THE POTASSIUM PLANET

A world rich in potassium, Bananina is the only planet in the universe where the sun is a massive, glowing ball of potassium. The planet's surface is covered in a thick layer of potassium, and the air is filled with a dense, golden haze.

Kaijuuna

MAGMANITE BANANA ROCK

A VOLCANIC FUSION OF MAGMA, MINERALS, AND POTASSIUM.

COMPOSITION

- Magma Core (Heat Source)
- Potassium Crystals (Banana Essence)
- Volcanic Rock

PROPERTIES

- EXTREMELY HARD
- HEAT RESISTANT
- RADIATES LOW LEVELS OF POTASSIUM ENERGY
- HIGH POTASSIUM CONTENT
- CAN BE REFINED INTO POTASSIUM FUEL OR BANANA-BLAST MATERIALS

USES

- ADVANCED ENERGY SOURCE
- KAIJU WEAPONIZATION
- BANANA-BLAST AMMUNITION
- INFUSED STRUCTURAL ALLOY
- POTASSIUM SUPPLEMENT (NOT RECOMMENDED FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION)

TYPE: VOLCANIC MINERAL | RARITY: LEGENDARY | POTASSIUM CONTENT: EXTREME

FOUND NEAR ACTIVE VOLCANIC ZONES WHERE BANANAS ONCE FELL.

Coordinates (x, y)	3000,17000	Government Type	Democracanana- multiple bananas that lead their country Amerbanana
Population	8,401,184,011	Intergalactic Disposition	Universal threat
Terrain	Massive forest and mountains and cities with caves that lead to dungeons.	Primary Race(s)	benini
Climate	Warm most of the year except for december where the highest is -900 Kelvin	Primary Resource/ Technology	Magmanitanana- It is a rock that is mostly used to construct houses and other buildings. Origin Story: When i went to other planets i found materials and mixed them which gave me a gauntlet powerful enough to destroy the universe. It enhanced my abilities and gives me the ability to teleport.

Appearance: A gauntlet with a banana symbol with magma crust interior and outside. Its a fiery orange on the outside and a brown on the inside.

• Teleport/ lava manipulation

Teleporting allows the user to teleport at will. It also lets peleiny immune to his own lava

◆ skeleton manipulation

Can summon skeletons that are restless and fight with no end. Once broken they come back unless they are eviscerated.. The gauntlet makes them stronger then when he was able to summon them

★ Black conquering flash

Black flash makes the users punch be able to split planets in half with a punch And there's a 1% that the punch can erase the universe. But you have to choose to do it.

How we Met

When I came back from the portal a mysterious animal came back with me. It had a tiny body and stayed with me after I escaped that place. I took it with me when I was researching nightmare planets and figured out he could release a gas that makes a part of the planet normal, but only 30 feet of a area.

Favorite food: Banana treats

Ability #1: Gas release

If on a nightmare planet can release a gas every 10 minutes that cures apart of the land. If it does it to much it will stop working and use his energy making him tired. And he cant make the entire planet change. But he can weaken the effects by 2 and keep a area safe for 5 hours. Once finished they revert back to the effects there were experiencing. He can only have 3 zones at once or they all fall down.

Ability #2: Copy

Anyone that he fights lets him copy the other fighters or my abilities. And he can store them into himself to use for later. It doesn't work on sword abilities or element abilities. And will allow him to use them with perfect control.

Gas Release

Banono mansion

Banono kitchen

The banono kitchen is where i cook my food and store it. It has a fire oven because electric ovens are expensive. It has a refrigerator that produces icana. And has a long counter with a table to cook and plate food on.

Banono living room

The banono living room is where i watch my tv and play games with friends. It has a pool table and air hockey for when friends are over. And the couch is a portable bed couch to sleep on.

Banono pool

The banono pool is the best part of the banono mansion. It has a 12 foot deep pool, A slide, and diving boards for my friends and I to use. And theirs the hot tub on the outside of it next to the garden. And the water provides healing to all life.

Chapter 1: The beginning of a Benini

I am a student of Sugisawa Municipal High School. I don't do sports or have super good grades, but my friends Pelianas and Pelianeeads help me get through school. After school, I visit my dying grandpa, but one day, on his bed, he tells me

"Use your strength to help others and to die around the people you love, don't end up like me."

