if you payed attention everyone has rough times. So that's why i am making a statement that EVERYONE HAS A STORY TO TELL." Gil speaks.

Rygud walks out and everyone darts apologizing and applauding for him. The mayor of Gil's city arrives along with Gil's parents.

"I am so proud of you son." Gil's father proclaims.

The mayor starts honoring Gil and showcasing news. He then wins ton of money and getting the biggest check from government of Enaria.

"What are you going o do with all that money sir?" a news reporter asks.

"I am going to repair Serranilla and help those planets in need." Gil says.

Everyone starts clapping and cheering when the mayor sends off everyone back to their planets/cities. Back at Gil's house he has an ordinary life but it's changed. His father doesn't care about training anymore. He encourages Gil to go for his dream school. As everyone else saw the news they congratulate Gil and make posters everywhere saying "Everyone has a story to tell."
