Backstory: I was 15 years old when my planet, Rock Steady was getting invaded by enemies. Half of us made it to our second home, Urban. After 2 years, my family and I found a new a new home. I later was sent on a mission back to Rock Steady to explore.

Rock Steady

Shears

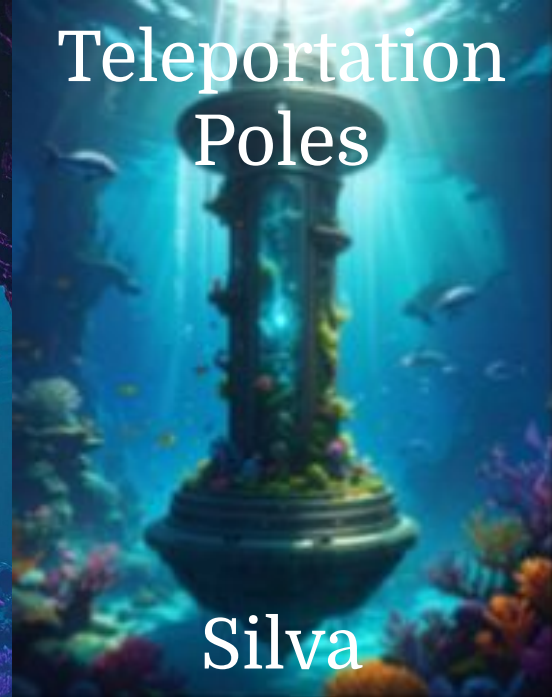

Shovelsored

Coordinates (x, y)	8,000, 9,000	Government Type	Authoritarian Govt
Population	100k	Intergalactic Disposition	Enemies with the other planet, "Loki"
Terrain	Lots of water surrounded with a ton of colorful plants, the sun goes down in 10 hours while the moon is up for 11 hours	Primary Race(s)	Zombie+Troll+Fish like human
Climate	Warm in the 60s to 50s night and day	Primary Resource/ Technology	Every person in Rock Steady over 20 years old, carries a sharp and clean sword called, "Sovelsored." It can shock and light up in the dark. You can choose how big or small you want your sword to be.
Size	0.5	Description	When you wake up, the first thing you'll see are those bright plants and a big water stream. It's hot outside, hot enough where the mythical purple dragon can fly out and take the ones who don't belong. Rock Steady is Barraicaded by a heavy wood barrier that is over 8 feet. Only can be taken down by fire or fly over the barrier to enter.
Planetary Wildlife	A mythical common creature named, "Shears" that attacks other rivals who don't belong. He lays in an underground cave called, "Evander." A cave that is covered in colorful crystals that is big enough to fit Shears, with his purple skin and blue spikes along his back.

Glamour

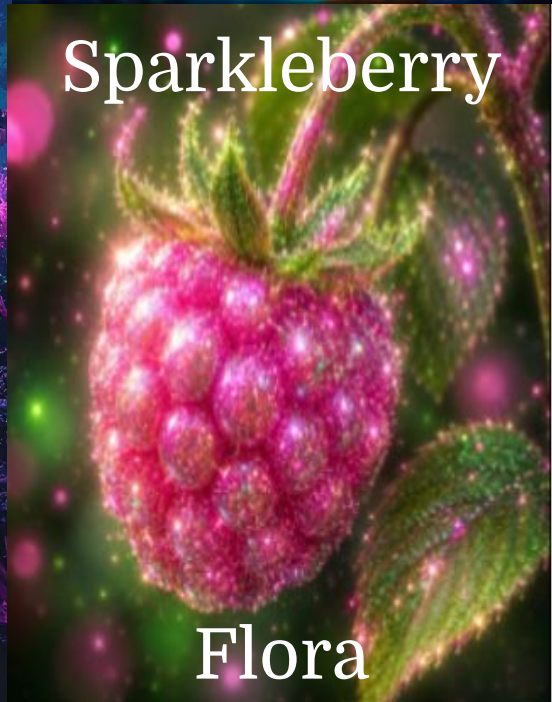

Teleportation Poles

Silva

Sparkleberry

Flora

Origin Story: The "Glamour" was found in the caves with water, "Evander" in Rock Steady. This was built by a man named, "Coral Reads." The Glimmer is used for teleportation, curing, and to defend yourselves from rivals. After 30 years while exploring, it was found.

Appearance: A long cylinder tube, that turns pink inside when you are healing. Teleports you to a different tube somewhere else inside of Rock Steady. Turns into a glitter bomb after finding a fake seashell to twist.

● Shimmer Beam

You enter inside the cylinder tube to teleport to a different city inside Rock Steady. For it to activate, you will just have to click on buttons inside that are clear and only fishes can see. After that, you will be teleported to a different Shimmer Beam.

◆ Sparkle Cure

You go inside this cylinder tube to heal yourself. When you enter inside, the door will automatically close. The water inside will start turning pink and will shine like sparkles. When that happens, it means you're recovering. For it to work, you need to say a secret spell to activate it, there would pictures on the cave wall to know.

★ Glitter Bomb

The Glitter Bomb is activated by a fake secret seashell that can twist. There will be different seashells each time when it's used from before. After, it'll turn into a circle Glitter Bomb you can throw to attack your enemies. The Glitter Bomb will turn back into its main shape after 2-3 hours.

Tulip

Age: 7

Species: Troll/Elf

Gender: Girl

Home Planet: Rock Steady

How we Met

As I was in the cave Evander, I didn't tell anyone about finding Tulip. Tulip was my secret, but I was going to tell my team about her, eventually. Tulip was young but smart, she was now on my side ready for whatever.

Healing Flower

Tulip's first ability is healing powers. She can heal anyone when she sparks up a pink, glitter, bright tulip flower. All you have to do is smell the flower and you'll be healed in no time.

X-ray Vision

Tulip's second ability is X-ray vision. Seeing through walls and knowing what to do. This can let us know our rivals next move of what they do. It also helps us get advantage of what to do first and getting ready for what's next.

Chapter 1 : The Steady Life

From my levitating bed, my windows always open at the exact time, 8pm. The Moon is our Sun. As the Moon is slowly rising, I woke up to my window opened with different colorful unique plants and the full moon lighting up my room. I got up and walked to the bathroom to comb my dark messy raven hair. I brushed my teeth, got into my itchy school uniform, and went to eat my breakfast in the kitchen.

"Come eat breakfast Avellana!" my mom yelled. When I walked out of my bedroom, I already smelt the freshly squeezed orange juice from the island, the sweet flowing syrup on my fluffy pancakes, and the untouched berries on top. I ate my nicely clean breakfast and packed my bags for school. I was walking to school when I saw my friends, Anna and Riley.

"Hey guys!" I yelled out to them.

"Good Morning girls," said Anna.

"Are you guys excited for school today?" question Riley.

"I'm not excited at all ugh.." I released a sigh. Riley and Anna laughed while we were walking by the bright blue waters from the stream together, it was a path to school. My friends and I went to our different classes, Anna had potions, Riley had control powers, and I had sword control. I walked into my classroom, it was always loud as usual, sitting at my desk in the corner front right near the windows. I looked outside from the windows seeking the bright blue water stream. It was always bright and colorful. After an hour, I went to my second class, high ability.

Mrs. Smockens was 30 minutes in teaching until we heard an introducer alarm. All the schools and homes inside were red from the alarm. Everyone was panicking, some getting ready for a conflict, and people hiding. Since this attack was unexpected, all of our planet guardians were fighting our rivals not being ready to fight. They soon fell down from all of the attacks. Everyone was panicking and running desperately for their lives.

I grabbed my school bag and ran straight home since it was on the opposite side from the conflict.

