Chapter One : The Objective

My name is Billy. I am a 7-foot 5 zomby. I'm 13.8 billion years old, and I have powers and can fight. I can fly, regrow limbs, run fast, and I have super strength. I live on my home planet, Plodian.

This planet was formed when the universe first came to be. I was one of the first of my kind on the planet. Ever since I was little, there has been a terrible leader ruling this planet. He can't stay for much longer.

I've had a plan for a while, but there are a few necessities if I want to do it. One of the main things that I'm going to need is the three plodite gems. These gems are rare and only found in a single cave in each forest in the world. These gems heal you and give you powers.

Chapter Two: Defend the Planet

My dream is to take down the leader of our planet. He was chosen as a leader by our people when the people of the planet first came. He is destroying our planet and hurting our people. He is a little too powerful for me, so I'm gonna need to get the three plodite gems.

The gems are usually located in the caves out in the deep forests of the planet. There is only one plodite cave in each forest on the planet. The gems can't just be ripped off the wall, even with super strength. You would need a pickaxe. That is the only way you can get them off the cave walls.

These gems will help me defeat the leader of my planet. Defeating him and getting rid of him as the leader would make the planet better. He can't keep destroying our planet.

Chapter Three: New Helper

As I leave to go try to find the gems, I run into a weird creature. I finally see that it's a glow raptor. It comes up to me smelling the food in my bag. I tried to tell it to go away, but I wouldn't. I tried to just walk away, but it just followed me wherever I went. Eventually, I just gave the raptor my food, then I ran off after I gave it the food.

“Finally, that should be the end of that,” I say. I then keep going to try to find these gems. I turn, and I see the raptor start following me.

“Shew” I say to the raptor. It runs off into the distance and I didn't see it for a while after that... Later I saw the same raptor along my route and it started following me again. I tell it to go away again but it just doesn't listen. Eventually I just let it come along with me to the cave.

Chapter Four: Inside the Cave

I finally reach the cave where most people have found these gems. I've heard that if you take one wrong crystal... something bad will happen. I enter the cave and immediately see a blue light coming from around the corner. I look around the corner, hoping to find one of the three crystals and.. It's a whole area filled with blue crystals. I start trying to grab as many crystals as I can, but they're so hard to pull off the wall. Not even my strength can pull them off. Then I hear a noise coming from around the corner. It pulses green. That means it's a... Glow Raptor. It comes out from around the corner, and it's the same one from earlier. It followed me after I gave it food.

I walk closer to it, and then I see it holding a pickaxe in its mouth. It gives me the pickaxe to break off the crystals. I take the pickaxe and take multiple plodite gems from the wall. I put them in my bag and continue to look. Only this time, the Raptor is following right next to me. The Raptor starts smelling something in the air. He points in a direction and starts moving. I decide to follow the Raptor to see what he is smelling. It pointed to around a corner in the cave, so I peered around the corner to take a look. I see a single green plodite gem on the ground. I realise that this raptor can smell the plodite gems. I go pick up the gem and put it in my bag. Eventually, I find the pink gem, and it was finally time for me to go and fight the leader.

Chapter Five : The Fight

Once I leave the cave to get all of the gems, I just have to find him. I set off to the desert to try to find his castle. I travel for 2 days without anything. Then I see a bug castle not more than 2 miles ahead. I use my super speed and dash over quickly. When he saw me getting closer, he had his troops fire arrows at me.

I run up to the castle without getting hit, and I yell at him

“Get out of here and fight Jeff!” Suddenly, he flew out of the top of the castle. Up in the sky, he yells

“What brings you here?”

“I have come to fight you, Jeff” I said.

“For all of the harm you've done to this planet, like ruining cities and pollution” I said.

“Then let's fight” Jeff said.

He shoots down at the ground and fires multiple punches at me. I dodge a few, but he still lands some. I grab my pink crystal and fly up. I then fly straight at him and land a punch on him. He swings at me again, but I use my size power to shrink and dodge it. I punch him, and it sends him flying back. I then run to him fast and swing... I missed. He landed multiple punches and I am badly hurt. I pull out my green plodite gem, and I start to heal and feel better. His face turns pale once he saw that I had the green gem. He knew that he wouldn't be able to win because no one has ever beaten someone when they had a green gem. He kept fighting anyway. We both fly up to the sky and start fighting. Punching back and forth. Eventually he says that he's had enough. He is badly wounded.

Chapter Six : Saved the Planet

“Okay.. Okay, I surrender, I'll leave” Jeff says.

“Good, you've done enough harm already” I say
Jeff leaves and flies away somewhere.

Nobody ever saw him after that. There was no leader anymore. Pollution stopped, the Planet became better. Everyone was happier now that the leader was gone.
