Dream(s)

To find my family and get our world back

Fear(s)

Never finding my family and never getting our world back

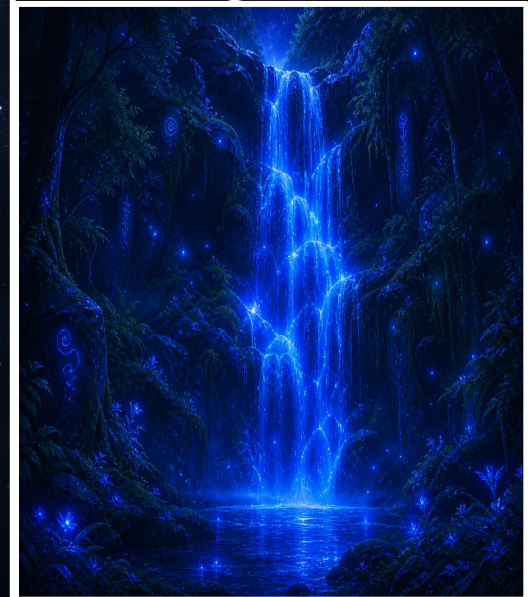

Backstory: When I was 9 years old humans came and took over my planet. They forced us out of our world and all the dragons got split up. I lost my family and I haven't seen them since. I was lost and had nowhere to go so I had to go to a planet called Pandora. I've been stuck in pandora for 27 years.

Planetary Wildlife	A common creature found on pandora is a sprite. It's a small floating fairy type creature. They glow and roam around in populated areas. They try to trick you into to following them so they can steal your belongings.	Description	Pandora started off as a planet with no one but small creatures. Then other beings like dragons were getting forced off their home planets. This caused creatures to create roads, and homes which made more creatures want to come and live in pandora.

Whisper Dust

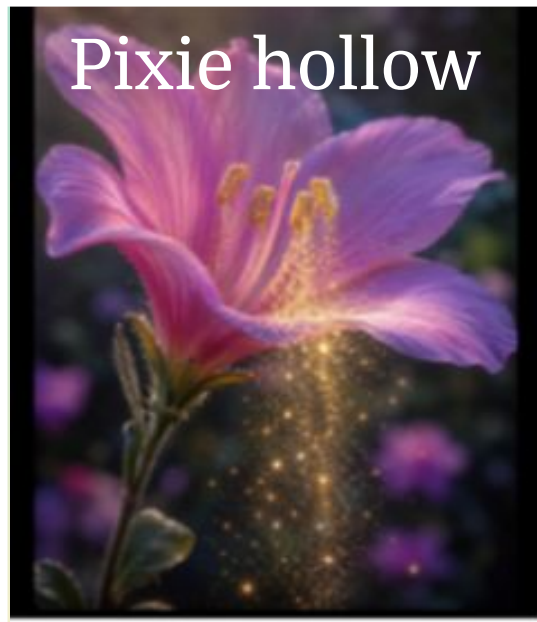

Eldoria

Whisperleaf

Pixie hollow

Pixie Dust

Origin Story: A pixie flower and a whisperleaf were growing right next to each other. The pixie flower dropped some pixie dust on the whisper and that caused the whisperleaf to heal people and give people powers. This kept happening and then it created a whole new plant called Whisper dust.

Appearance: A Purple flower with golden stems. On the petals it has hints of gold and looks very magical.

● Healing

The whisperleaf Powers in the whisper dust flower help heal. If your sick, hurt, ect eating these flower petals would help heal you.

◆ Powers

In some occasions if someone sprinkles the pixie dust on their heads from the whisper dust flower they could get powers temporarily.

★ Flying

It is not advised to consume the pixie dust because there are multiple side effects including throwing up, uncontrollable flying, and night terrors.. These effects only happen once in a while but when you consume the pixie dust you are able to fly for two weeks.

