Chapter One: Back then.

When my dad and my mom were together they had.. Problems, They'd always fight and start arguments over the stupidest stuff. Once they started a fight over who had to go get food to be able to eat. Sometimes we skip meals because we can't afford much, our house is falling into bits and pieces and my mom is so sick of it.

One day when i was 11 they got into a really bad fight, I had to stay in my room for the whole day. The next day, I heard someone open the door and saw it was my dad, I asked where he was going but all he said was "Somewhere far away from here." I was shocked because he never leaves the house so I knew something was wrong. When my mom woke up she was so angry, an angry I would never forget she started to cry and start to break stuff like dishes even tho we didn't really have any.

She was so upset that dad left so she let it out on me by shouting but it never phased me, I was used to it. The next day, I haven't eaten anything in a few days so i asked my mom after she was a little cooled down, So I knocked on her door to ask her next thing i know she started screaming at me to leave the house and never come back, I was in complete shock, I know my mom but i never thought those word would come out of her mouth, i started to cry because I didn't know where I would go because dad left and was nowhere to be found.

I had to pack my items quickly because i didn't know what she would do to me, I only had a tiny suitcase that was breaking and cracking everywhere but it was the only thing that I saw, So i packed my clothes and my stuffed animal, Also a family portrait, I've never seen any of my aunts or uncles, Not even my grandma or grandpa. I understood tho because we were so poor but that never bothered me,

Chapter One: Back then.

After I packed up everything I could possibly find I left my old broken down house and started to cry again, I didn't have anywhere to go, I started to look for places I could possibly find a little shelter to huddle up in but that when I saw $5 on the ground.

I ran as fast as I could and the wind picked up but that wouldn't stop me, I ran and ran then the wind stopped and I grabbed the $5 I was so happy, I took a break to catch my breath and started to walk to the nearest store I can see. After about an hour of walking I stumbled upon a abandoned store, It was called Gerlebatran (Gr-lerb-a-tran.) Almost every corner I walked it was just abandoned places I mean I've been walking for hours now, I soon realized it was getting dark out so I tried to find a way to try and break into the store. The store looked like it hadn't been touched for years.

I soon found I way in and I was surprised to see that the inventory was still in the store I ran and grabbed the first food I saw, Chicken noodle soup. I was so happy and decided to stay there for the night.

The next day, I woke up around 6-ish I could tell by how light it was outside. I Packed enough food for days I had to use my pockets in my pants to fit some food in it because my suitcase got to full and I was afraid it was gonna break. When I got everything packed up I started my journey, After Hours and Hours of walking I soon realized I was in a whole different town far far away from my home.

I looked around but everything was all old and abandoned. I was scared because it was a new environment but the people there look miserable and depressed. I found a old very tiny abandoned house that no one lived in and started to put my stuff down and then took a walk. Walking around was pretty scared because I was 11 at the time so I went back and took a nap but it ended up being for the whole day.

Chapter One: Back then.

The next day I woke up and had next to no energy, It felt like a was just a blob with no bones. My arms and legs were jelly and I head felt heavy.

I wanted to get up so bad but i just couldn't, I figured it was probably all of the running and walking i did so i just tried to sit up because i needed to decorate the place. After a while i finally had enough strength to pull myself up i go trite to work, I was determined to make the house i had been in to look decent because i didn't want any reminders of my moms old house..

I unpacked everything out of my broken down suitcase and pockets, I had a blanket, pillow, some clothes, food, family porchart, and the most important thing, Lights and a little heater that could get plugged into the wall. Because there was no heat or AC there the mini heater came in handy.

I started to clean up the house and try to remove all of the rats but there was so much trash i thought it would take days! I realized that i was over exaggerating and cleaning up only took about 2 hours. I began to put up the lights to give the house a shine.

Chapter One: Back then

Soon after that I then put up my family portrait, I may not be in it but it is the only thing i have of my family. After i got everything set up i took a nap.

I woke up the next day determined to find a job so i could properly buy the house so i began to look. I found one place that higerd and young ages, so i took my chances and got an interview. The person taking me in looked so sad and depressed i felt bad, After a little while i went home trying to hope for the best.

Again i took a nap because i thought it could help brush off the nervousness. When i woke up i heard 4 knocks of my door, I thought to myself "God please be the person from the job." I was nervous and opened the door to my surprise it was the guy who interviewed me! I was so happy and then i heard the word come out of his mouth.. "Yeah so like you got the job duuudeee.. The manager wants to totally know when u caann startttt..." He said in a Totally tubular way,

I began to smile but i was confused because when he wnet and took my interview he sounded and looked super sad and depressed but i didnt really care i got the job! I told him that i could start today if he needs me to get trained and stuff, But to my surprise apparently people don't train them over here and that your gonna have to toughen it out and figure it out on your own. I followed him there and got to work.

Chapter One: Back then.

I got to be the resocker but there was bareilly anything to restock because moneys kinda tight over here, I mean i get paid $2 an hour and i work 10-5 then take a break and go back to work at 6-9.

I am now 16 still working at the same dumb job that i'm sooo sick of by now, I am also the asistent manager. I ended up buying the house and re decorating it to a more darker theme.

I never got any word from my mom or dad either so i never knew what happened and how there doing. I still really miss them even if they did bad stuff they will always be my mom and my dad, I wouldn't be here without them.

