Jeff, 28 years old, is driving home in his tattered suit with his hands burnt. Jeff's car is entering his driveway. The vehicles engine is sputtering which can he heard throughout the neighborhood. As Jeff enters his house he searches in his freezer for some ice for his burned hands. As he grabs an ice pack his dog Dash jumps all over him, Dash's shed hair covers Jeffs clothes. Dash trods over to the side door. BARK! Barked Dash. Jeff slowly walked over to let him out. Jeff collapses onto the couch where he falls asleep forgetting Dash! BARK! BARK! Jeff slowly awakens the ice pack dripping on him. "What's going on?.. Oh right Dash!" Jeff walks out to see his fence busted open and Dash being taken away by animal control. Jeff sprints over. "Hey you can't take my dog!" He shouts. The animal control worker shrugs and drives away with Dash howling in the back.

Chapter One

Jeff sprints back inside to grab his keys and speeds over to the pound.

Chapter Two

At the pound Jeff searches amongst the cages of the dogs and cats for Dash. As he searches, a worker asks him what he is looking for.

"My dog Dash, he's a golden retriever about this big." He raises his hand to his hip. The worker scans Jeff's appearance, his tattered suit with mud stains, his unkempt messy black hair.

"Sir are you sure you are in financial condition to keep a pet?" Jeff nods. After a bit of searching the worker leads Jeff to Dash's cage.

"Is this the right one, sir?" The worker asks.

"Yea this is him, the one and only," Jeff says while petting Dash through the cage. "Alright that'll be a 300 dollar fine sir."

Chapter Two

"What! I don't got that kind of money right now," Jeff exclaims.

"Well sir, you're gonna have to pay it to get him back," the worker says while leading Jeff to the lobby as Dash howls mixing in with the other animals. As Jeff walks to his car he sees a missing pet poster.

Missing cat reward 50 dollars.

Jeff reads it and takes a picture of it through the chipped camera lens and screen for later.

Chapter Three

"Sir, could you help me cut up this lemon?" The little boy asks. Jeff quickly cuts the the lemon up and is about to leave when the little boy hands out a dollar.

"Here sir, for helping me with the lemon." A thought forms in Jeffs head.

If I help people with stuff they need help with and they pay me, that'll be the fastest way to pay the fine and get Dash back!

Days pass as Jeff does tasks, he gets closer and closer each hour. Until one day he checks his email and sees a email from his old police department.

Dear Jeff, you have probably seen the news about the missing 6 year old girl. We think it was a kidnapping and we would like to ask if you would be willing to come help investigate.

Jeff arrives at the police station,

"Ah, nice to see you again Jeff," the police captain says while shaking Jeff's hand.

"Let's hope we find her and it ends quick," Jeff adds.

Chapter Four

The days pass and Jeff keeps on working and working, getting more and more money to save Dash. One day Jeff gets called into the police station.

"Jeff, it seems we have found the location of the missing girl," states the police captain.

"Where do you think she is," Jeff asks while moving his hair out of his face.

"Our detectives think she is located down in the abandoned warehouses a couple of miles south."

"So how are we gonna proceed with checking and or getting her from the kidnappers" Jeff asks.

"We will surround the place and just hold it down until they come out, or maybe we will have to force ourselves in," the police captain says.