Evu

Age: infinite

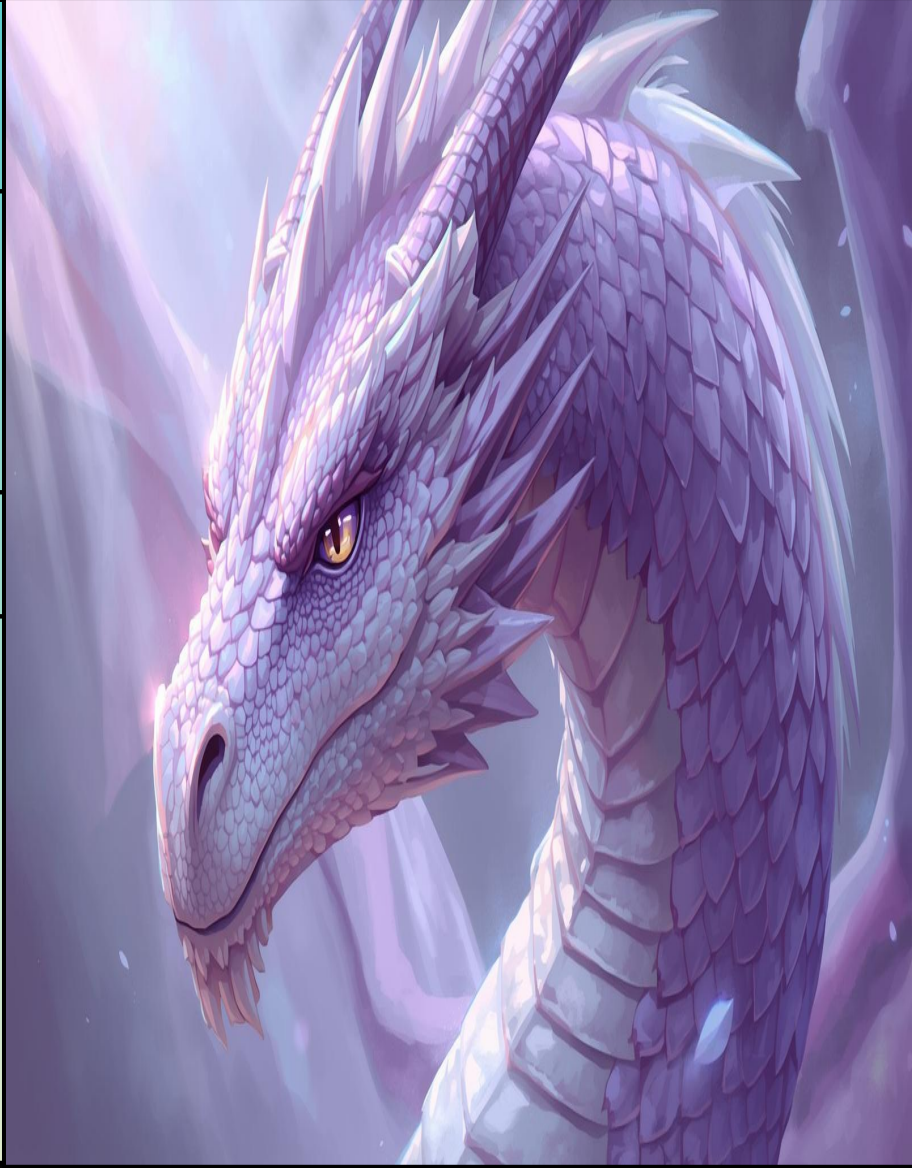

Species: Dragon/ Spirit guide

Gender: Male

Home Planet: Pandora

How we Met

Evu heard that miori was trying to find her family so he sent her a letter. They met at a store and started their journey right away. Evu guided miori to Floura.

Ability #1: imortal

Evu is immortal so he can live forever. He can get hurt but he will never die.

Ability #2: teleportation

Another one of Evus abilities is transportation. He can transport to other planets, citys, and houses. In my story he doesn't teleport because no other dragon can teleport.

Chapter One: left behind

Hi, my name is Miori, I am a normal dragon with a normal life, and I'm from the planet Solaris. At a young age, humans came to take over our planet, and my family and I were forced off our planet. So much was happening at that moment that I got separated from the rest of my family. I ended up on the planet Pandora, and my family ended up on an unknown planet. Since that day, my lifelong dream has been to find them.

Chapter Two: the maps secret

Every night, I study every map that I have, trying to find the planet my parents are on. Suddenly, I see something in the corner of my eye. There is a piece of glitter coming down, rocking back and forth in the sky. The piece of glitter lands on a corner of the map, and I suddenly realise that there's a corner that's folded over. I fold over the corner and find a planet I've missed this whole time... Floura. I'm speechless. I don't know what to do. I've been searching for so long, and I've finally found the planet. I start packing and make my plan to leave by dawn. In the morning, I ask my friends if they want to come with me, but they all just shove the door in my face. I'm disappointed nobody wanted to come with me, but I'm ready for this long journey ahead of me.

Chapter Three: The start of the journey

I'm about to leave my house, but I stumble upon a letter. I bend down to pick up the letter and open it. It says,

"Hello Miori, I've heard that you are searching for your family. Meet me at the market."