Chapter Two: Great great great great great great great Grandpa

After another longggg especially boring day i finally got back home and i slumped straight to my bed i was so tired but i haven't eaten in awhile because i skipped breakfast and lunch. So I looked through out my cupboards and saw some mega stuffed ravioli.

Now I didn't have a microwave I normally used the one at the store so I just ate it cold. It was still good in my opinion. After I finished my ravioli, I drank some oldgatorade I found in the attic of my work that my boss said I could just take because they didn't need it.

I sat down and plopped on my couch and put on a random black and white show. When I tasted the gatorade I soon realized that it was way past the expiration date it tasted like nails on a chalkboard scrapings and mixed with expired milk with a lemonade flavor packet, it was so bad i felt like i had to throw up but eventually I got the taste out of my mouth.

Once I got the nasty taste out of my mouth I ended up passing out slumped I was so tired but once I fell asleep I had the weirdest dream..

Chapter Two: Great great great great great great great Grandpa

I dreamt about my Great great great great great great great grandpa, And it was when the war between him and another planet. I got flashbacks to when they shot off a cannon to the other territory, I never found out why they had war but i was thinking maybe this dream might tell me why we had this huge war.

I began to see what looks like to be my grandfather i couldn't really tell because i've never really seen him before except my mom had this one portrait I briefly remember. It was with him and his wife with his 2 kids. He had a long beard and always has a smoking pipe in his mouth.

Everybody looked so happy in the picture but now everyone looks sad whenever I see people in pictures. It didn't make sense. Once i got more into my dream I saw a shiny glowy rolled up paper that was guarded by multiple guards it looked like, It was sealed into a glass cage and somehow floating?? I didn't know magic was real but it had to been put on a spell or something.

I soon realized that they couldn't see me so I tried to go up by my great great great great great great great Grandpa to try and hear what he was talking about but it was really hard for me to understand him due to all of the gunshots and cannons from every angle.

Chapter Two: Great great great great great great great Grandpa

I quickly tried to seek shelter because I heard my great great great great great grandpa tell his people to find a hole due to the other planet shooting off there secret weapons we never heard of or seen.

I mean i've never seen something that powerful after it was shot 3 times, the first time BOOM!!! It went straight for the west side where most of our fighters were.. Next thing you know BOOM.. Thousands of dead bodies fly everywhere. I quickly rushed over there because they couldn't see me i mean it was all just some stupid dream... Right?

I looked for any survivors but there weapon was too powerful.. They were all dead. Next thing I know I hear another one, My ears were ringing because we had big ears so we could hear way more than just normal people, They hit the East side..

That's where my grandpa was hiding with the remaining few were hiding. Now I never knew him so I wasn't sad but I just has thought about all of the people that just lost their lives.

Chapter Two: Great great great great great great great Grandpa

I waited till the cannons stopped which was once more, I walked slowly over there and saw everyone lying dead I paced myself for the worst but i saw my grandpa still moving.

He was crawling towards the paper. He tried to stand up, Eventually he did and grabbed the piece of paper and said hey kid over there, I was confused because it's just a dream it took me a while and he said "Hey kid.. I can see you, please take this paper and hide it.."

I was shocked when he handed me the paper I asked him "Sir but how can you see me.. Im dreaming and this seems to be a flashback.?"

"He slowly started to talk again and said, "I have powers and so do you but you just haven't learned you had them yet.. But please try and learn because they will be after you soon.." Next thing I know i hear "CHARGE!!" I quickly dropped the paper and then woke up.

Chapter Three: My Powers

Once i woke up I was really really sweaty, For some odd reason I was really out of breath. I was kind of scared because I remembered everything that happened, The war, The cannons, Even when my great great great great great grandfather told me to keep the paper safe but then I dropped it.. It hit me, The other planet most likely has the paper. But then I remembered how my grandfather told me that we have powers.

I was thinking hard of how to possibly figure out if i really had powers, I knew i has super hearing but I just thought it was because of my ears being so big. I realized that I was late for work I was in such a hurry, I grabbed my work clothes and rushed into them.

Next thing I know i was there.. At my work?? I was so confused, I was in the storage is. I was already late so I just started to unpack. But then I got intreaguid and thought what if it wasn't on accident, Maybe it was what my grandfather told me.

I thought really hard of where I wanted to go and then I closed my eyes, I hesitated to open them because if it didn't work id look stupid but either way i opened my eyes and to my surprise i didn't move.

Chapter Three: My Powers

My collige said "Ummm what are you doing bangig, You know you look really stupid rn." He starts to laugh and then proceeded to walk away, I just thought of how stupid i must of looked and got mad, I dropped my supplies and walked home

. I didn't care if my boss got mad because that place is a dump, I hate it. Once i got home i was thinking about my great great great great great great grandfather and what he told me. Its so stupid because if i possibly had powers wouldn't i have found it out already, Why did he tell me that? I was so frustrated so i just slept it off. A couple minutes into my sleep i had a dream again.

I was confused because i just thought it was all some stupid joke my mind is playing tricks on me but to my shock i couldn't move at all, I was just stuck there..? I moved my eyes around because i only could move my mouth and my eyes and a tad bit of my head but bareilly.