Then he tragically died after those words. Then the next day I went to school, joined the Occult Research Club, and found this weird banana finger in a box. It had a red tint, and its aura felt weird, so we let it be. The fitness test took place at our school, and the gym coach gave us instructions.

"We will test your physical strength by throwing a 20-pound ball."

When it was my turn, my gym coach was shocked as I threw the ball 50 meters and bent the soccer net.

"I crushed it, I said

My gym coach wasn't happy that I broke the soccer net, so I went to detention and had to pay a fine. I ran home fast and eventually took the finger with me. Someone named Megumeely said

"Wait!"

I went too fast, and someone walking past said

"I heard he can run 100 meters in 3 seconds."

The guy next to him said, "That's faster than my car." He jokingly said.

The next day, on September 18, 2016, my friends and I were at the school at night with the finger, but then we saw a cursed baneni down the hall, and it was looking for the finger. The same guy, Megumeley, came over and summoned a wolf that attacked the cursed benini. He couldn't beat it and was thrown out of the building. I was also thrown with him. I looked through a window in the building, and I saw my friend was about to be eaten by the cursed benini.

"Dont jump!" Megumeley said.

I didn't care about what he said; my friends were in danger, and someone needed to save them. So if they wouldn't save them, I would. I leaped as high as I could, grabbed my friends, and punched the monster. I ran down the hall as fast as I could and jumped out another window.

Chapter 1: Continuation

"You can't fight him, you don't have any cursed benina energy".

"What's that?!"

As I yelled while running. He explained how it was the source of power for sorcerers to attack cursed Beninis like this. Suddenly, the monster grabbed my foot and was about to eat me and my friend. But then a flashback appears that earlier he explained the finger was owned by the king of cursed Beninis Subananaku and was stored with the same energy.

"To fight this thing, I just need cursed benina energy of my own."

Then I ate the finger without hesitation.

"He ate the finger! It will kill him, there's no doubt he will die from it, but there's a chance, a 1 in 1,000,000 chance-"

Suddenly, Megumeley was cut off. Then my body was taken over by a force, and the cursed Benini arms were destroyed. And my body was taken and destroyed.

"He didn't die, he became the host for the king of cursed beninies ryomana Subananaku!"

Megumeley then started chanting words to exorcise the king of cursed beninies,

"Eight-Handled Sword Divergent Sila Divi-"

He then noticed his teacher appear Satapeely.

"Sorry, I was running late. I had to go buy some souvenirs in Tokyo. What happened to you all, bloody and beat up?"

He asked.

"The boy over there has become the host of Ryomana Subananaku,". "interesting" He exclaimed.

"Wait, what's happening?"

Ryomana Subananaku said.

"I want my body back, idiot".

Chapter 1: Continuation

Then I was able to get control over my body.

"He's able to suppress me!?" Ryomana Subananaku said.

I then was able to see the others waiting, and his teacher said:

"This is really interesting, He's able to keep him down and control his own body."

Satapeely said.

I then was knocked out for hours. Before it happened, I saw that my friends were okay, but I was getting taken. Then I woke up in a weird yellow room with the teacher sitting in front of me in a chair.

"Where am I?"

I asked. He completely ignored me and said

"I want you to learn about what happened to your body".

Satapeely said and started explaining.

"The finger you ate made you the host of the king Ryomana Subananaku, and since you're able to control him, you now have your own cursed benina energy. And since that happened, you need to train that energy to fight curses like that one at the school. But the fragment of his soul that you ate is made by a binding vow where you sacrifice something to make something else better. And he split his soul into 20 banana fingers. We need you to eat all 20 once found or we will execute you. I was allowed to remove your execution date unless you decline. Will you be a banana sorcerer?" Satapeely asked.

I didn't know what to say about this. All this information is at once weird and confusing.

"I made up my mind, I'll join you guys."

"Great, now I'm going to train you to use that energy."

"Where are we going?"

He grabbed me and teleported to a training ground to train my energy. I had to train for 9 months. I was able to invent techniques myself, such as death manipulation and the singing technique.

"You're ready for your first mission."