This letter creeped me out, but I'm still going to go to the market. Once I arrive at the market, I can't find anyone. I searched for a couple of minutes, but I still didn't see anybody. I start shopping around in the market and buy a box of strawberries. I sit down outside to eat my strawberries, and suddenly a dragon approaches me. With a mouthful of strawberries, I say

"Hello, are you the dragon that sent me this letter?"

As I hold up the crinkled piece of paper. The unknown dragon says

"Yes, I'm here to accompany you on your journey."

In my head, I think that I recognize this dragon, but I'm unsure. I ask what their name is, and they say "My name is Evu."

"Ok, Evu, let's get this journey going."

We start walking down the street, but I have no clue where we're going, so I just follow Evu. I try to start conversations with Evu, but they stay silent.

Chapter Four: The nightmare

Evu hasn't spoken for a while, but then suddenly he says that he senses something bad. I just ignore him, and we walk through some brush, and I see something in the distance. It's a dark figure that's shaped like a dragon. I walk up to it, and it looks oddly familiar... I suddenly realize it looks exactly like my mom. I run up to her to hug her, but once I reach her and wrap my arms around her, I fall to the ground, and what was once her becomes a cloud that slowly fades away. I said to Evu

“What's going on? What just happened?”

He says “Miori, you're hallucinating. I've heard about this happening before, but I don't know what's causing it.”

I'm shocked and uneasy about what just happened, but we keep going anyway. We walk through valleys, cities, towns, and finally, we get to the top of Pandora, where only winged creatures can go. Creatures with wings are only allowed here because they can fly through the universe to each planet. I look out into the black universe and see something purple. There are purple storm clouds around all the planets surrounding Pandora. I ask Evu what's happening. Hes Speechless.

“ I can't believe this is happening. This has never happened before.”

I ask what it is, and Evu stutters.

“ It's the nightmare. It causes every planet that's infected to hallucinate, lose their memories, and powers. If the nightmare keeps growing, we will not be able to find your family. We have to leave now.”

I start to worry, but I am determined to find my family. We start flying into the universe, and I see storm clouds surrounding the planets. I can see the lighting inside and hear the thunder crashing.

Chapter Five: Lost time

We finally arrive on Floura, but the planet is surrounded by the nightmare. Evu says

“ The effects on this planet may be different from the ones on Pandora. Let's stick together and be cautious.”

We hold out our map of Floura and see that we are close to a nearby village. We push a branch out of the way and step into the village. We don't see anyone, just something flying in the air. More tiny bugs start flying in the air, and we find out that the “bugs” are fairies. They start hitting us with twigs and yelling at us to get out. We start walking back into the forest as the fairies are staring at us. Evu and I sit down on a fallen tree to look at the map again. There is a town that's across the mountains. We start heading that way. We reach the mountains and fly over them straight into the town. Once we land, we start walking down the street, and there are multiple dragons here. I start to worry. What if I don't recognize my family? I see a familiar figure walking into a store. Evu and I start to follow it. It's very crowded in the store, so I started walking around, but I lost it. We decided to just wait outside the store. Right as we walk out, the figure walks out. It looks extremely familiar, so I walk up to it. It looks exactly like my mom. I tell her it's me and how excited I am that I found her, but she doesn't recognize me. I tell her how it's almost been 30 years since we last saw each other, but she doesn't believe me. She tells me that it's been a week since they left Solaris. Evu and I glare at each other. I started talking to Evu, asking if this was actually my mom or not, but then suddenly she interrupts me. She asks

“ who are you talking to? There's no one there.”

I say

“ Yes, there is. It's Evu. He helped me find you.”

I slowly turn around, and no one's there. I start explaining to her how he helped me on my journey to Floura, but she just stands there. I realize that he was never actually a dragon but a spirit guide helping me find my way home.

She says

“ I will bring you home to see my family, but if they don't recognize you, leave.”

We start walking to her house. We arrive on her doorstep, and I take a deep breath. She opens the door, and I slowly walk in. I see my dad, sisters, and brothers all in the same room again. They all look the exact same. I start to tear up, and my mom asks everyone if they recognized me. Everyone shook their heads, except my dad. He runs up and hugs me, and he yells out

“ It's Miori!”

Everyone is surprised.

I look nothing like I did before. Everyone hugs me and jumps around excitedly.

Chapter Six: where i belong

We all sit down together, and I share my story with them. They are speechless. As we sit in the awkward silence, my sister asks if I'm going to live with them on Floura. I look up at my parents, and they both nod at me. My siblings and I squeal with joy. They start making up a bed for me. We walk downstairs, where I see my dad cooking dinner. I begin helping him, and I finally start to feel at home again.