I tried my best to look around but then i heard.. "Try not to scramble around so much son." I froze once i heard that voice. I knew that voice from anywhere, To my surprise it was my Dad!

Chapter Three: My Powers

I tried to move my eyes around the blank white room to try and see where the voice that sounded like my dad was coming from until I saw him. I got to finally see my dad in what 4 years? I started to speak "Dad is that really you?" he started to ask how mom was doing but then he could clearly tell something bad happened because of my facial expression.

He then skipped the question and said that's what he wasn't here for and proceeded to talk about my great great great great great great great grandfather and how this world became to pieces.

He was saying how there was many wars just because of a single piece of paper, He said how it had the answer to a perfect life, A key that has to be read by one single person and it casts a spell on there planet to make everyone happy. I had so many questions but I just let him talk, It was all so confusing.

Chapter Three: My Powers

After my dad got done speaking I was just so confused, But I still had One question I began to open my mouth and say "Hey dad, I had a dream about grandpa and he said we supposedly have powers what that all about i tried to used them today but my friends at work just laughed at me so i stormed home."

My dad was happy i said that because he almost forgot to tell me about our powers. He said "Well son its complicated, Only our family has the powers like us but you will soon get them just start to pr.." Next thing i hear is my door, Someone was banging on the door.

Which I thought was so weird i began to open my door and saw it was my boss. He started to yell at me saying i could never just leave like that and then the words came out of his mouth.. "YOUR FIRED BANGIG!" To be completely honest i really didn't care so i just said goodbye and slammed my door but i realized how i never got to finish my conversation with my dad. I remember how he said stuff about my powers then it ended because of my dumb ex boss banging on my door.

Chapter Four: Peanut butter box

I was confused because my dream just got cut off due to my boss. I went outside and started to walk. I soon stumbled upon a old softball field.

I wandered around the field and thought when my dad was talking about my powers but then got cut off, I started to think of how im going to actually see if I had powers or not. I walked around and was thinking about where i want to be, I closed my eyes and thought about my work place but on top of the roof.

I Opened my eyes and i was still at the field, I held my anger and closed my eyes once more, I opened them once again and to my surprise i was there and my old work standing on the roof. I always remember we had just cardboard tiles so the roof wasn't sturdy at all next thing i know i fell through the roof into a box of peanut butter jars.

I heard a noise at the door saying "What the heck was that noise" They opened the door and said "Ummm hello??" I just started to laugh and then they helped me up and i said thank you for like the first time in years.

Chapter Four: Peanut butter box

After he helped me up he asked "How did you even get here?" I stopped for a second because i didn't know what to say so i just said "I climbed up on the roof for the amazing view but then i fell through the tiles." I've never seen him before so i just thought my ex boss found a new replacement, I didn't really care to be honest because i didn't like him and the job was just boring.

Once he helped me up out of the peanut butter box, I cleaned myself off and started to walk out of the building but i heard a voice, It was my stinky boss, He started to compliment me and it started to become weird so I asked him what he was up too and said that multiple people ended up quitting the job and if he doesn't get new higher's he's gonna go out of business.

I was thinking but i also hated the job and i had new responsibilities to worry about like my powers, So i said "No." He was in shock and started to open his fat mouth again next thing u know i hear "What the?!" "Where did he go he was just in front of me?!"

Chapter Four: Peanut butter box

I thought he was just joking but he really wasn't because he was freaking out then poof i just randomly appeared again straight in front of him and he screamed like a little girl. I couldn't help but laugh because i never thought my old boss would scream like that.

His face turned red and just stomped out of the room, Me and the new higer were laughing but then it was time for my to go, Poof, Again i'm back at the softball field.

I started to think about what this means and soon found out that my powers are super hearing, teleportation, And invisibility! I was pumped and tried to teleport back to my house and was successful to my shock i saw a present wrapped in like a cardboard box wrapping paper? I brought it inside and grabbed a box knife to cut it open and once i opened it my mouth sank.

I read the note and it was my dad, The note said "Hey son, I found this while cleaning and i thought you would need it for your long journey to try and steal that paperback Ps, It can shoot out lightning have fun and only use it when you have too -Love dad." I began to take it out and it was a electric guitar but it shot out lighting how cool is that?