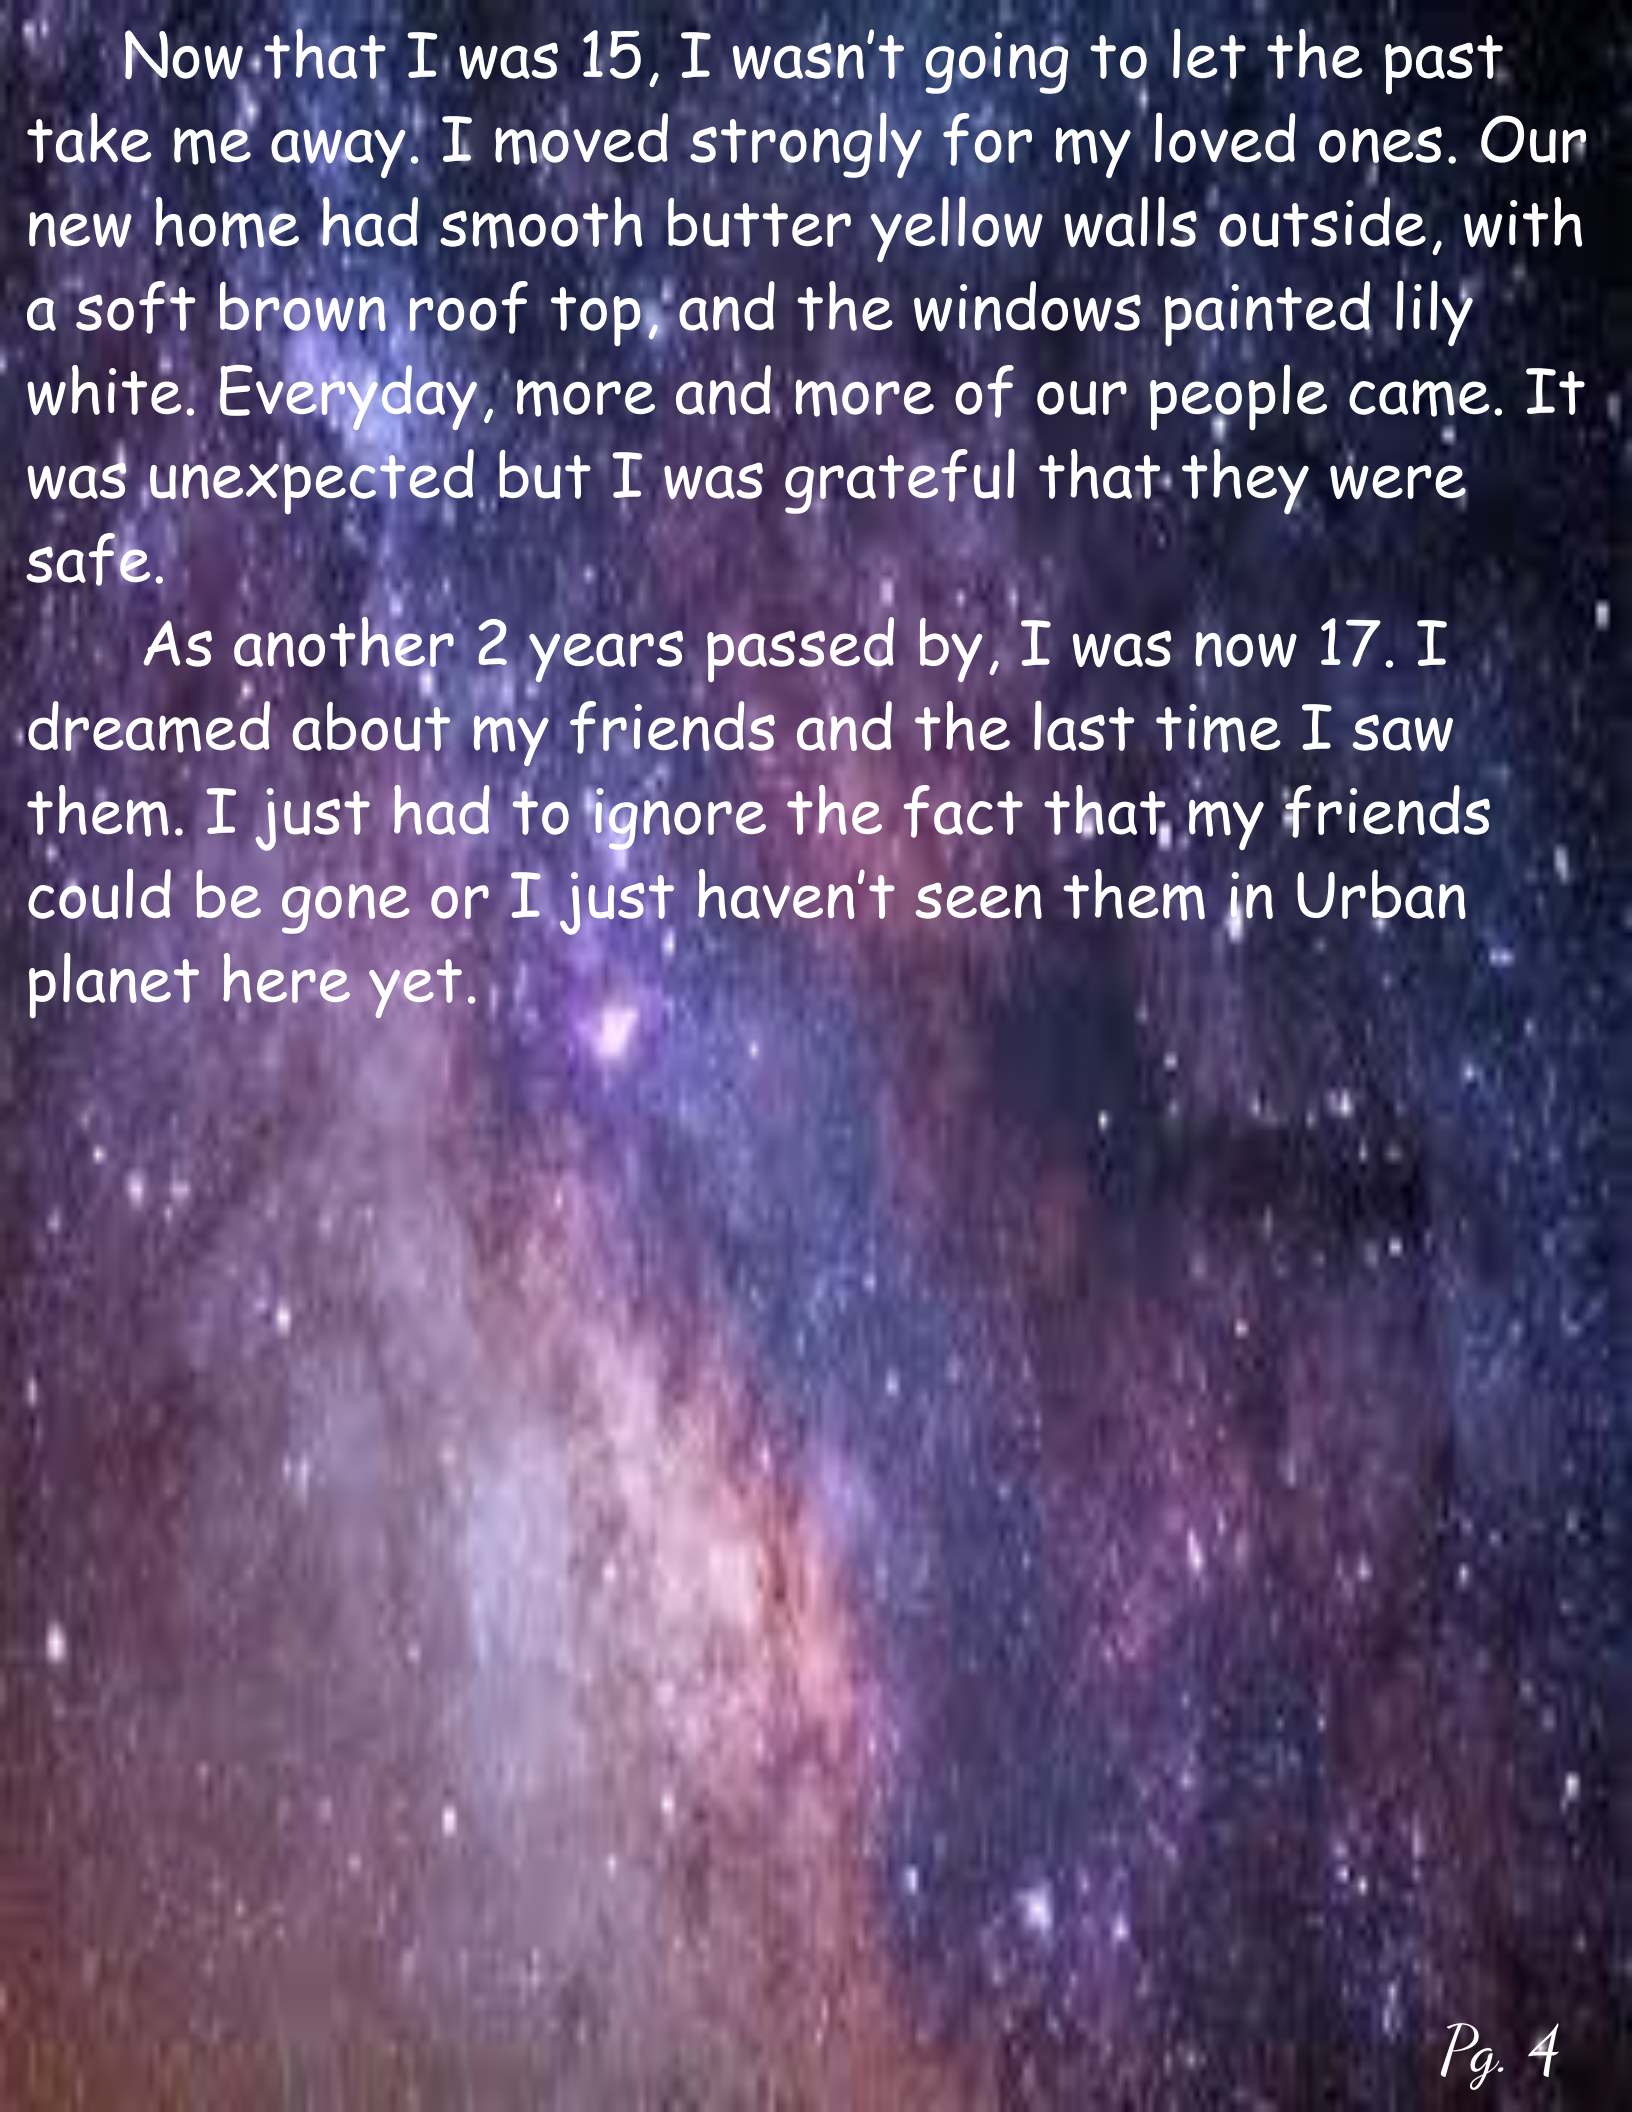

"Mom! Dad!" I desperately cried out.

"Oh honey, hurry and pack your bags. We're going to evacuate this place!" my mom yelled out loud. I saw my parents trying to pack everything so that we could flee the scene quietly. I cried as my black tears came running down my face, stressing from the packing to leave, sweating from all the running, and scared from the fading screams.

"Everyone get into the Titan Mobile!" my dad yelled. My parents and my little brother, we all ran into our flying car, traveling to the next nearest planet, Urban.

During our trip, I was worried about my friends. I called and texted Anna and Riley multiple times, getting the same answer, nothing. I soon cried myself to sleep on the Titan.

When we arrived at Urban, it was nothing like Rock Steady. Everything was so rocky and unstable. My family soon agreed to make a new home on Urban. It took us 3 years to build our new home.

Now that I was 15, I wasn't going to let the past take me away. I moved strongly for my loved ones. Our new home had smooth butter yellow walls outside, with a soft brown roof top, and the windows painted lily white. Everyday, more and more of our people came. It was unexpected but I was grateful that they were safe.

As another 2 years passed by, I was now 17. I dreamed about my friends and the last time I saw them. I just had to ignore the fact that my friends could be gone or I just haven't seen them in Urban planet here yet.

Chapter 2 : The Start

On February 31st, 1967 I heard a ding on my electric book.