Where?" I asked

"Shibu-X"

Chapter 2: The training

During that period, I was also with 2 other sorcerers who accompanied me on a mission. Their names were Megupeely and Nobapeely. Our first mission was in my 3rd month of training, where we got sent to an abandoned building because a child had gone missing there. We all went into a group when a portal below us suddenly took us to different parts of the building.

"What the hell!" Nobapeely said.

"Shit," Megupeely said

"Uh oh," I said as we got split up.

I went on the 3rd floor, Megupeely was on the 2nd floor, and nobapeely was on a different part of the 1st floor. I walked around the building when I heard a noise. It was a child crying. I ran around and saw the curse holding the child. I ran and entered what athletes called the flow state that allowed sorcerers to achieve a rare ability called black flash. Black Flash allows the users to punch with 2.5x the force of a normal attack. And thanks to my training i was able to beat it. We all found each other, and our teacher was outside waiting. He said enthusiastically to us

" My class has been invited to the Kyoto Goodwill Event, so pack your bags we're going to Tokyo."

Megupeely and Nobapeely seemed bummed out, but I was excited. I loved the Tokyo sites and locations. Once we got to the location, another school came. The students were named Todnana, Maka, Miwana, Nishimianana, and Mubanena. And their teacher, Utamenaba.

"Everyone in the event gets a special cursed tool souvenir that protects them from curses in the forest except for you, Utamenaba," Satapeely said.

"I don't want one!" Utamenaba yelled.

We were sent to the training grounds, and Satapeely lowered a veil that prevents any damage to the environment. We got to the locations, and we waited for the speakers. Then the speakers played "3,2,1 GO!"

And the fight began.

Chapter 2: The training continuation

At the other school, 5 hours ago.

The higher-ups are the conservative, corrupt governing body of the school.

"Pelieniy is a vessel for the strongest curse. He must be killed at all costs. So we set up the event to cover up the assassination and since he isn't a real person, you can't be convicted."

The higher-ups said to the second-year students. The students all agreed and went out to kill Pelieniy banini.

Back at the Kyoto goodwill event.

As the game was on, I was immediately taken, and all the students from the other group started attacking. I ran away from the group, but 1 student was still chasing me. Todnana, He has the ability that when he claps, he can switch places with anything that has energy. He cornered me, and as soon as I was about to get killed, the veil suddenly broke. Then a cursed banana dropped down. It was a special grade, cursed banana. It was a plant-looking one, too. Todnana and I backed away as it attacked us. It raised its own veil to keep other sorcerers in the building. Even though we were different groups, we had to work together to beat the thing. When we teamed up, we swapped positions to keep up with the cursed banana. We were about to beat it until the veil broke again and we saw satapeely floating up. And we were him chant the words

"Phase, Twilight, Eyes of Wisdom. Nine Ropes, Polarized Light, Crow and Declaration, Between Front and Back Hollow black.

And he shot what looked like a black hole at the curse, evaporating it. He checked on us to make sure we are safe and brought all the students together. After the situation was solved, the event was canceled, and we headed home. During the training also got a new teacher to help me with the energy that I had. His name was Nanaminana. He was a first-grade sorcerer and held the record for black flashes, doing 4 in a row. Me and I was training when we got sent to a school during the day on a Monday about a curse being there. When we got there, we noticed a veil had already dropped, and we walked in.

Chapter 2: The training continuation

“What is that?”

“A special grade curse I've been chasing for a while now”. Nanaminana said.

We started to fight, and it could morph its body and anyone that it touches because it hits the soul. When he was able to touch me, something happened. Instead of touching my soul, he accidentally hit the king of curses. He was sent into a trance, and I could hear them talking.

”You actually dare to touch my soul? There won't be a second time,”

And he split the special grades' neck wide open. We tried to finish the curse off, but he fled to the sewers by morphing into something small.

” Damn.”

We went back to our spot to report, and they weren't very happy. That was the end of our mission, and we made our next mission to Shibu-X.

Chapter 3: The Shibu-X incident

It was Halloween night, October 31, 2018. When the Shibu-X incident happened. We were on the way while Satapeely was at the scene, then a curtain was raised that kept all civilians from escaping and us from entering. I tried to punch the curtain, but no damage.

“Is this guy actually a 3rd-grade sorcerer? He could even give Nanaminana a run for his money in physical strength. Just who is this guy?”