Chapter Four: Peanut butter box

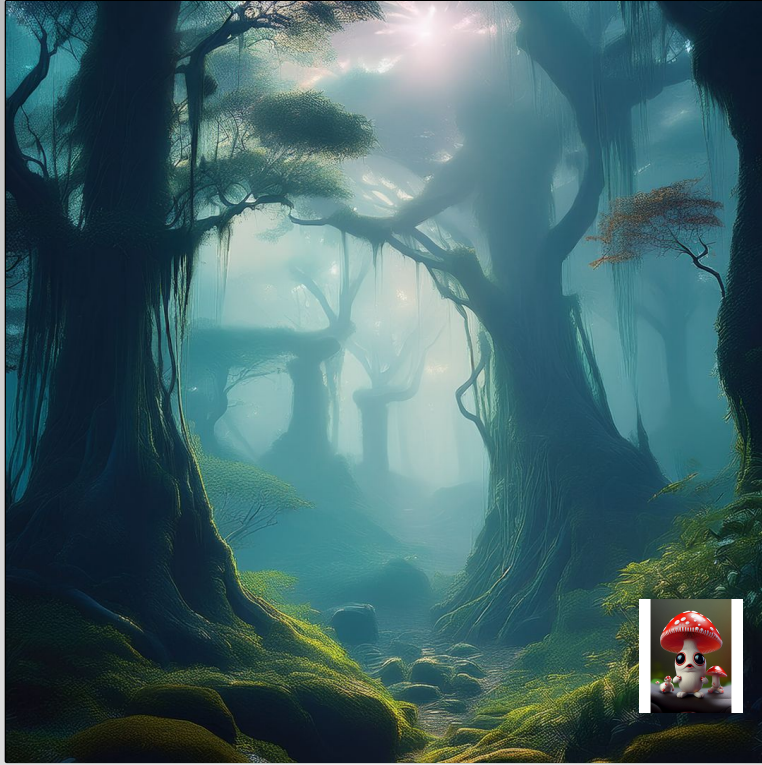

There was something next to where i found the guitar and it was wrapped like a skull, I was depending if i should open it because the note didn't say what was in it, The pagiging on it was like a weird pattern but it didn't really matter, So i opened it and i was a bomb in shape of a skull.

After i opened it a little note dropped out of it and it said "Hope u opened this one too, It's a heavy metal smoke bomb, A skull smoke bomb but it's not just a smoke bomb it cause blast heavy metal too which causes to make your ears ring for a while due to the shock. It's reusable but has a time limit it takes 10 minutes for it to create enough sound to store into it, And the sweet thing is it doesn't affect you either!"

I found a old utility belt and put the bombs around it, there was only 3 but so what? I took my other electric guitar out of its case and put my new one in it, I strapped it onto my back and started to walk out of my house.

Chapter Five: Mushy

Now i didn't know where i was going but i knew the planet name who has our paper. Its name is, Planet Gamalagamali (Ga-Ma-la-ga-mali) The planet who beat my great great great great great great great grandfather in war, I had everything packed so i started walking.

After 30 minutes of walking to somewhere i have no clue was i stumbled upon woods, I've never seen a forest in my life. I started to walk towards it and continued on my way to try and find Gamalagamali. The minute i stepped into the forest a light breeze hit me it was like a magical cold soothing breeze.

It felt really good so i continued to walk into a mysterious forest, Once I was a couple steps into the forest i heard like a chattering noise. I continued to walk but the noise felt like it was surrounding me so I come to a stop and saw a bunch of little eyes looking at me.

I was a little nervous so i took slowly walks and then soon threw my heavy metal smoke bomb to get out of there, I heard a bunch of squealing and then felt something crawling onto my guitar case, I looked but my neck can't move that far and then heard a thud. My ears were so big when i moved my neck it hit the poor creature.

Chapter Five: Mushy

I looked down and to my surprise it was a little mushroom with big cute eyes and a goofy mouth, But i had to carry on so i helped it up and said sorry then started to walk again but i felt something grabbing onto my left leg and there it was again. It looked so derpy with its tongue sticking halfway out, I set it on the ground and continued to walk, but yet again it was on my left leg and it did not wanna let go.

The mushroom had like a super grip and just started to look up at me, I really didn't care so i just started to walk again until i heard "Mister?" I look down to see its derpy looking face again and then next thing you know her crawled up my leg so fast i could think in time, "What the.?" i said as the the little mushroom continued to talk saying "Hey Mr, Sir i see your a little lost do you need some help?"

I sai.. The mushroom cut me off and said "Oh yes sorry my name is Mushy, Mushy the mushroom, And i'm also a girl so stop calling me a it!" I was surprised because i didn't expect it to talk to be fair.

Chapter Five: Mushy

I was a little stunned to speak because i've never seen such a creature and i said "Well hi mushy..? My name is Bangig and im just trying to get to some stupid planet Gamalagamali that took something that belongs to me." Mushy said "The names bangig huh.. I love it your my new best friend bangig, Oh and i love the planet your talking about its so jolly and bright it's so beautiful i can take you step by step if you want I don't mind it just takes a while to get there!" I rolled my eyes and just agreed because i really just do not like energetic girls there soooo annoying.

We started to walk while mushy was sitting on my shoulder and she started to sing "La la la laaaaa de de de de deeee Oooooo ahhhhh malalalaaaaaaa" I came to a stop and said "Can you PLEASE stop singing its SO ANNOYING!!!" After that she stopped and i just began to walk again.

I think she fell asleep because i didn't hear her talking or anything ever since i yelled at her 40 minutes ago. I began to stop and I was tired so i laid down at a tree and fell asleep i woke up to birds chirping and that's when i knew i had to begin walking again. After another long time of walking i finally saw something in the distance, I could tell because it was bright and jolly.

Chapter Six: The Beginning of something bad..

I approached the planet and saw a parade happening, I only thought parade were in books i never saw one in real life? I saw a bunch of people lined up and they were held back up by a pole connected with a line going across it connecting from pole to pole.

I heard very jolly music and there was a band too, There were Trumpets, saxophones, even trombones! In the distance i saw people moving and large floaties, As seconds passed by next thing i know i see the people and floaties closer and closer.

The music made me feel iffy because i normally like hard rock but this music was like jazzy kinda and soothing. I noticed the people around me looked way different than the people in my small town, These people were wearing bright colors and they had beads around their necks.