"Hm, what's that?" I wondered to myself. I looked and found an email from my electric book about going back to Rock Steady to explore. I was surprised the people wanted me. I told my parents about it and they accepted.

"I'm worried about you," my dad said.

"Be a big brave girl Avellana," my mom supported. I was excited to go back to what was my home before. I sent an email back to the people, called NASUE. I gave them feedback, interests, and questions about the trip.

They replied back with,

"Your mission starts on April 7th. You will have a list of items you would need to pack for your mission. You will not be alone, you will have help from others to complete this."

I was so excited and happy. I was so ready for my mission. A day before April 7th, I was packing my backpack with supplies I needed. In my bag, I packed an extra outfit, food, weapons, water, a notebook and pen, and my letric book to call and text my parents.

It was now April 7th. I left my house around 9pm and arrived at the NASUE building at 10:45pm. I saw the different people I was starting my mission with. They were all different species with different abilities. I was nervous and excited to get to know them.

"My mom and dad!" I shouted.

"Bye Avellana, be safe!" my mom said.

"Bye Avellana I will miss you! I can't wait to see you next time!" my brother yelled.

Everyone said goodbye and farewells, then we left around 10:55 pm and started with our mission.

Chapter 3 : Beginning of The Journey

I sat in the Titan mobile, with 7 other people. We flew all the way back to Rock Steady. It was 4 girls including me and 3 boys. After 8 hours we made it to Rock Steady.

