Chapter One: Childhood

Hi, My name is Aslan and I will be telling you guys my story on how I became the king of The planet Kallaz.

So, at the time my dad is the king of Kallaz. My grandpa passed down the royal crown for when he died, my dad/his son will be the king of Kallaz. So, today I will be going to the carnival with my friends. I went to my friend's house to pick them up, As we were coming back there were these mysterious looking wolves on to the side of the road. My friends and I knew that there was something wrong by just looking at their flashing red eyes. We tried to stop but, they were in the middle of the road and there were nobody else around except for my friends, the wolves with flashing red eyes, and I. I drove the car as fast as it possible could but, they eventually caught up to us.

I locked the door as fast as I could. Moments later, there were loud bangings on the window of the car. The wolves had some facial expressions that made them look really mad. We didn't do anything to them so, we were confused. A moment later, they stopped banging on my friends window but they started coming to my window. Then, they tried opening my door to see if they could get it opened. Out of nowhere, the door started to break. So, they can reach my head. When they got the door opened, they reached for me. They put a pitched black bag on my head with a smell that made me pass out. A few moments later, I heard my friend calling my name with my father. As I lied on the ground. After that, we went home and they were asking me what happened. All that I could remember were the wolves grabbing me and trying to kill me.

Chapter Two:

Another day passed by and I was just playing football with my friends. I threw the ball too far so, I had to go get it because my friends didn't want to get the ball. If I were my friends and someone threw the ball that far, I probably wouldn't want to get the ball either. While I walked up to the place where I threw the ball, it wasn't there so, I looked for it. There it was, next the long trees and bushes. When I walked up to it, I heard random whispering. One of the voices sounded my brother. So, i was just standing there trying to listen to see if it is my brother.

I heard a deep voice saying " Make sure we take over this land by the time your father is dead."

"Of course master. You don't need to worry about that." another voice said

“Alright it’s good that you understand everything now you shall get back to the kingdom before anyone else catch you.” the same voice said

“ And make sure kiddo, if you don’t make this planet mine there will be consequences.” proclaimed the deep voice.

When I got home that day, I was wondering if one of those voices were my brother’s but it if was, why would he want to take over this place even if it’s his own family’s planet? The next day I saw him, I walked up to him and told him that I heard what he said yesterday. And his facial expressions tells me that he was one of the guys behind the bushes. When i looked away for just a second, he started attacking me and oh boy he kicked my a**, I wasn’t quick enough to get into action. At that time, I didn’t know what to do. So, I tried fighting him too but i was no match for him. I needed some trainings so, I looked for one until i found the perfect one. You would never guess who it.

Chapter Three:

After a couple days, I finally found the perfect trainer. Tigress.. Yup, you heard that right.e Tigress, from kung fu panda. She visited some tigers here and that's where I met her. I asked her if she could train me and teach me how to fight. She said it has been a few years back since she did any fightings but, I begged and eventually she gave in and agreed. One day, we were just training until I got a surprise. You know who it was? Yes, it was the panda the master himself. Along with panda's daughter. At first I was confused, and I asked about who she was cause ooh girl she was all that. But, hey the main thing is to train, right? When we were training, we had to do a 1v1 so, it was just me and po's daughter. In the middle of fighting, she kicked my legs and I nearly fell to the ground. But, she got me on time. While she caught me, I was too busy staring into her ocean blue eyes.