The streets aren't messy either. There town is the most cleanest place i've ever seen in my life span.

Chapter Six: The Beginning of something bad..

The people conduction and helping the parade kept throwing beads at me and the people around me looked like they were just enjoying their life, It honesty discussed me because why out of everybody they get to be happy with a clean place to live in and everyone has a job?

I had to work myself for all of that and it took me years. I kept filling up with emotion so i squeezed through the people, There were to much girls for my liking, There so annoying and wants everything, Don't forget how the can spend and spend money, Like my money doesn't grow on trees now does it?

Once i got out of the crowd i realized mushy was gone, I panicked because i still needed directions to the paper because i need to know if he happened to know where the paper was because it has somehow something to do with my planet and my family. I tried to call her name then i heard "Help me Bangig!!"

Chapter Six: The Beginning of something bad..

I tried to see if i can see him with my eyes but no luck, I called "Mushy Mushy where are you?"

Someone held up Mushy asking if this id what you're looking for and i sighed in relief. I reached out my hand to Mushy but he said "Uh uh uh.. I don't think so. I was confused so i asked him "What do u want i just need her back." He proceeded to say " if you want your little mushroom friend you must pay a price." I started to say "what do you mean price what do u want i just need her back." he said "Follow me"

I started to follow him into this dark alley.

You could've still heard the music from the band playing in the background, We came to a stop and then he said "Now that we're here u must know i don't want any kind of trouble." He came over to me and gave me Mushy and then continued talking.

"I know your here from another planet and i know why, You want the paper." I nodded my head because i was really confused because i didn't know this dude at all. He said "if you want to know where the papers are you must be very careful, There is a huge beast guarding the secret paper of wonders, first you want to find the ice-cream shop and walk pass it into the woods, But not the same woods you came from i different wood area.. One that is not known to many of the people of our planet at least, Then u must go into the woods and find where the trees make an X on the floor, This is the most important part now, U must chant these words, Mucho ducha.. Show me.. THE SEAL!!" Then poof he disappeared into thin air.

Chapter Six: The Beginning of something bad..

I was so confused.. Mucho ducha show me the seal?? What was all of this mumbo jumbo this guy was talking about. Mushy said "Maybe we should follow the way he told us too, i mean he wasn't mean he gave me back and he also knew what you were coming for." I said "Maybe you're right Mushy, We should go to the wood when u go behind the woods, i mean it doesn't hurt to try at least."

I started to walk then realized i had no clue there was a ice cream shop and where it was but thankfully Mushy knew where it was because she's says she's been here multiple times. Mushy said It's not far from where we are its easily a 20 minute walk which with all of the walking i've been doing that's not bad at all. We started to walk again while mushy was telling where to go.

After 10 minutes mushy said "Yay we're almost there Oooo can we get ice cream pretty pretty pretty pleaseeee with a cherry on top!" I rolled my eyes and said "No mushy there's not enough time to get ice cream were trying to find something that was once precious to my planet." Mushy for once gave me attitude and then she said to turn left, she sounded so angry just because of ice cream.

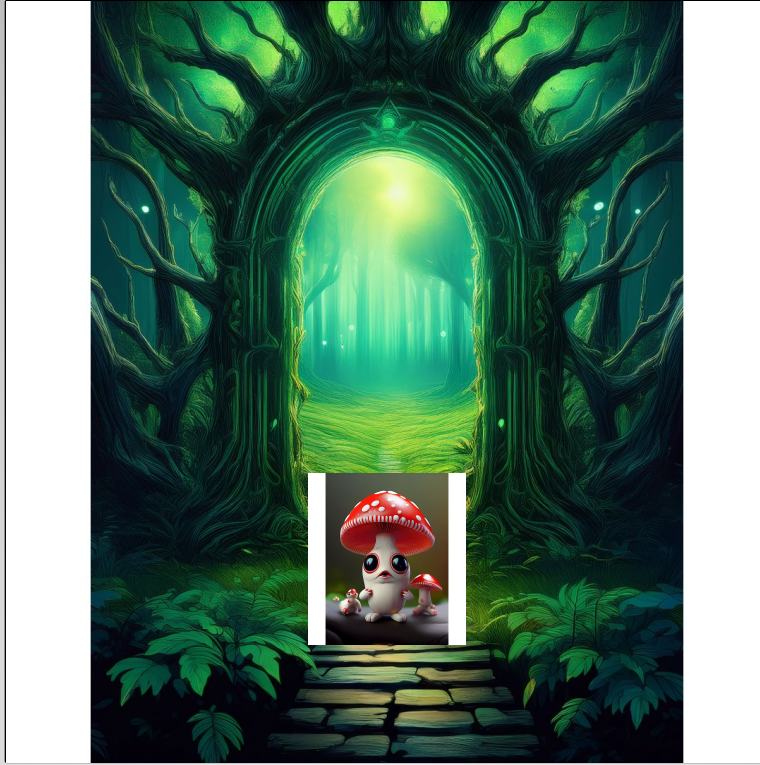

Chapter Six: The Beginning of something bad..

Once i turned left there it was the ice cream shop, I was really dehydrated so i asked mushy what flavor of ice cream was her favorite and her face glowed up.