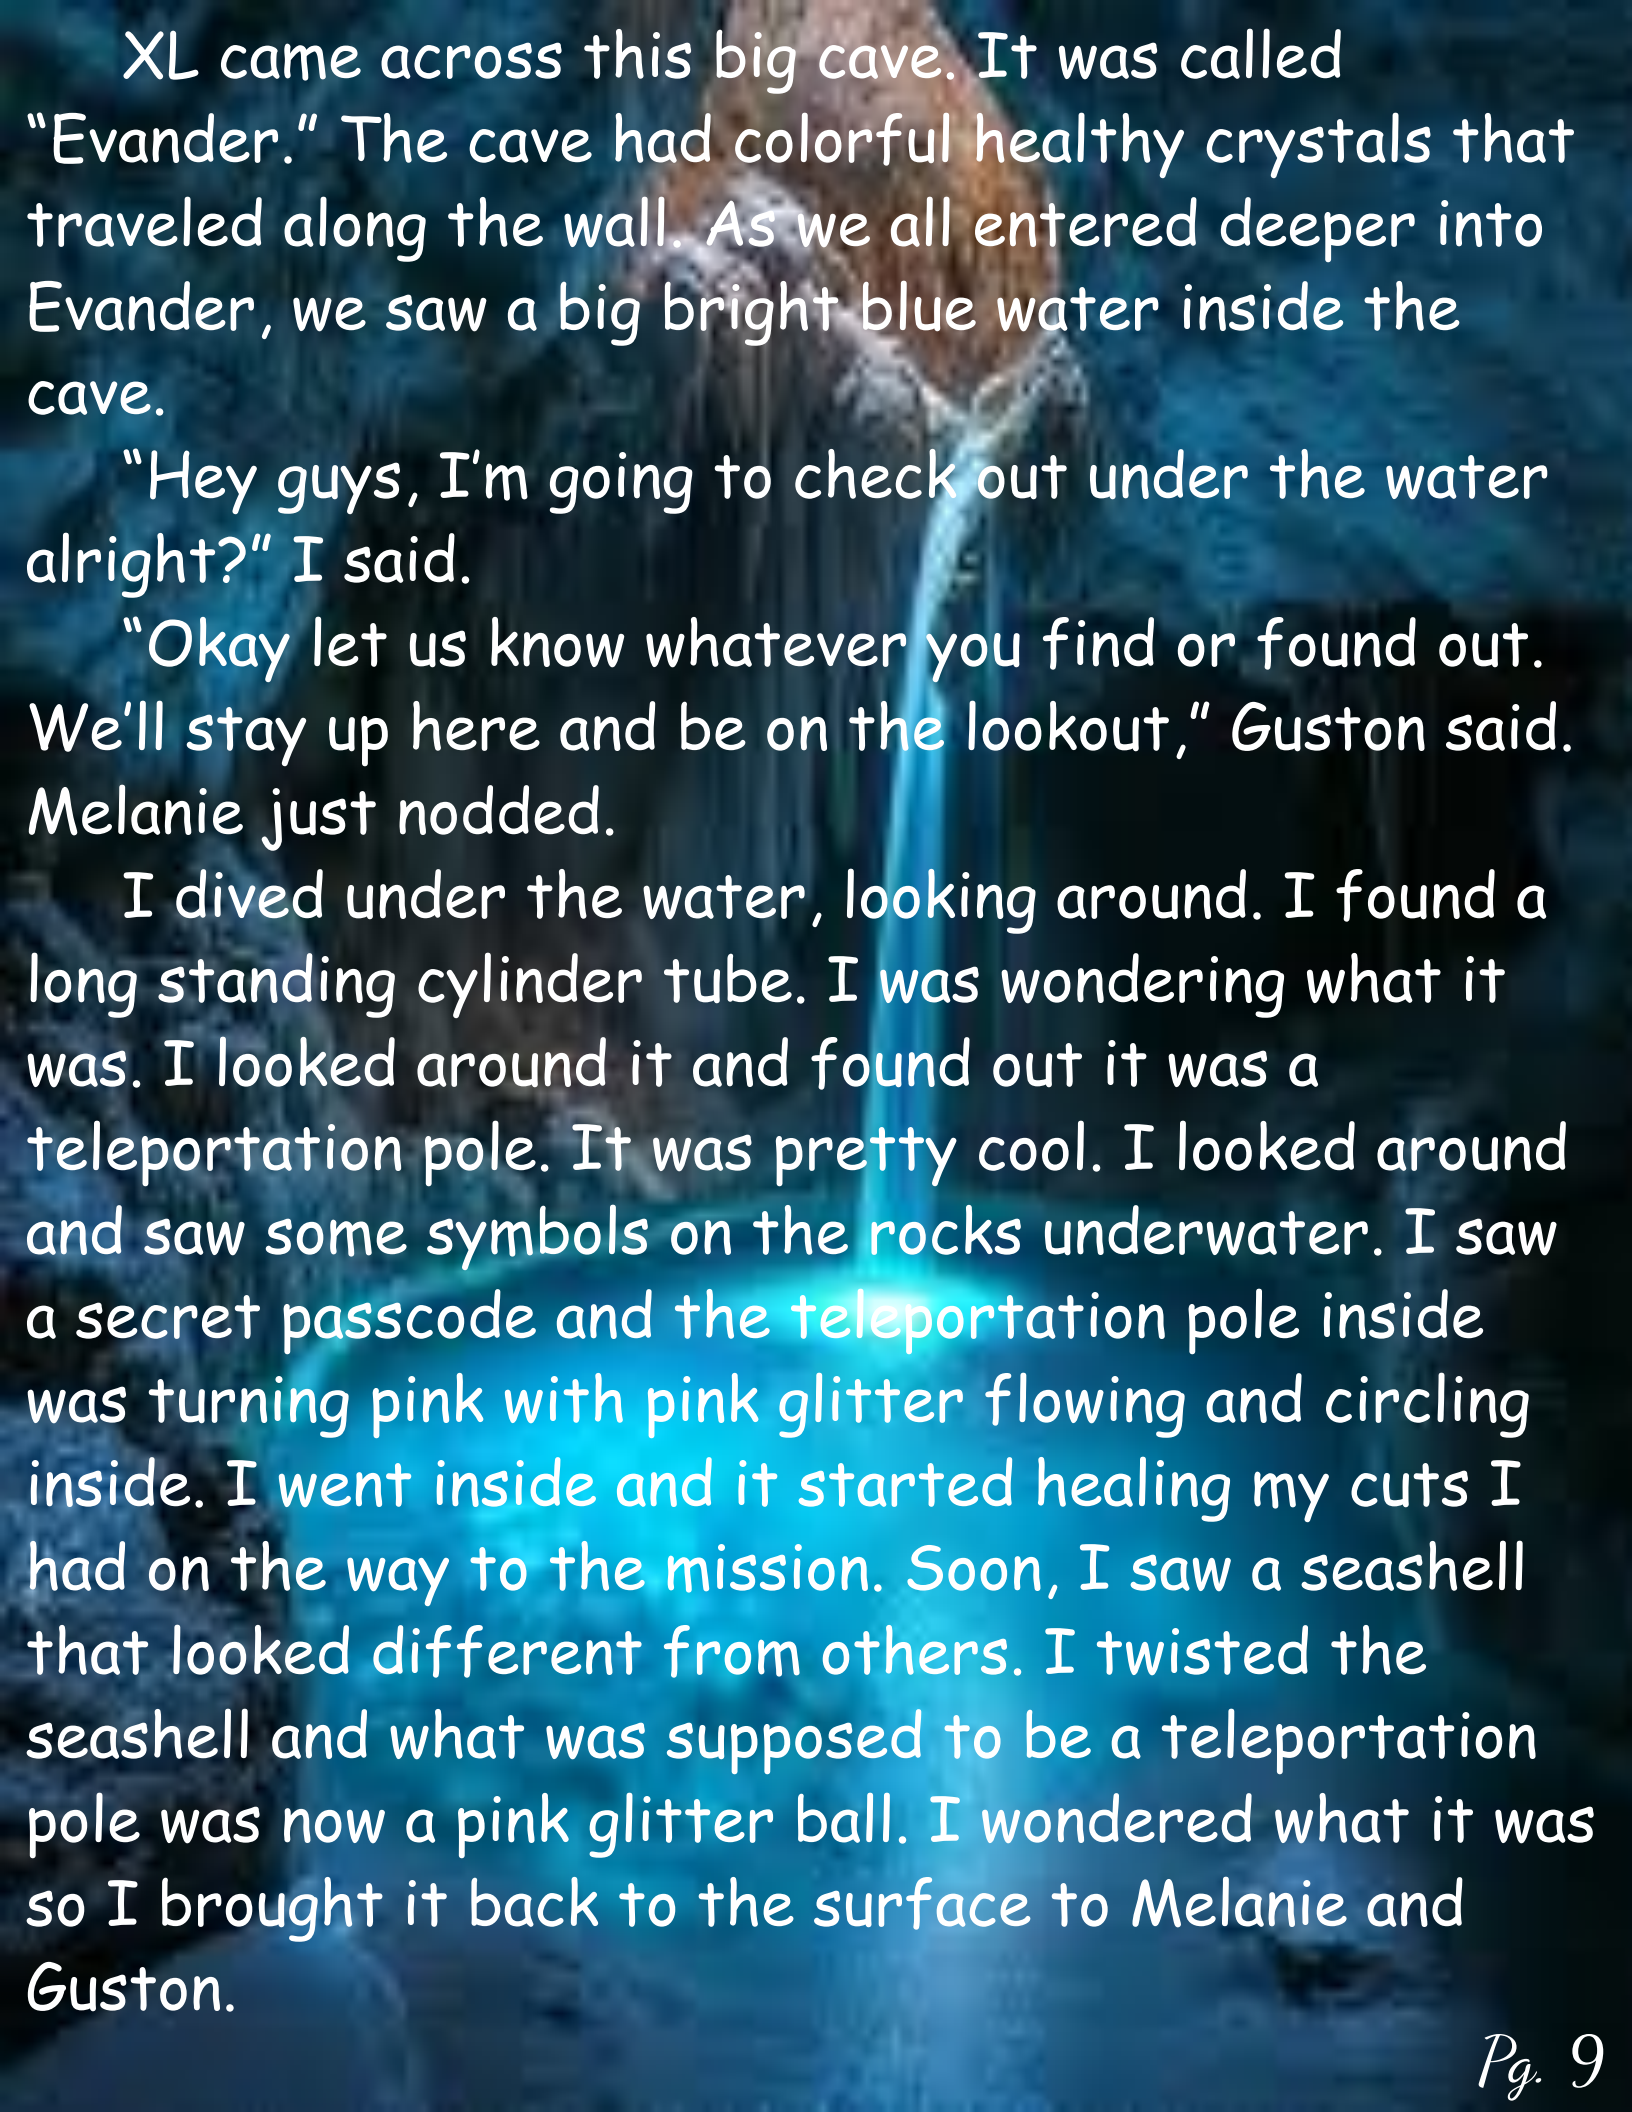

I asked everyone in the car what their names were, "Hey everyone, what's your guys names?" The girls' names were Asiah, Melanie, and Voyage. The boys' names were Loki, Guston, and Waylor. We were all 17-18 years old wanting to check up on our home planet, Rock Steady. It took us about 6 hours to fly there in the Titan mobile. Asiah and Waylor were sitting up in the front of the Titan mobile, with Waylor in control of the mobile, Asiah and Waylor in the middle section, then Melanie, Guston, and I in the back of the mobile.

During those 6 hours, at first it was awkward and silent but then we all talked like we were all friends before the evacuation happened at Rock Steady. After 6 hours, we finally made it to Rock Steady. The once blue water stream that was a path to school, was now a dull grey stream, the what was supposed to be the unique colorful plants were all dark and ashy from flames making them burn. We were all upset in different kinds of ways. Since that happened, we decided a group name would be good, and splitting up into different groups would also be good to find more survivors.

We separated into 3 different groups. Group Johnston was Asiah and Waylor. Group Dreams was Loki and Voyage. Group XL was Melanie, Guston, and I. We all separated as 3 different groups and explored what was supposed to be Rock Steady. Group Johnston went to find survivors, Group Dreams materials, and XL went to explore Rock Steady.