Another first-grade sorcerer was thinking. We split up, and I found a way in through the subway where I met a curse.

“I was expecting a sorcerer because of how clever I am,”

The curse said.

"To be clever is not to show off your cleverness; that is what really is clever."

We traded fists, but I eventually won with no effort. I went down, and that's when I saw a man with weird face markings.

"You killed my brother!"

As he started to attack and sent a cannon of blood firing at me. It hit me, and I was very wounded. Our fight drew into the bathroom, where I had a clever idea. I hit the sprinklers so the water would dilute the blood, making it ineffective,

"Smart,"

The curse said.

We started to trade fists, but he was faster and stronger. I was then beaten by the curse.

"Three hits, he only hit me 3 times, yet this much damage was dealt to me."

as he bled. I was eventually dead by the time he left."

Meanwhile with satapeely

When I arrived at the scene, there were 2 disaster curses (disaster curses are curses that relate to elements of earth like fire and water). I let them hit me, but they couldn't because I had the barrier technique active. I teleported away and let them hit each other. I went for the earth-related curse and let my barrier technique work itself. The closer I got to him, the more force went against his body until he exploded.

Chapter 3: The Shibu-X incident

Continuation

"One left."

I chased the other curse to the other part of the subway, and I saw the patchfaced curse that Nanaminana talked about. He was turning civilians into transfigured humans left and right. I had no idea what to do about this until it clicked.

"No way," the curses said,

"Domain expansion, Infinite void."

In the 0.2 seconds, his domain was active, he killed the 1000 transfigured humans, and he was worn out. Then another curse appeared. He had the exact face my dead friend had.

"What the hell!"

I screamed.

"I took your friend's body to be revived in this era."

Then he pulled a box out that trapped me. It was the prison realm; anyone hit with this gets enclosed in the box for centuries unless broken. I was then sealed into the box with no way to return. And satapeely was sealed in Shibu-X.

Back with Yuji's body.

One of the disaster curses walked to Pelienny's body with more cursed fingers.

"Wake up, Subanana."

He then fed 15 of the cursed fingers and waited.

"I will give you 1 second to put your hand away. Move."

The king of cursed bananas was awoken in Shibu-X, marking the Shibu-X incident.

"His presence is of a different kind of satapeely's overwhelming evil, I fear any move I make now will end in sudden death."

As Subanana walked to the curse, he said,

Chapter 3: The Shibu-X incident

Continuation

"Since you have me give up more fractions of my power, I will allow you to have 1 wish."

"I want you to join our group of curses."

"I will make you a deal, we will fight, and you can hit me once i will join your little group of people."

"Deal."

The disaster curse could summon and manipulate lava, but he was immune to it as well. He threw everything he had, but was slammed into a building.

"Come on now, you must not give up, keep trying."

The curse jaw was broken while the king wasn't hit once. The disaster curse made a giant magma meteorite and set it on fire. While other sorcerers were trying to run away, the king suddenly appeared.

"I declare that anyone within a 100m radius is not to move. Not doing so will result in your death. Don't move yet, not yet,.. Now,"

The meteorite landed, and the king still wasn't hit.

"This entire fight, and you haven't hit me once. Why not try using your domain?"

"I know I can't win in a domain clash with you."

Spoken like a true loser, but you've peaked my interest, so I'll fight you with your own specialty."

The king opened his hands, and what appeared from the mist was a fire arrow capable of leveling the city.

"Are those flames?"

They both aimed their fire and eventually shot. The damage from the blast leveled the city and killed 5000 civilians instantly. The king had won the battle.

Meanwhile, with megupeely.

I was badly injured, and I felt subanana presence.

Chapter 3: The Shibu-X incident

Continuation

"What the hell is happening in Shibu-X?"

I kept walking when I suddenly got slashed; it was a random curse. I was too weak to fight, so I ran, but it followed. I had no choice but to summon it. With this treasure,

"I summon... Eight-Handled Sword Divergent Sila Divine General mahoanana."

I was knocked out and dying while the general went to fight. Then subanana appeared. He started to fight the general, but something weird happened. Every time he got hit with an attack, it adapted. And would take less damage from each hit from the same attack. The Shinigami's ability was adaptation, the more he got hit, the more he adapted.