She immediately said "Cherry! I love cherry it's my favorite ice cream flavor!!" I said alrighty and went into the store and went to the cash register. To my surprise nobody was there at the time, I didn't let that get over me so i hopped the counter and scooped ice cream myself. I got Cherry ice cream for Mushy and i got rocky road. I decided to leave some money on the counter to pay for my ice cream and then walked out, I gave Mushy her ice cream and her eyes immediately went big, i guess she likes ice cream i never knew that. After like 5 minutes of enjoying our ice cream together i snapped back into place and started to walk behind the ice cream shop to search for the woods. Right when i stepped behind the store a portal opened up and i looked into it and saw woods, i was confused because who did this portal show up and why didn't the dude say anything about this?

Chapter Seven: The portal

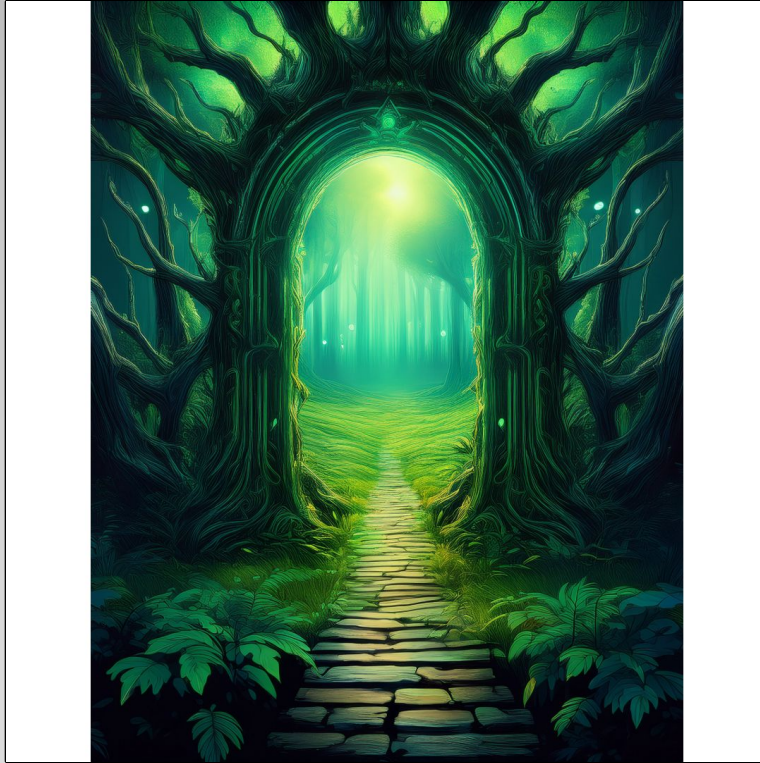

Once the portal showed up mushy said "Maybe we should go into it i mean it looks like there's a woods behind the portal?" I agreed because i was just confused, As we both started to walk step by step closer and closer, I tripped and fell over a rock and fell into a portal.

Next thing i know i'm in the portal, I stand up and quickly brush myself off then i see the portal close in the corner of my eye, I start to run but i was to far and too slow.

I really didn't mind because it's where we were supposed to go anyway so i just looked around but it was all just woods.

I asked Mushy "Well Mushy what are we going to do now were in some random portal and we were told to go walk into the woods till we find X marks the spot." Mushy just said "well might as well just go into the woods and start to try and find the spot he's talking about." I nodded and said "well let's start the journey who knows how long this is gonna take us."

Chapter Seven: The portal

I grabbed the Heavy metal smoke bombs that fell out of my belt when i tripped and fell through the portal, I patted off my pants one more time and fixed the strap on my guitar case and adjusted it.

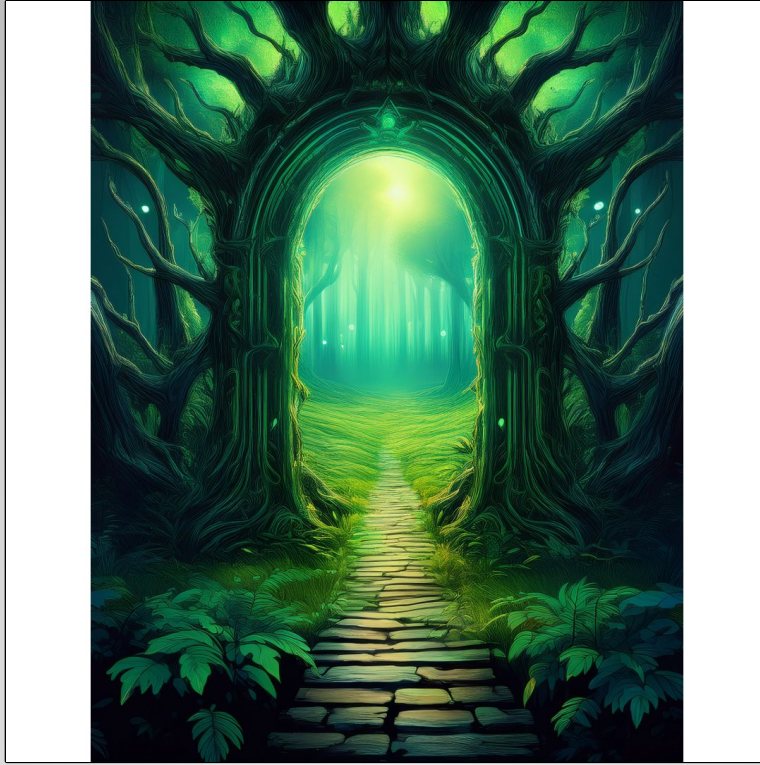

I began to walk into the foggy woods and the breeze felt so sudden and calm, i didn't really dig that because it was so sketchy and i just wasn't a person to be into that kind of stuff.