← Titan Mobile layout

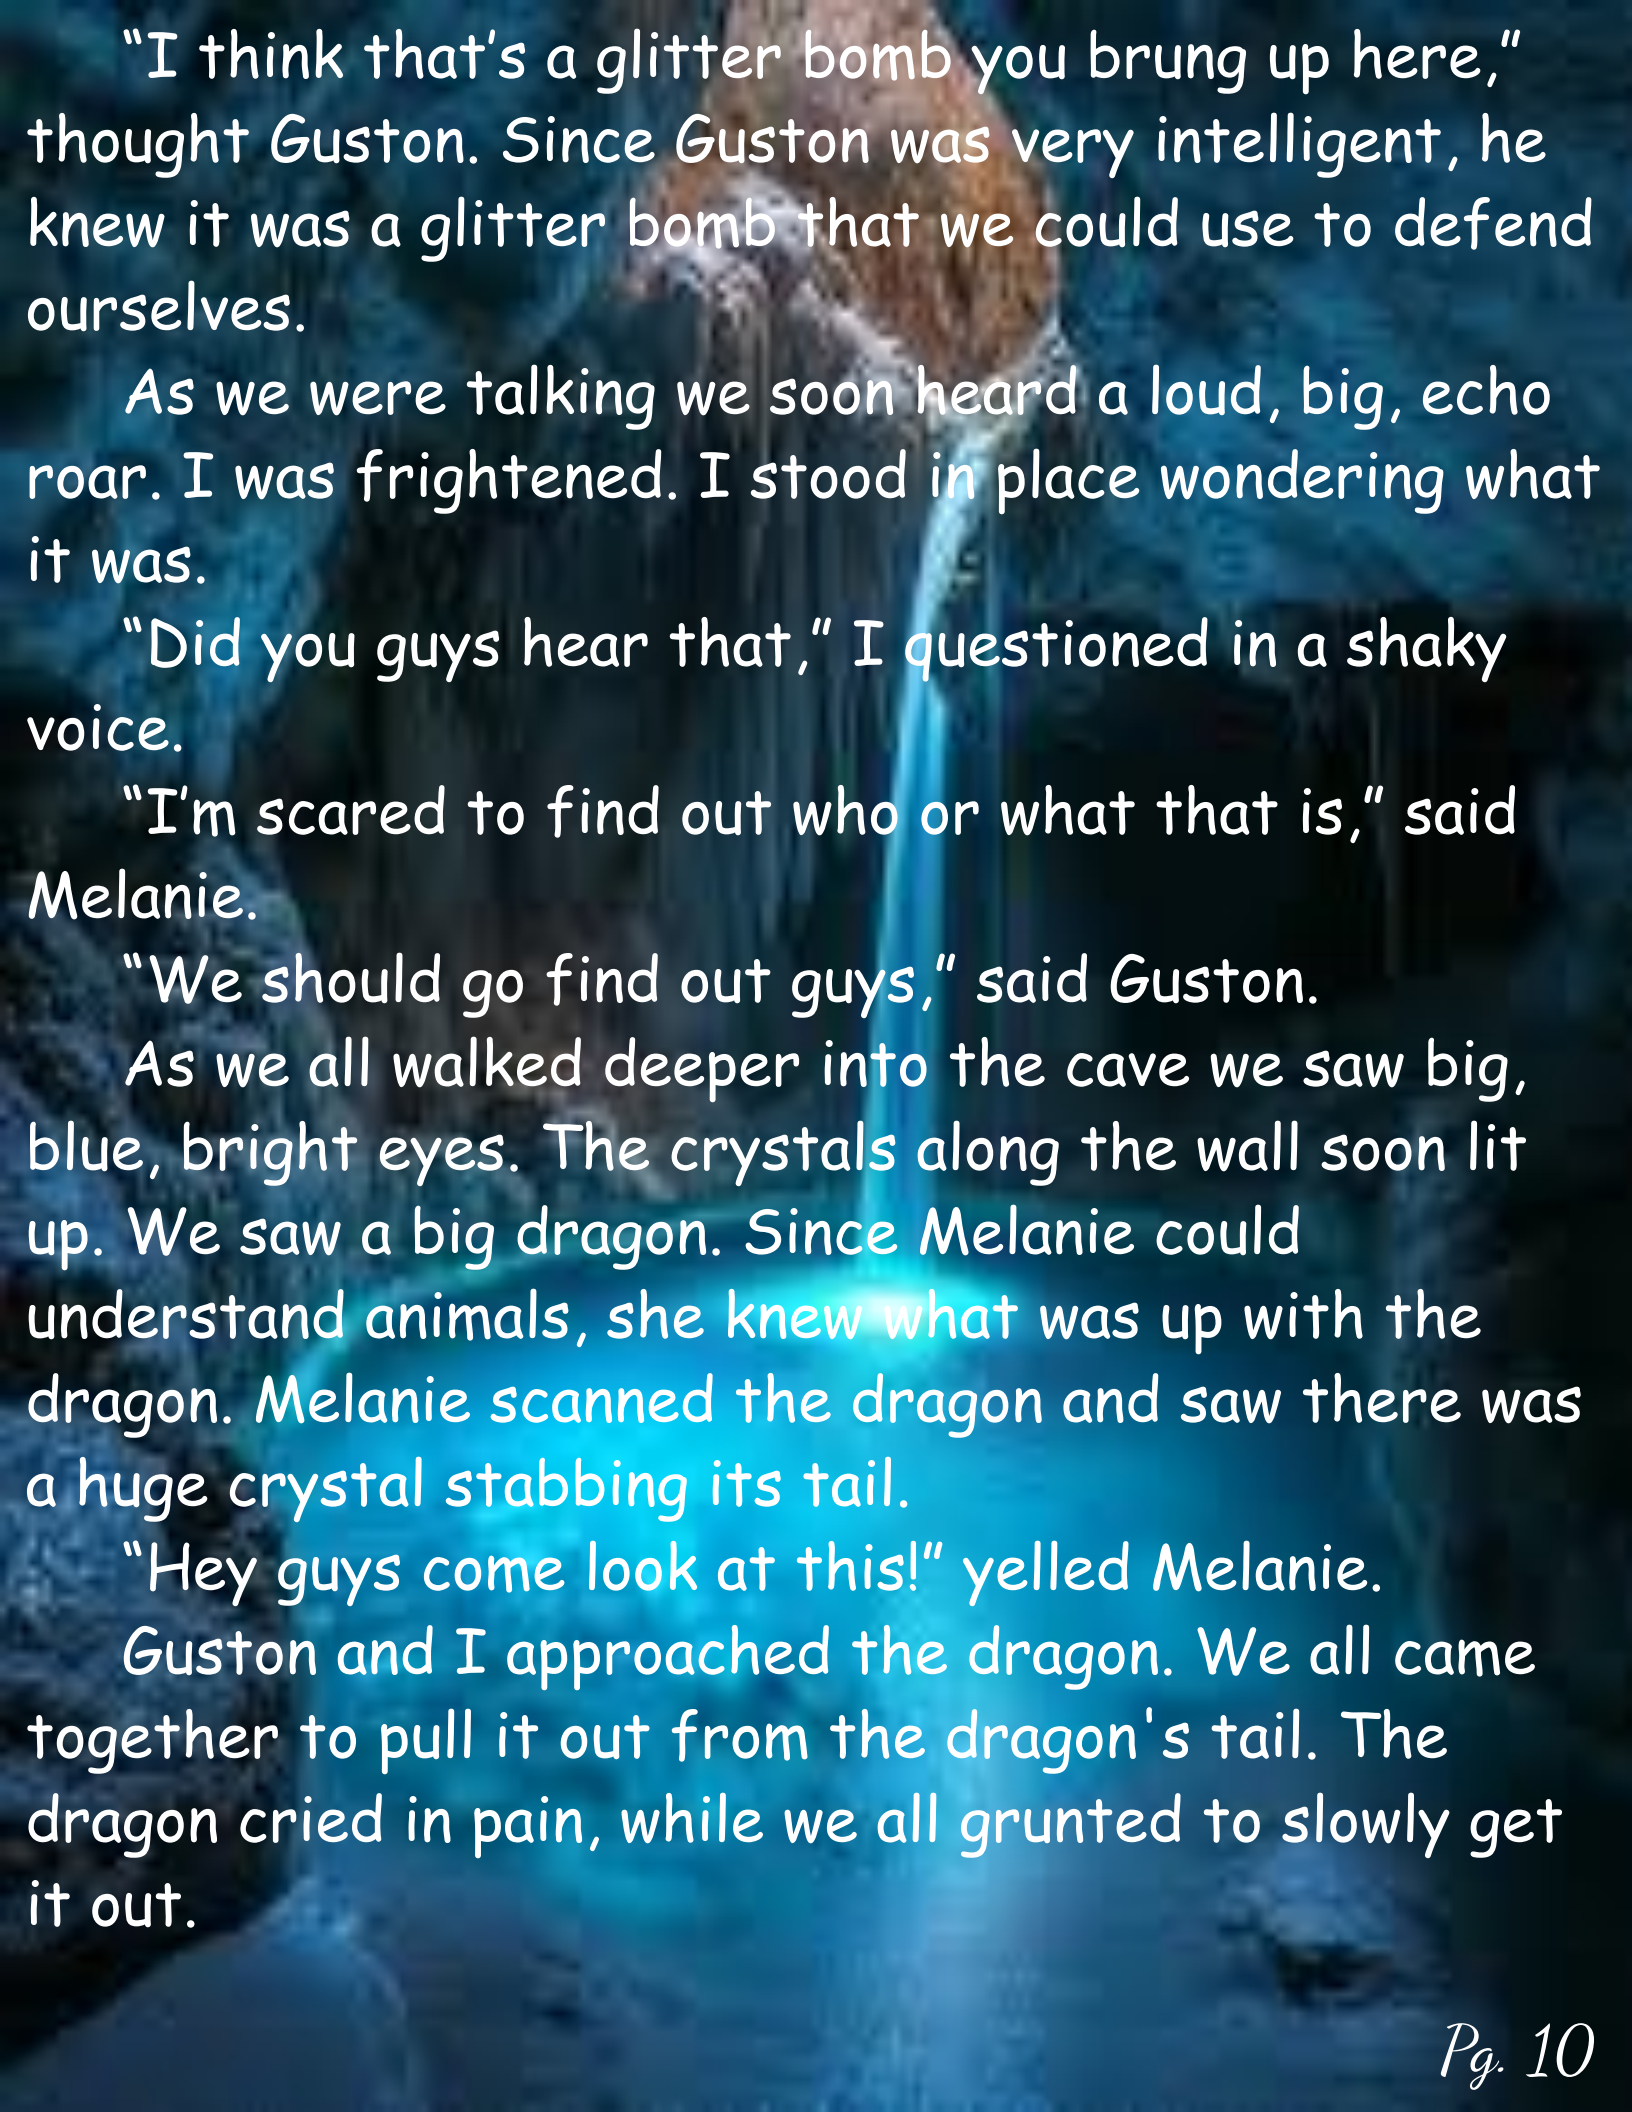

The background image shows a cave interior. A waterfall flows from the top center, creating a bright blue stream. The cave walls are covered with colorful, healthy crystals in shades of red, orange, and yellow. The overall lighting is dim, with the waterfall providing a strong light source.

XL came across this big cave. It was called "Evander." The cave had colorful healthy crystals that traveled along the wall. As we all entered deeper into Evander, we saw a big bright blue water inside the cave.

"Hey guys, I'm going to check out under the water alright?" I said.

"Okay let us know whatever you find or found out. We'll stay up here and be on the lookout," Guston said. Melanie just nodded.

I dived under the water, looking around. I found a long standing cylinder tube. I was wondering what it was. I looked around it and found out it was a teleportation pole. It was pretty cool. I looked around and saw some symbols on the rocks underwater. I saw a secret passcode and the teleportation pole inside was turning pink with pink glitter flowing and circling inside. I went inside and it started healing my cuts I had on the way to the mission. Soon, I saw a seashell that looked different from others. I twisted the seashell and what was supposed to be a teleportation pole was now a pink glitter ball. I wondered what it was so I brought it back to the surface to Melanie and Guston.

A cave interior with a waterfall and glowing crystals. The scene is dimly lit, with a bright blue light emanating from a crystal on the wall, illuminating the surrounding area. The waterfall is on the right side of the frame, and the crystals are scattered along the cave walls.

"I think that's a glitter bomb you brung up here," thought Guston. Since Guston was very intelligent, he knew it was a glitter bomb that we could use to defend ourselves.

As we were talking we soon heard a loud, big, echo roar. I was frightened. I stood in place wondering what it was.

"Did you guys hear that," I questioned in a shaky voice.

