Chapter One: Danger is Near

[Paste chapter image/drawing here]

It was a calm evening at the palace. The Empress was inside her private study finishing up some paperwork. She is sitting on her comfortable chair behind the white wooden desk. However, she then got a strange feeling to check The Solar Room.

The Solar Room is one of the most important rooms in the palace. Its where the empress can look over the entire universe in order to protect it

She then stood up and began to walk out of her private study and down the long corridor. The long hallway has tall windows that also have famous important paintings and portraits. She made her way towards a large door. The door then opened and she walked inside The Solar Room.

In the center of the room, there is a large magical 3D space map of the entire Nebula Universe. The Empress looked around at the planets making sure everything is going smoothly. However, she suddenly senses a dark energy nearby her planet, she doesn't know what it is. The map showed no signs of danger near the planet. The Empress then got worried of what might be happening. She couldn't do anything at the moment so she then walks out of the room and walks towards her chambers for the night.

Chapter Two: Evil has Returned

I am walking around the busy city looking around for any signs of danger. I am wearing dark clothes so no one could recognize me. The bright sunlight shines in the sky, people walking about minding their own business. I continued to look around until a certain individual caught my eye.

I see a tall man with very dark hair and wearing all black with black gloves. You can't see his face because it's covered with his hood. The way he acts was the part that caught my attention. I observed him from a distance trying to figure out why I was staring at him. Then I sensed it, the dark source was coming from him. My eyes widen in shock when I felt this. Then he started to walk away and I quickly followed him.

He then walks towards a trashy abandon alleyway. I then decided to call out to him so I can know who he is.

"Hey!!!" I yelled out to him.

He turns around and looks at me and then says "May I help you?" he rudely says,

"Who are you?" I asked.

"Who's asking" He asked in an annoyed tone of voice.

I then pulled down my hoodie revealing who I am. I can't tell how he is reacting to this but I imagine he is in surprise.

"The Empress is asking." I say softly.

He just stood there silently, as if trying to process what was happening.

"You're the empress of this planet?" He asks.

"Yes I am, I want to know who you are." I say curiously.

The man then removed his hood revealing his identity. I gasped when I saw who he is.

"You're back, The Emperor of Evil is back. . . I whispered.

Chapter Three: The Stones

I sit on my throne thinking about the events that happened last night. I can't believe he's back. I say in my mind. I had so many questions I wanted answers to. How is he back after many centuries locked away after all the horror he did?

After I recognised him, he gave me a creepy smile and threw a sleeping potion at me. I then collapsed to the floor unconscious. I managed to wake after a couple of hours. I was so confused and in shocked after what just happened. I then turned my head and looked around to see if he was still there.

He wasn't there. Now he's running around freely on my planet. . .

I then started to pace around my throne room, thinking about what to do next. Until suddenly, I realized the reason why the Emperor of Evil is doing here. He's planning on stealing the stones.

The stones are extremely powerful artifacts. There are many of them. However, each planet of the Nebula Universe, has their own stone that runs all the magic on the planet.

Suddenly my attention turned to the door. One of the guards had burst inside the room. He then quickly bowed to me and started to speak.

"Your majesty, we have an extremely large problem." He says in a panicked tone of voice.

I immediately knew what he was saying. I hoped it wasn't true.

"The stones are missing aren't they" I say in a worry voice

"Unfortunately yes they are" The guard responded

I sit back against my throne in disbelief.

"How many are stolen?" I asked nervously

The guard then stayed silent for a few minutes before answering.

"All of them on this planet." He says in a low voice it almost sounded like a whisper.

I stared at him in shock. He stole all of them!? What is he planning on doing with them!? I knew I needed to find the Emperor and stop him from doing anything evil to this universe. I had to come up with a plan to stop him for good.

Chapter Four:

The night had fallen over the city. The moon and stars are shining in the dark sky. Sounds of crickets chirping could be heard.

I lay in my bed thinking about what exactly I'm planning on doing. I don't exactly have a plan, however, I am determined to bring the stones back.

As soon as I was about to fall asleep, I then realized something. I then got out of bed and walked towards the door. I opened it and closed it behind me. I then walk down the corridor to the library. It was pretty quiet. The sounds of my footsteps could be heard. The guards were guarding the doors. It was a very peaceful night.

I then finally reached the library. I opened the tall door and walked inside. There were many rows and rows of bookshelves. Half of them are ancient.

I then made my way towards the restricted section. It had many books about different things. Like there are books about, the history of the planet, the former rulers, ancient artifacts and dark magic. The book I'm trying to look for is called Ancient Magic. I looked around everywhere in the restricted section. I then spotted it. I quickly grabbed the book and started to scroll through the pages. Then I stopped at a certain page. The heading says Magical transportation Portal. This spell is very powerful. It can transport you to any part of space. Now I am one step closer to stopping The Emperor. But first, I have to find out where his planet is.