I asked Mushy "I wonder when i'm going to be able to use my guitar and my smoke bombs that be awesome to use in combat, i mean if we face anything in our way..?" Mushy said "Who knows but it would be really sick come on a lighting shooting guitar like how cool is that man, Plus i wonder if it would actually hurt someone i hope it doesn't that would be bad."

As we were getting closer and closer into the woods we heard a noise, It was a tree branch snapping noise.

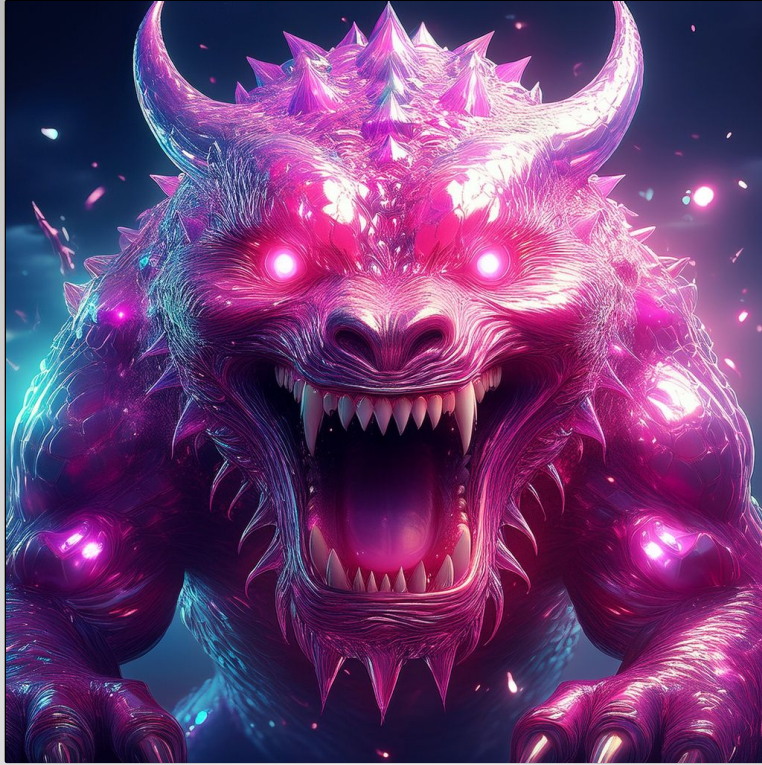

I looked and mushy and whispered saying "Mushy what was that can u see?" Mushy couldn't see anything so i just started to walk slower but i kept my guard up just in case.

Chapter Seven: The portal

When me and Mushy started to walk slower we heard another noise this time it was a ROARRRRRRRR!!!

Chapter Eight: Pink sparkly beast

I came to a stop and slowly looked around then i heard.. "Bangig.. Look behind you." I heard mushys voice tremble in fear then i looked behind my shoulder, The one Mushy wasn't on then i saw this big pink and sparkly beast, With huge sharp and pointy teeth.

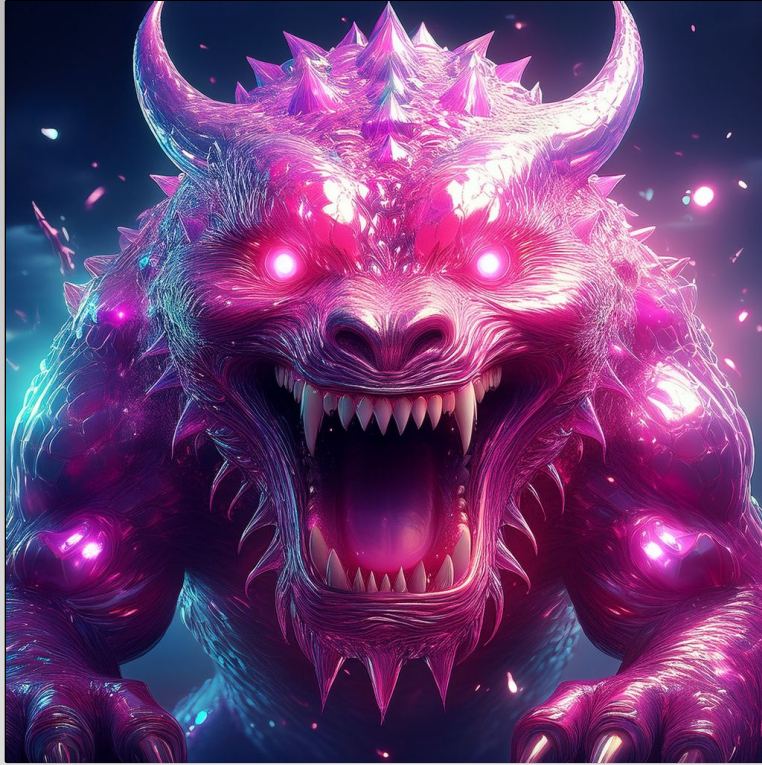

It was slobbering all over the place and then i saw it lick its lips, The beast was hungry. I began to run but it was no use because the beast was like 20x my size so i used the best thing that popped up in my head, I through a heavy metal smoke bomb i didn't know what else to do so i just thought it would give me some time to start running.