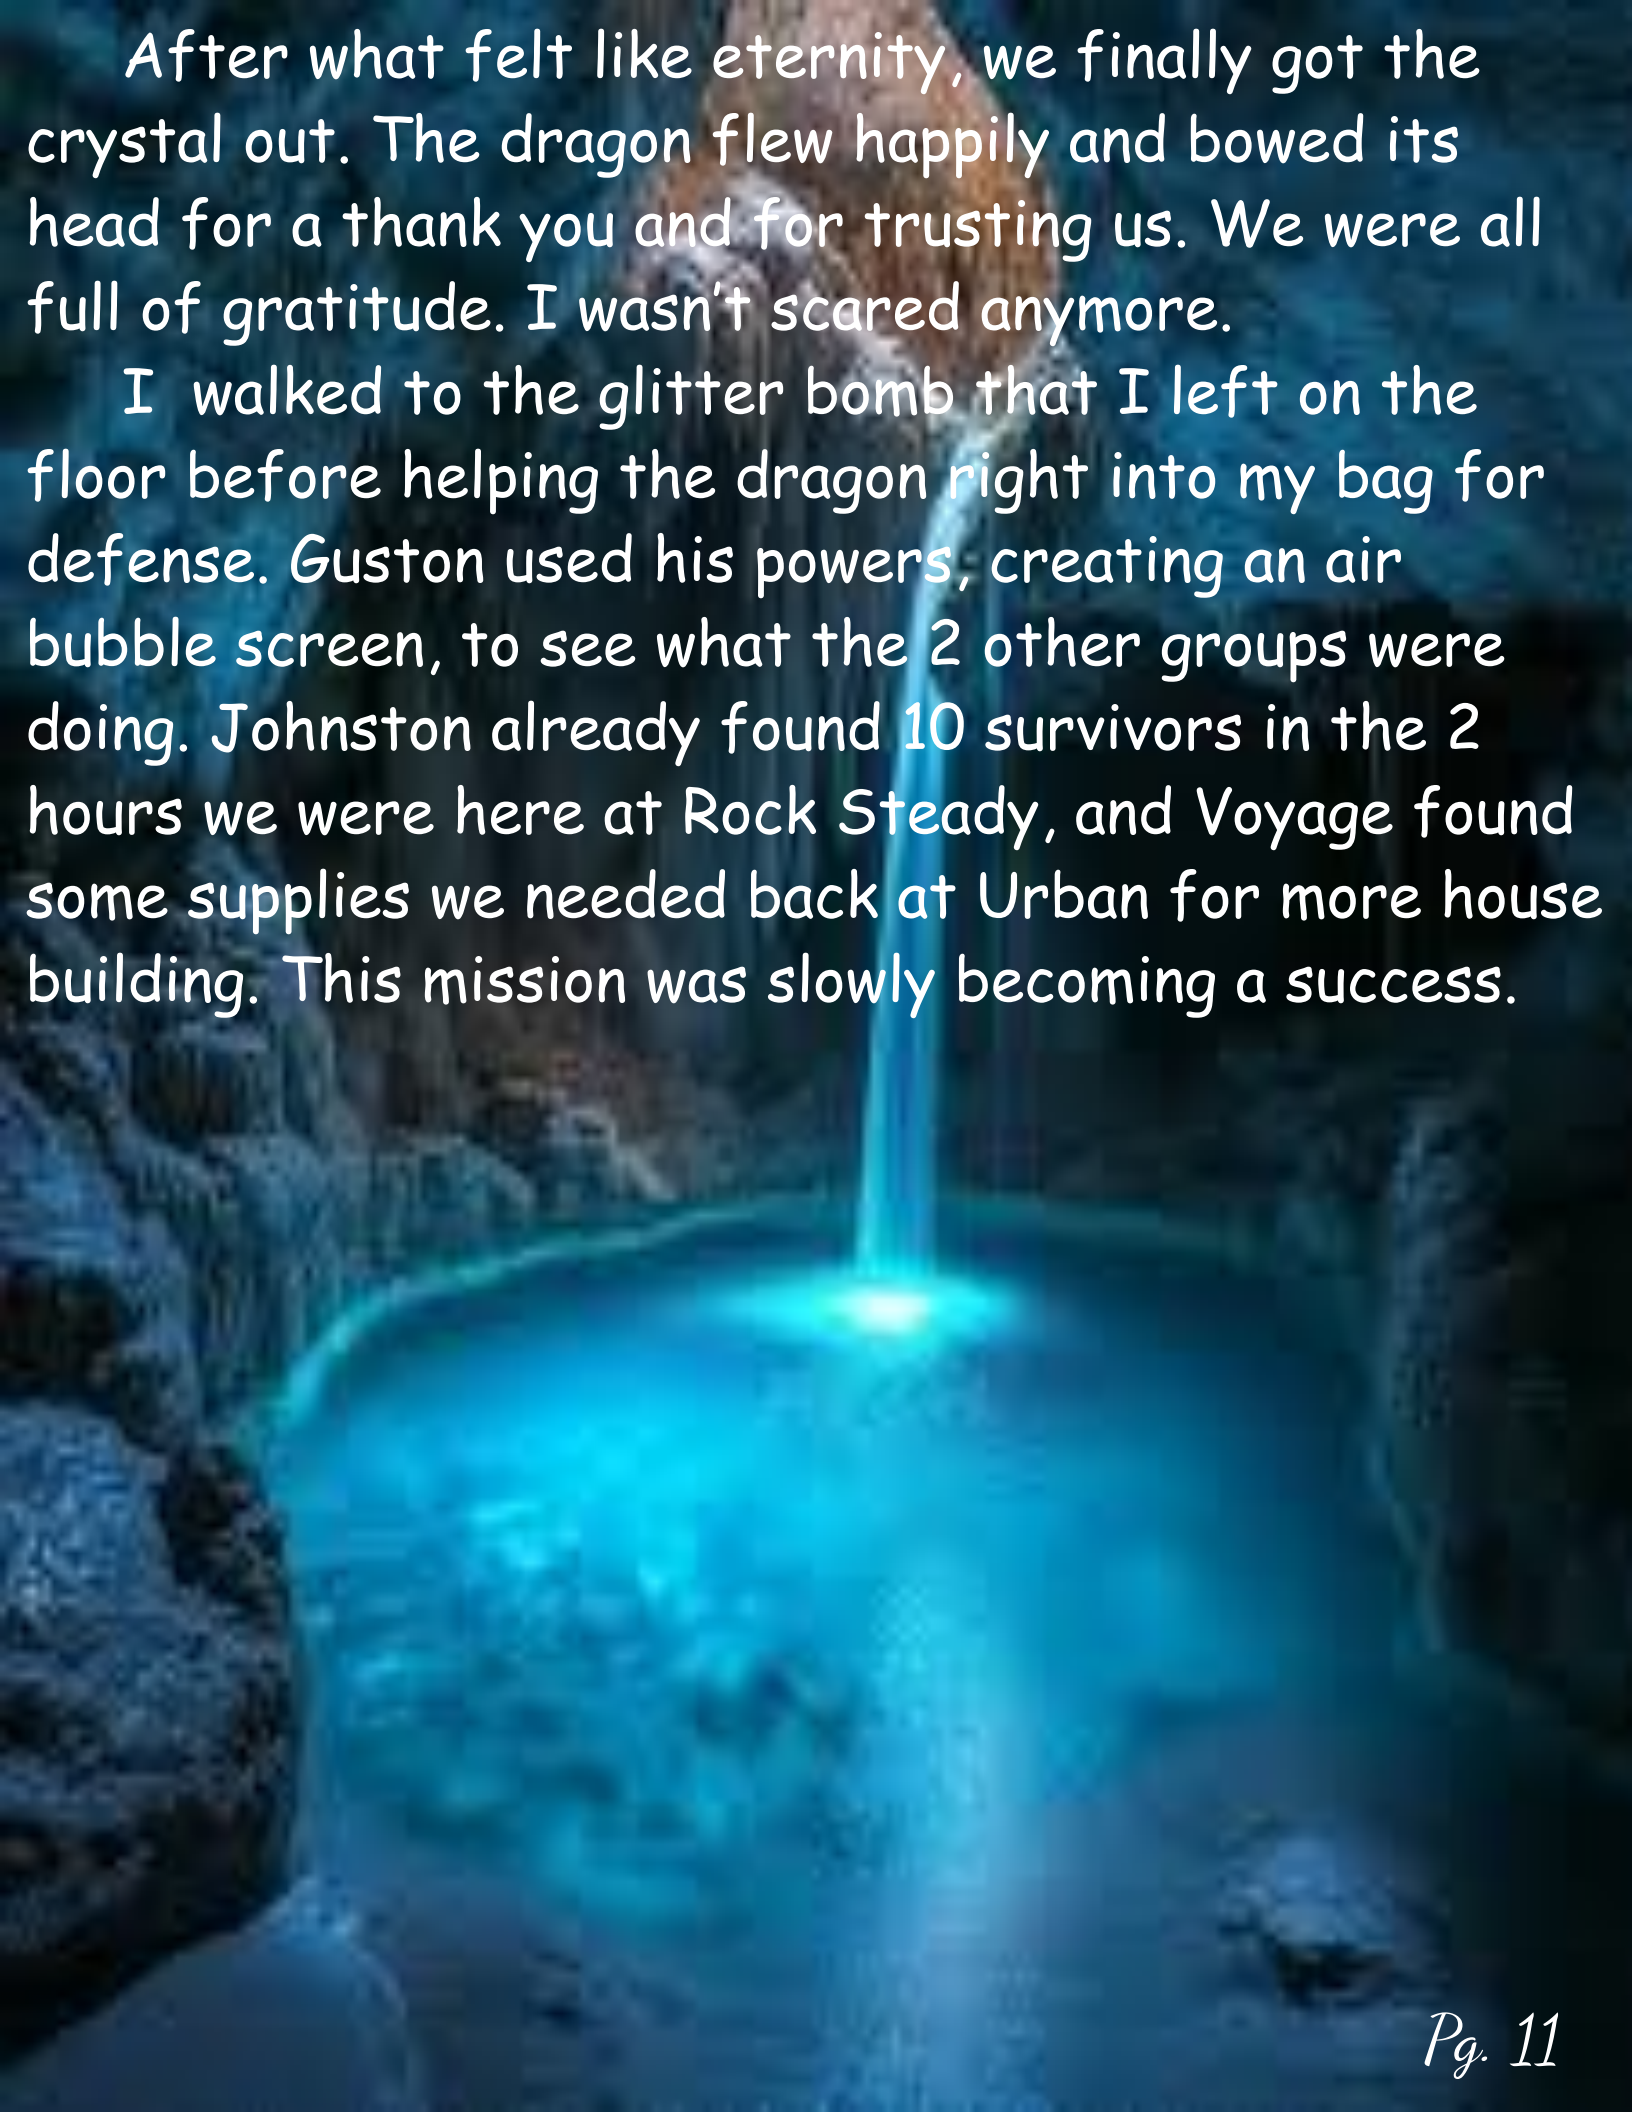

"I'm scared to find out who or what that is," said Melanie.

"We should go find out guys," said Guston.

As we all walked deeper into the cave we saw big, blue, bright eyes. The crystals along the wall soon lit up. We saw a big dragon. Since Melanie could understand animals, she knew what was up with the dragon. Melanie scanned the dragon and saw there was a huge crystal stabbing its tail.

"Hey guys come look at this!" yelled Melanie.

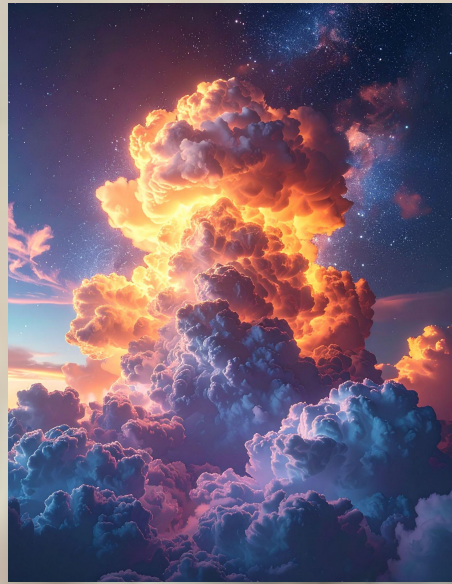

Guston and I approached the dragon. We all came together to pull it out from the dragon's tail. The dragon cried in pain, while we all grunted to slowly get it out.

A vertical beam of bright blue light descends from the top center of the frame, illuminating a dark, rocky cave floor. The light creates a circular glow on the ground and casts long, soft shadows on the surrounding cave walls. The background is dark and textured, suggesting a cavernous environment.

After what felt like eternity, we finally got the crystal out. The dragon flew happily and bowed its head for a thank you and for trusting us. We were all full of gratitude. I wasn't scared anymore.

I walked to the glitter bomb that I left on the floor before helping the dragon right into my bag for defense. Guston used his powers, creating an air bubble screen, to see what the 2 other groups were doing. Johnston already found 10 survivors in the 2 hours we were here at Rock Steady, and Voyage found some supplies we needed back at Urban for more house building. This mission was slowly becoming a success.

Chapter 4 : Cloud of Mercy

As group XL came out of the cave, we started hearing screams from our electric books, it was group Dreams and Johnston. We panicked as Guston was using his powers to summon an air bubble screen to see what was happening to those 2 groups. Group Dreams were getting attacked in a house filled with different creatures that no one knew about, and with group Johnston, there were fire arrows coming at them from the sky. Rock Steady was under attack again by who knows what. Melaine, Guston, and I rush to help group Dreams.

"Hey, we're here!" yelled Melanie.

We fought them but we were too weak for those mysterious creatures, so we ran helping each other stand. We went to go find the others.

We saw a huge big cloud of smoke in the sky. We were frightened. We stood 8-9 feet away from the smoke. We saw someone coming, but we didn't know who. We slowly backed up until we realized there were some survivors.

Chapter 5 : Bows and Flames