March 21st

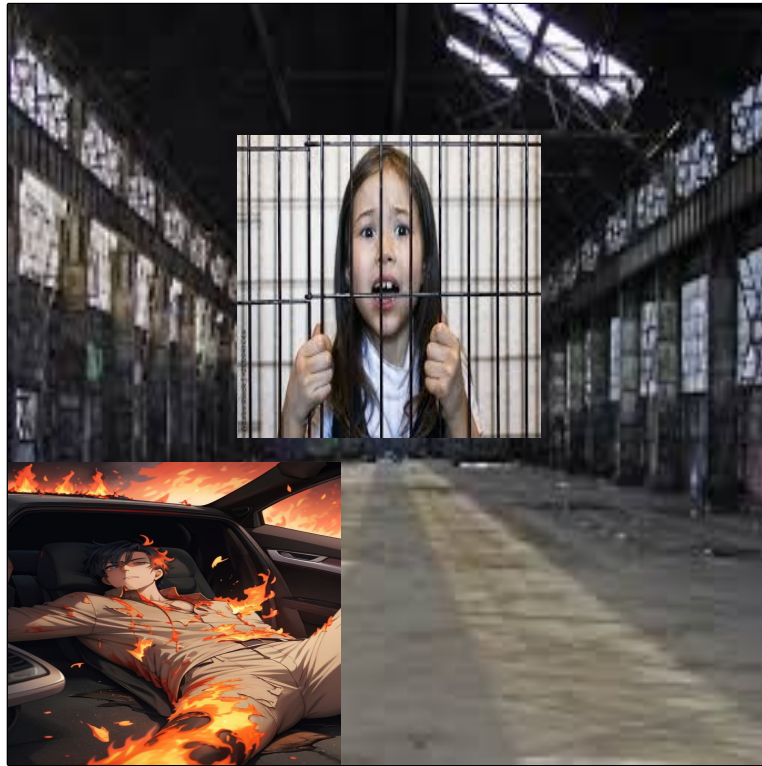

Chapter Four

Jeff prepares to go to the warehouse with his police squad. They ride in a police van for 48 minutes until they arrive to an abandoned looking warehouse in the middle of nowhere.

Jeff, Captain Gary and Officer Davis take the front of warehouse holding it. The three sneak in and peer at the hostage and the holders. As Jeff sees the holders he realizes...

Chapter Five

It was his old friends Cayson and Amir when he was around 6, 7! They had also gained powers from the asteroid that crashed into Jeff's yard during his birthday. Amir was floating above the girl on a piece of metal and Cayson idly sitting with a static aura. Captain Gary takes out his gun and points the gun at the duo Officer Davis follows after.

"Step away from the girl," Captain Gary shouts. Amir turned his gaze to the two and melds a piece of metal to enclose them around a wall immobilizing them. Jeff steps out and aims his gun before firing at Cayson. Amir congers a piece of metal to block the bullet.

"You think your puny bullets are enough to stop us Jeff," Cayson taunts. Before Jeff can speak metal wraps around his body and mouth. As the police break in they all get secured by Amir. As all hope is lost a orange glow admits from Jeff's body. Before they can react the metal bursts out and Jeff escapes his confinement. Cayson molds nearby metal to sharp spears to throw at Jeff but Jeff dodges them and begins to circle in on Cayson. As Jeff is about to strike a static Shock from Amir throws Jeff to the cold dusty metal floor.

"Pathetic," Amirs voice echos. As Jeff's body convulses Cayson shapes a spear to put an end to Jeff. As Jeff laying there on the brink of death his life flashes before his eyes. With a sudden burst of strength he shoots some fire at Amir causing the electricity to stop and rolls out of the spears stab just in time. As Cayson picks up another spear gravity seems to stop him pulling the weight of the metal down as Jeff pulls out his gun with ease. Amir with quick thinking tries to electrocute the floor but Jeff melts the metal he was going to touch and then controls Amir to weld his hands to the metal. With Amir being apprehended Cayson forms a metal ball around himself to try to squish Jeff but Jeff punches the metal ball with his fire ability still on him and it melts through and implodes it crushing Cayson. As Jeff runs over to free his Captain and the other officer, Amir still barely alive tries to conjure another electric attack but Jeff shoots him in the head before he can. Jeff runs over to the girl and slowly removes the duck tape and rope that confined her and then he melted the metal and carried her out of the cage.

Chapter Six

"Thanks to you Jeff we found the criminals and the girl. And since we saved the girl we were rewarded 10,000 dollars which if split equally is 500 dollars per person!" With the day save and the situation secured Jeff has enough money to free Dash from the pound. As the worker lets Dash out he jumps onto Jeff knocking him over while panting.

"WOOF WOOF," barks Dash as they walk home. On the way home Jeff finds the missing siamese cat and brings him to its owner.

"Yep," says the owner.

With the extra 50 dollars Jeff decides to bring Dash to a pet store for a new toy. SQUEAK! At home Dash runs around sniffing the framiluare smells before he walks over to the door signaling he wants to go out. As Jeff lets Dash out he forgot to fix his fence before getting him out of the pound, Dash runs across the street right as the animal control guy takes him again. And the cycle continues.

Chapter Six