Once i through it the beast growled in pain and that's when i began to start running. Mushy was holding on my shoulder with his super grip so he wouldn't fall.

I was running that i saw the big X made out of two wooden trees piled up on eachother.

I saw something shining then i heard and felt the stomps, I guess the smoke bombs don't knock them out for so long but i saw her coming closer and closer so i began to run for the shiny thing logged between the middle of X marks the spot.

Chapter Eight: Pink sparkly beast

I wasn't fast enough and she picked me up by the legs before i could reach the paper.

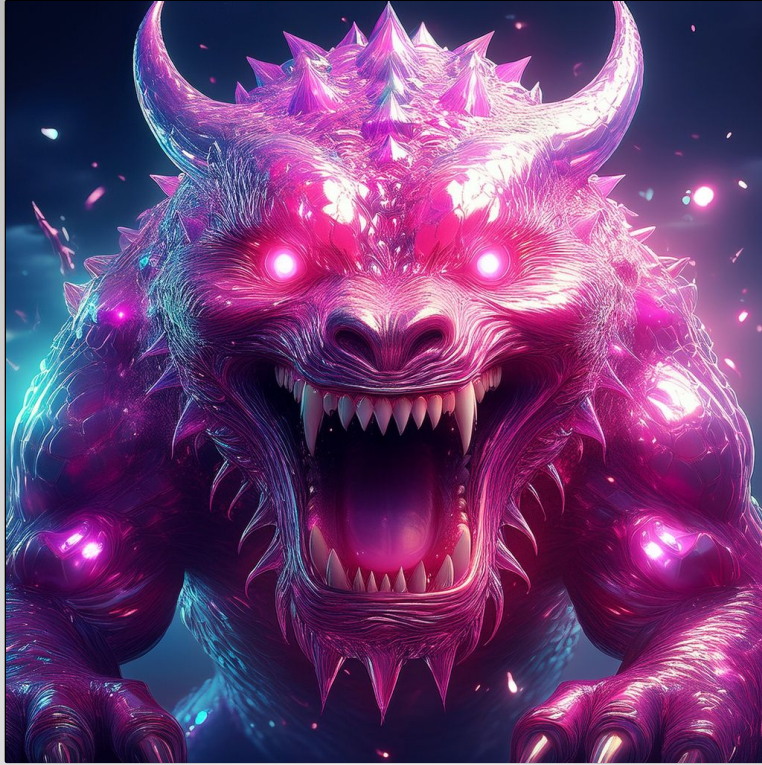

As i got lifted into the air closer and closer to her mouth, I smelt the most nasty diabolical stench i ever smelt it was her dang stanky ahh breath. I tried not to breath but i could still smell it.

It was like smelling salts. I got a boost of energy and managed to struggle out of her hands. I fell to the ground and realized i didn't see Mushy, I looked around and saw her throw a rock at the glass case and WHOOSHH.

The glass broke on contact of the rock I told mushy to grab a hold of the paper while i distract the beast. As i said that a heard a big huff and then ROOOOOARRR!!! Straight into my face, My ears were ringing!

It was so loud i quickly grabbed my guitar out of my case then played one note. BOOMMMM!! Lighting shot out of my qutair my dad gave me and then it landed straight into its eyeball.

Chapter Eight: Pink sparkly beast

As the lighting shot straight into the beasts eyeball it shrieked, It was a loud scream than she thudded to the floor.

She started swaying her tail all over the place and she started to roll around, I could tell she was in pain and then she stopped moving.

I think she passed out? I quickly put my stuff away and then started to sprint too Mushy, She didn't get far at all. She quickly ran up my shoulder and then i started to try and find my way back.

We started to walk and look around just in case and then i saw light. I quickly speed walked over there and saw that it was the exit, Till i heard stomping behind me to my surprise it was an army of tiny little baseballs but with eyes, arms, and legs.

They had bone arrows in their hands, There were about more than 100 of them so we bolted out and then we saw the portal open up.

We made it just in time and the portal closed right behind us where no little baseballs came through the portal.

Chapter Nine: The ending with ice cream

Once we got through the portal i fell to the ground because i was exhausted. Then Mushy said "Well what are we going to do with" I told mushy to and it to me and then POOF.. A big Smoke cloud appeared and then in the shadows of it there i saw my Great great great great great great great grandpa and my dad.

The both Started talking at the same time and said "Congratulations you've made it son, now you must go back to your hometown and see the wonders it has done, It is now in the right hands and never let go, This is importante now son, You must hide this with your best ability, now people don't really know about this paper its in a couple of books but it's just an urban legend, But it isn't now this may not be the last time you see us but i am very proud of you taking what's ours back goodbye son." POOF they were gone, I looked at mushy and then looked back at the paper and then said "Im tired want some more ice Cream?" Mushy said 'Yes!!'