"You can see my cursed technique, Mahoanana."

I had to end the shinigami quickly.

"Domain expansion, Malevolent banana."

When he opened his domain, the shinigami adapted to that, so he had to hit it with 2 forces at once, so you can't adapt.

"Open,"

He shot the fire arrow, leaving the city in ruins. 200,000 civilians dead. And over 50 million in property damage.

"It's time to change back now."

As I got my body back, I saw everything. The death, the destruction, and all the people injured. I cried, scraping the road with all I had, but it was useless. I went back to the train station to find Curses, and that's when I saw Nanaminana. He was half-burnt from the curse and was on the brink of death. That's when the patch faced cursed touched him. And he said his last words to me,

"I'll leave the rest to you,"

And then he blew up. I couldn't control my anger, so I went to fight him and broke the concrete barrier in the subway. I kept punching and punching, and he survived. But he blew up; it was a clone of him. I went to find others and then saw Nobapeely was getting charged by the curse.

Chapter 3: The Shibu-X incident

"Run!"

I screamed, but it was too late. She was hit in the face and was about to be killed. Her last words were

"Tell everyone, life wasn't so bad."

And she also blew up. I fell crying because that was my original friend and my starting partner. I bawled up and was kicked by the curse. The curse awakened and hit me with a black flash. I was sitting on the brink of death, and when he was about to finish me I suddenly swapped positions with something. It was Todnana; he had come to help me.

"Listen, brother, your friends might have died, but we can still fight. We are sorcerers, and we can beat him together."

I stood up, ready to fight. My friend and I versus the curse

Chapter 4: The vengeance of a curse

I went first, landing a punch, and we swapped, landing another and another. He made the floor collapse, and we went down. He used hammers made of cursed benenies and went for a strike. It hit me, but I wasn't done yet. We continued, and we escaped the subway into the crater from the king's fight. The curse landed a second blackflash on me and awakened, fully transforming into an armoured awakened curse. He took out todo, and his arms were gone, making his switching technique unavailable. He went for me next, but he missed, and I let all my anger into this one punch, every ounce of strength left in me, and he was gone. He turned into dust and disappeared. But something happened afterward: an earthquake was happening, and that's when I saw a kaijuanan approaching. His soul took another form, first as the kaijuana, then as a woman. It was a special grade sorcerer, Yuana. She can make any part of her dense.

"Let's finish this curse once and for all."

"Right".

We went to the kaijuana, and I got swung away while she hit it with a max density punch. But it did not affect it, and as we kept fighting, it got stronger, too strong, but that's when the Yuana sacrificed herself by making her body as dense as a black hole, killing the curse and herself with it. I stood there, shocked and still crying. All my friends were dead. I was the reason for millions of deaths. And we are still alive. That's when, out of the rubble, I saw Todhana still breathing, alive and well.

"You're still alive."

"Yes, I am, brother."

But we're not even blood-related. As we kept talking, we walked, and we saw that Megupeely was still alive too.

"You're alive."

"Of course I am, idiot."

We kept going along, taking out more of the leftover curses, and once we finished, we got back, and we needed to chill at the house for a little while. We discussed how to unseal satapeely from his box,

Chapter 4: The vengeance of a curse continuation and we found a solution. One sorcerer could summon a bright beam from the heavens, but it was on top of the tallest mountain on our planet. We had to go and find the sorcerer now. We got to the mountain and started hiking up. As we went, we encountered many enemies, but we heard the earth shake again. It was another kaijuana. We tried to fight, but we couldn't. Me, Megupeely, Nobapeely couldn't beat it. We ran away from it and tried to find a weak point. But it was too big to find anything to hit it with. And Nobapeely was already hurt badly. I went back out, climbed around its back, and got its eye. Then I was tossed down and thrown through massive trees. Megupeely opened his domain on the curse. His domain summons and thick water below, and lets him traverse it freely, and can upgrade his summons. He summoned a giant banake and Max Eleana. But it did little to no damage. He was cast away, and then it killed Nobapeely. I had no words. I've already seen everyone I loved die or be taken, and I didn't know what to say. Then, as I jumped at it, we saw a giant yellow star above the kaijuana, and a giant beam appeared and struck it, killing it in the process. I was shocked because a glowing yellow beam came out of nowhere. I was then knocked out by shock, and when I woke up, I was at the top of the mountain in a bed. And next to me was Megupeely. He was healed and was still alive and well. When we got up and opened the door, we saw the sorcerer that everyone talked about. She had blonde hair, a lined shirt, and white wings on her back.

