

CERTIFIED DREAMVALE

The Dark Moons

Zander Calkins

Name: Moon Night
Age: 21
Species: dragon born
Gender: male
Home Planet: moon

Personality Traits/secret

- Dark
- Ruthless

Secret

Has a different name no one knows

Abilities

- Speed
- Strength
- Shifting

Dream(s)

To one day to be able to protect his loved ones again

Fear(s)

Not being able to protect his loved ones

Quote: "Amidst the whispers of the ruthless night, one discovers that humor is merely the sharpened dagger glinting in the moonlight—witty, yet perilous."

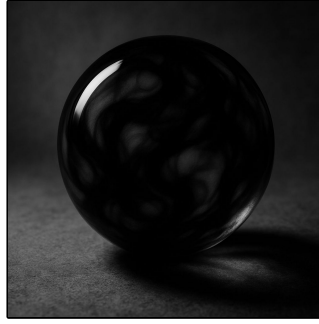

Backstory: As a kid he trained hard but when he was a teen he got in really big trouble and was kicked out of his city. His goal is to gain the trust of his city. He has one friend and has lots of problems

Inventory

Sword Necklace Emblem

This is a family emblem that was passed down from his father. The emblem gives him strength and courage.

The Shadow Orb

No one knows what it does all they know is it's rare. The orb only shows itself to people that are worthy of the power the orb holds.

The Lucky Ring

A ring his friend gave him to keep until he finds the right person. When worn if its true love it will turn pink.

Companion

Raven

She is a snake girl that was kicked out of her city too. She can change the length of her arms and legs. She is 21 has no friends other than moon night.

Home Planet: Moon

The moon when people were finally able to live on the moon, it's solid, we made machines that make oxygen, kind of cold but livable. We have to live in houses but all the houses are in one HUGE dome. Caves and mountains every where

Hometown: Moontone

A country like area on the far side of the moon with minimal people with big yards and "farms". Mostly has caves because it used to be a mining area but the stopped, sinkholes happen all the time

Political Climate / History: NASA finally found a way for people to live on the moon for as long as they needed and being able to make farms and grow animals on the moon by bringing some up there then breeding them for more animals. Lots of mining jobs for moonstone and magic diamonds, when the material is mined then there are mineral cleaners who clean the minerals that then give them to jewlers who make the magic items.

An Interview by ella

Q: What is the most embarrassing moment you can remember?

A: The time i met raven. I was running and i had trapped and landed on top of her.

Q: What is a tradition that you've always followed?

A: Before i was kicked out it was praying before every meal. Now i don't follow any

Q: If you had a TV show, what would it be called?

A: The dark moons. It would be about me and my friend raven

Chapter One: The story

Moon Night starts telling a story about his evil brother who blamed Moon Night for various crimes he didn't commit and him getting kicked out of his city.

Chapter Two: The start

Moon Night finishes the story about his evil brother blaming him for crimes and Raven tells him to solve the problem in some way to return to his city.

Chapter Three: The adventure

Moon Night and Raven start planing and going on an adventure back to Moon Nights city were they have a plan to get back at Moon Nights evil brother.

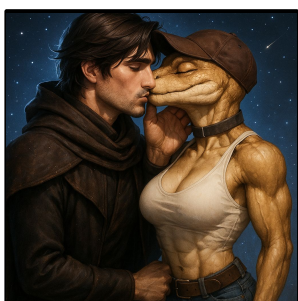

Chapter Four: The fight

Moon Night tries to talk to his brother and the ruler of Moontone but they won't listen then Moon Nights brother attacks him without any warning.

Chapter Five: The return

Moon Night defeats his brother and in the battle Moon Nights brother admitted to doing the crimes and the ruler of Moontone hears him Moon Night and Raven are then able to return to Moontone

Chapter Six: The end

Raven confesses to liking Moon Night and Moon Night does the same and they start dating, happily ever after.

Chapter One: The story

I'm sitting in my cave home with a sofa, bean bag, paintings on the walls, and a huge carpet when raven my best friend walks in.

"Hi Moon Night!" she says excitedly.

"Hi Raven, why are you so excited?" I ask curiously.

"Do you remember what you promised me Moon?" Raven asks with a look of curiosity on her face.

I hate when she calls me moon!

"No what did i promise you?" I ask acting like I don't remember.

"A story silly!" she says excitedly slightly laughing.

"Oh yeah silly me." I say sarcastically.

"Alright sit down" I say patting the spot next to me. She sits down then puts her head on my shoulder and I blush slightly.

This story starts with a little boy who doesn't have many family members he has his mom and brother but no one else because his dad died before he was born. This boy is 5 in this story, the boy never really had much as a kid but when he got something he would, protect it, then one day he got something he never expected, he got a

Chapter One: The story

Letter in the mail that read dear Mr. Night we are sending this to you because you have been reported for robbery by stewie griffin. That's when the boy realize his own brother reported him for something he didn't do but why?

The boy asked himself, why would his own brother report him for such a thing when he never would, later that day when the boys brother got home he asked his brother and his brother said i can't get in trouble but you can, the boy said to the cops that it wasn't him that stole stuff it was his brother but they didn't believe him. Every week for the next year the boy would get in trouble for his brothers actions when finally the city had enough, so they kicked the boy out of his city and told him to never come back unless he plans on admitting to the theft... the end.

By then Raven had fallen asleep on my shoulder, so I fell asleep with Raven on my shoulder.

Chapter Two: The start

I wake up from my nap and i look around but i don't see raven so i shoot up off the couch.

"RAVEN!" i shout still looking around.