Both group XL and Dreams ran into the smoke seeing group Johnston. We all used our abilities to get rid of the flaming arrows.

Waylor used his powers and flew to the spot where the arrows were coming from. As he flew closer, he was hit by an arrow. He was coming down fast. As I panicked, Loki used his powers to create a soft landing bed for Waylor. Waylor was on the bed hurt, struck by an arrow.

"This is not good," said Voyage. Voyage used her healing powers for Waylor. Waylor was slowly getting healed by Voyage but there were still arrows coming down to us. Asiah used her shield powers, guarding us from the flaming arrows. I flew to the spot where the arrows were coming, dodging them like it was easy. I trained for this.

I grabbed the glitter bomb from my bag and threw it at the spot. The spot where the arrows came from, it was now pink, glittery, and stopped the arrows from shooting. I flew back down as fast as I could and told everyone to run. Everyone ran while I stayed back. I wanted to end this for my friends. I wanted to end this for my family. I wanted to end this for life. I got ready to fight by myself, protecting my home planet. As I saw multiple evil human sized fairies coming, I knew I was ready. I saw from the side of my eye, Asiah, Waylor, Voyage, Loki, Melaine, and Guston. They were here to help me, to be by my side.

"We work as a team," said Loki.

"We all have each other, side by side," said Asiah.

"Thanks guys," I said to them all. I was grateful, getting the courage I always needed. We all were ready for what was coming to us. I told my team about my new partner, "Tulip," about her powers. I released Tulip from my bag, and told her to go find the entrance of the tower where the fire arrows were coming from and to report to us what was going to happen next

Chapter 6 : The Finish

While Tulip was finding the entrance of the tower, my team and I fought the human-sized fairies for about 40 minutes. We took them all down. We had help from our new dragon friend, "Spears." He helped us attack our rivals who didn't belong here at Rock Steady. My team and I found a place to rest after all the fighting. Voyage was slowly healing everyone with her powers while Guston and I kept an eye on Tulip heading for the tower.

Tulip was getting closer to the tower and finally went up the stairs to the top. She creaked near a door and used her X-ray vision. She saw multiple human-sized fairies talking about their next plan to take us down. Tulip clicked one of her tulips on her hair, which recorded everything they were saying.

The End