“Greetings, I saw that you 3 were in danger, so I came down and helped. Now, how may I be of assistance to you?” She asked.

"We wanted help in freeing a friend from his box," I asked.

“I will help you, but first you must go through 5 challenges.”

“What challenges?” I asked.

She took us outside, and we saw many curses. We saw the mountain terrain, and the entire forest was out there. I notice a cave down below, but I didn't pay much mind to it for now. We went down, and the curses didn't attack us as if they were tamed. She then kicked us down below, and when we got to the bottom, she said

"This is your challenge".

Chapter 5: The challenge continuation

“You first must fight the 100 curses, then make your way to the river and survive 5 days in the wild, and then bring me a cursed tool from the blacksmith, and the final thing is you must beat one kaijuana by yourself.”

This challenge was way too hard, but in order to save our teacher, we had to do it.

"Fine, we accept your challenge."

"Good, now start."

We went off, and when we started fighting, I felt that I was stronger than before. I tried my technique and summoned 3 skeletons to aid me in fighting. Megupeely was doing fine on his own as he was good at handling groups of cursed beninies because when more are in 1 area, they are weaker. We finished at night, and we set off to the forest. We had to survive 5 days. We started by breaking trees down and making a house. When we thought we had finished, the entire thing came tumbling down. We retried but got a banana tutorial, and we finished. We then melted sand to make windows. But I then burned my hand. When we got finished, we were able to catch a banish fish. We started a fire outside and cooked it, but I didn't like fish, so Megupeely took it instead. We went to sleep and used three leaves as a pillow and tree bark as blankets. That was the coldest night I have ever spent in my life. On day 2, I woke up, but I didn't see Megupeely anywhere. I went outside and saw him next to the river.

“What are you doing out here?”

I asked.

He picked up the cloth and showed me that it was a 2-pillow wrapping cloth.”I found this floating down the river and thought we could use it.

“Perfect,”

We hung it up on a tree and let it dry while we caught more food. I found a bananananananana wolf in the forest and killed it. I brought it back to the fire and tried to cook it, but it was still raw. I made the flames hotter and it started to cook. It took 3 hours to cook it, and once I tried it, it was the best thing that I had ever had. It was crispy and tender and had a smooth taste throughout. It was getting dark out, but we heard rumbling in the forest. We went to check it out, and we found a cave.

Chapter 5: The challenge continuation

"'You go first' Megupeely said.

"Fine,"

I went in first, but then I immediately fell down a tunnel, and once I reached the bottom, I saw a giant dragon chained. It had red, flowy scales and massive wings. I climbed back up fast and would save that for later.

"What happened down there?" Megupeely asked.

"Nothing," I said.

We went back to our little house and slept the night away. Day 3, I went back to chopping trees while Megupeely went to find food. I decided to check the dragon out again, so I left and slid into the cave again. The dragon woke up and saw me. It shot a beam of fire, but I dodged at the last second.

"I'm not trying to hurt you. I want to free you."

I told it. It rested down because it hasn't been able to move for probably a while. I broke the chains on it, and as soon as I did, it flew up and broke the mountain. I was still back and had to escape before the mountain fell onto myself. I barely made it out, but I still had a bunch of cuts on me. And then Megupeely was waiting outside it.

"What was that peleiny". He asked.

"There was a giant dragon in the cave, and I let it go free".

"A dragon?"

Yes, a red one too."

We went back to the camp, and we ate more of the meat that I really enjoyed while he ate the nasty fish. Day 4. We didn't really do anything on day 4. We fixed the house up, and we had enough food for the last day, so we went back to the cave. As we came back, it was gone. The rubble was all gone, and the land just had trees growing. Megupeely and I were confused because it was just there. Then we heard a loud sound behind us. It was a kaijuana. We had to fight it this time; we had no way to help.