"What's wrong?" i hear Raven ask from the other room, i start to calm down

"You scared me, i thought you ran away or something." i say as she walks up to me

"Now why would i do that silly?" she says smiling.

"I dont know you just scared me, what were you doing?" i ask putting aside the fact that i was actually scared for once other then the time i got kicked out of my city.

"Nothing just thinking of a way that you could maybe, get back at your brother."

"Get back at my brother? That's a good idea!" i say now thinking about a way i could get back at my brother for what he did for me.

"I already got a couple ways you could get back at him!" Ravens says obviously trying to impress me, it slightly working.

Chapter Two: The start

"Ok spill the beans, what are some of the ideas you have?"

"Well we could start by packing our bags because we dont know how long we will be adventuring for then we could start heading to your city and when we get there we could ask the guards for your brother then when he gets to the front gate where we are waiting then we attack him when he shows up!" she says excitedly.

"Well that could work but we can't just attack him," i say although i can tell she's not really paying attention.

"Ok," she says sadly

"Let's get started with the rest of the plan though!" i say as i through Raven an extra backpack.

Chapter Three: The adventure

Me and Raven start packing for an adventure to my city to confront my brother, I pack my Sword necklace, my shadow orb, and my lucky ring when i start to think to myself i think i know exactly who to give this ring to but i will wait for a later time, right then Raven walks into the room

"Ready?" Raven asks looking at the ring im putting in my backpack "you never told me you had a ring," Raven says right after "Oh, i didn't? I thought i had told you about it," i say grabbing it out of my backpack.

"You can tell me later if you want," Raven says in an excited voice

"I suppose we are going to want to leave soon or else it might get dark before we get to my city," i say putting the ring back in the backpack and putting the backpack over my shoulder.

"Lets go!" i say running to the cave entrance

"WAIT UP!" Raven yells running after me. A little while later I hear a sound in a bush in front of us

"WHO'S THERE?" i yell toward the bush. When a angry little elf jumps out of the bush and tries to tackle Raven but i catch him and slam him on the ground knocking him out.

Chapter Three: The adventure

"And stay knocked out punk!" i say standing back up. We continue on our journey before a little while later another sound comes from a bush.

"Who's there?" i ask less scared then before. Just then a dwarf jumps out and kicks me in the leg

"Ow!" i yell slightly in pain

"You know what," i say before using my super strength to punt the dwarf away.

"Oh, uhm ok." Raven says kind of impressed

"Lets go we are almost there," i say before i continue walking,

Later

"Moon night where are we?" Raven asks as i look down at the shadow orb.

"Almost there," i say as we walk up to a sign

"See," i say pointing at the sign

"Moon night wait, i want to say something," Raven says grabbing my hand

Chapter Three: The adventure

I turn and face her "what's up?"

"Uhm, i wasn't sure when to say this but, i like you moon night i really do," she says blushing.

"Uhhh, can we talk a little more about this later?" i ask trying to sound understanding but also blushing

"Ok" she says.

"Now let's take care of this, problem," I saw smiling.

Chapter Four: The fight

We walk up to the gate

"Why are you here moon night?" i hear a familiar voice ask.

"For you," i say back to my brother.

My brother jumps down to me and walks closer then he tries to attack raven but i use my super speed to get in the way then my sword emblem necklace turns into a real sword then i look at the shadow orb in my backpack and its glowing that's when i realize that the shadow orb can transform things with a single thought. I swing the sword at my brother and he blocks it, I think about the sword turning into a dagger then back into a sword and it does almost stabbing my brother in the chest but he dodges it cutting his arm, I think of the sword turning into two shurikens and it did so i went to throw them at my brother but he hit them out of my hand then the sword turned back into the necklace, I looked at it then back at my brother then I jumped at him thinking of me being a wolf, I shift into a wolf with the help of the orb and i bite down on my brothers arm.

"AAAH!" My brother screamed in pain I shifted back into a human with the help of the orb and i grabbed the necklace and put it on while my brother fell to his knees from the pain.

Chapter Five: The return

I walk up to my brother

"Why did you blame me for everything?" I ask standing above my brother, my brother spits in my face then i kick him in the side of the head knocking him out, just then some of the city government walk out.

"Hey moon night we want to talk to you," The head of the government says.

"My name is Officer Crowfoot," Officer Crowfoot says holding out his hand i shake his hand.

"I'm moon night," I say hesitantly

"I wanted to inform you that even after we band you from the city the same crime was happening that's when we found out it was your brother we were trying to find you but we couldn't so we were hoping you would come back on your own," Officer Crowfoot says,

"when we tried to catch him he would get away but lucky for us you took care of him," Officer Crowfoot says leading me into the city while other officers put handcuffs on my brother, just then i hear someone running up behind us so i turn and see Raven,

"Moon night can we talk about that thing from the other day?" Raven asks obviously wanting to talk about it really bad

"Sure Raven why not," I say fully turning to face her

Chapter Six: The end

"I know i already said this but, i like you Moon Night i really do and i want to be with you, if you have the same feelings of course," Raven says redder than a tomato.

"I like you too Raven so yes we can be together, also call me aaron," I say leaning down and kissing raven and closing my eyes, after a couple seconds i pull away from the kiss and look at raven.

"I love you Moo- I mean Aaron," Raven says still blushing

"I love you too Raven, wait i have something for you one of my friends gave me to give to "the one" if i ever found them and, its you Raven," I say pulling the ring out of my backpack, Raven slides the ring on and it's a perfect fit.

"Like it was meant to be," Raven says looking up at me.

"You know your a pretty good kisser," Raven says pulling my head closer to hers, then she kisses me again but longer this time.