Chapter 5: The challenge continuatio

I went in first and summoned my skeletons, but they were instantly thrown away. I couldn't spawn them for another 2 hours, but until then, I had to rely on everything else. Megupeely summoned a shinigami of an elephant, but it had little effect. It just annoyed it. I punched it 3 times and had a black flash at the end, but it only hurt it a little. It was already nighttime, but we still had to fight. That's when I heard Megupeely say a chant I've never heard before

"With this treasure, I summon... Eight-Handled Sword Divergent Sila Divine General Mahoanana."

Then a giant Benini Shinigami was summoned. It was tall and looked ready to fight. But something was different. He was able to tame it from attacking himself. We went to fight, and Mahoanana was strong. At the ends of each hand, he had a blade that did a lot of physical damage and also directly hit the soul. We were able to get the kaijuana down and started more punches on it, but then it shot a giant beam of potassium. We were launched back, and we didn't know what to do. The only one left standing was Mahoanana. But then the shinigami did its own technique. It instantly cut the kaijuana in half, but then the shinigami disappeared. We fell asleep right then and there, and that ended day 4. Day 5, we went to the town's blacksmith, and when we got there, we saw him.

"What can I get for you two young men?"

"We need to make a cursed tool."

Megupeely and I said.

"You need to bring your own materials for me to make stuff."

"I have something."

I pulled the scale that I had from the dragon that was in the cave earlier.

"Perfect"

He got to work, and as we sat down, I asked Megupeely about what Mahoanana was.

"It's a shinigami that is close to untamable, as the past users had died trying to summon him. It can adapt to any attack that doesn't instantly kill him. And if in the right conditions, it can do the world cutting slash, which is an invisible slash that cuts through space instead of direct contact."

"That's cool."

I said. The blacksmith came and handed me my weapon. It was a dark red and had a cool handle with a deep black aura. It looked amazing, and as I held it, I felt its power from within it. We walked back to the mountain top and saw the woman with the box of our teacher.

"We've done all the stuff you asked, now bring us back our teacher."

I handed her the sword, and she asked us to back away. A giant yellow light struck the box, and when the beam was over, we saw our teacher satapeely.

Chapter 6: The Nightmare

"You're back, sensei."

I jumped at him and hugged him. He was the only person to give me a chance at this school, and I was very happy to see him. Megupeely tried not to look like he cared, but I brought him into our hug. We thanked the lady and went back. When we got back home, we rested, and the next morning we went on our casual missions. I was still sad that Nobapeely died, and Megupeely could tell. We got sent to our next mission, and outside we saw that our planet invented planetary travel. I didn't think much of it and continued on our mission. But I went into an abandoned hospital for a mission, and I was taken to a fire where there were multiple others. There was a pickle and a normal-looking guy. They asked me where I'm from, and we talked. Then a mysterious figure came to the fire and told us about a planet taking infection called a nightmare. He told us that it is spreading and taking the dreams of other planets and might get ours. We were suddenly sent back, and I decided to visit neighboring planets. I asked for a rocket, but obviously, they don't give a random guy a teleporter or a rocket. But I had this pet that came with me from the fire. I named him Billy. He teleported me to another planet and took me back. I learned that he can take me to other planets with him. So I went out into this dreamvale-looking universe. I went to the first planet called The Dark Aether. It was very purple and had a lot of crystals. I saw that the nightmare was approaching them, so I came to warn them, but they didn't listen. Soon after, their planet was taken over. I went to a nightmare-infested planet and met a fellow. He looked tired and scared. Then my billy went to him and released a gas on him. He suddenly had this green smoke around him, and then he looked energized and ready for anything. I was shocked and figured out that this pet was able to disinfect people. I went around to planets, saving some people from nightmare planets, and took them to my home. I lived in a massive home and had enough room for everyone. When I tried to warn other planets of what's near, they all evacuated. I went back to my home planet, but something was off. The shadows of people were missing their movement by a little bit. That's when I figured out that my planet was taken by the nightmare.-

Chapter 6: The Nightmare

I saw my shadow running away, and a lot of the other people's shadows too. I chased mine, but couldn't catch it because it was my own shadow. All the shadows grouped up and then exploded. That's when I saw that everyone's shadows were gone. People were losing hope, and so was I. I went to a nightmare planet that had a similar problem, but they didn't know how to fix it. I then realized there was no way out of this. Our shadows of our people were gone.
