Ntuj

Age: 17

Species: Bunny

Gender: Female

Home Planet: Paj Ntuj

How we Met

Ntuj is a sibling, Ntuj is only 2 years older than me but sometimes I feel like I'm older than her. When I was born Ntuj loved being with me everyday, Ntuj and I have a spell that use both our powers but it's a secret spell.

Illusion

Ntuj can make an illusion spells to fool the enemies thinking something else happened but it never did. Ntuj used this on me before as a test if she master the illusion power. After a while Ntuj finally mastered the power of illusion.

Gravity

Ntuj has a abilly that she can control gravity but it dangerous once she uses it. Ntuj only use it when there is a really dangerous enemy. Her gravity control can come from anywhere, Ntuj mastered the power of gravity like our father.

Chapter 1 : Paj

I'm Paj, a bunny that loves flowers and my cousin BunBun, a bunny that has magical ice powers. My parents also have powers, my mom has the power of water and my dad has the ability to control gravity. For me I have the power of having laser eyes and I have a spell to make enemies go to sleep but I really want to learn how to use the power of the flower. The flower ability is only for the people who have control over the 4 elements, water, air, earth, fire, with these abilities you can control mostly the whole planet of Paj Ntuj. I'm learning how to use the power of the earth.

In Paj Ntuj everyone is happy and peaceful, no harm anywhere, but if there are enemies then everyone fights together as one, the queen and the royal guards cast a protection spell around the whole planet so nobody can come in. The queen only lets traders come in and out of the planet, the protection spell is so strong even if the spell breaks a little it won't break fully.

Chapter 2 : The mission

My mission today is to go out to other planets to help them. I'm going with my cousin BunBun and some other animals and humans. The humans are nice and the other animals are also nice but soon I'll be on a planet where they say there is no hope.

I arrived at the planet where there is no hope, I looked around in surprise at how everything is sad and gloomy. I walk out with BunBun and the others. As soon as I got out a big rock started to roll down towards everyone, I cast a spell to destroy the big rock. The rock crumpled to the ground, I walked towards the crumpled rock pieces and saw it disappear into the ground. This place is kinda weird but I have to explore it before I say anything else.

Chapter 3 : The castle

On the way I came across two twins, I went up to both of them and asked, “Are you okay? Why are you two here?”

“Yeah we are just waiting,” the twins replied back.

“Waiting for what?” I ask

The twins looked around before saying, “Our mother because she said she will be back but never came back for us, it has been years since told us that.”

“Your mother left you two here, is it okay if I ask something?” I told the twins.

“Sure what is it?” Both of them ask.

“Would you guys like it if you two come with us and we can find your mother together,” I replied.

Both of them nodded and stood up to follow me and the other animals and humans.

I saw a little house far away in a mountain, I looked right and saw a castle. I pointed at the castle and told everyone that we are going to the castle and see what is in there. We walked for minutes and then for hours, as we got to the castle gates the gates were open like it was waiting for everyone. I walked in with BunBun and the gates started to close, everyone ran in before the gates closed fully. Everyone came inside in time. I looked around as the castle was in ruins, I walked towards the door to open the castle doors, I realized I was too short to get the door handle, a human grabbed the door handle and opened it for everyone to come in quickly. All the light came on as everyone walked in, I saw many jewelry like necklaces, crowns, rings, earrings. I went up to the necklace and it was glowing like it was calling me to grab it.

Chapter 3 : The castle

I looked at the necklace and realized it was the necklace of life or death. I backed away from it and covered it with a cloth nearby, the necklace was glowing more and more. I told everyone to get out of the room as it was dangerous, everyone ran out of the room.

As everyone walked I saw someone at the window looking outside, the person looked at me and smiled creepy, I felt tired all of the sudden. I looked at everyone falling asleep, I quickly cast a spell that made an illusion, the illusion looked like I was sleeping but I was instead running away but I was invisible to everyone while running the illusion lasted around hours until some touches the illusion disappeared. I went into a room where I can see everyone sleeping and I saw the person coming closer to everyone. I couldn't see much of anything when the person cast a spell to have all of them go to the dungeon.

Chapter 4 :

I followed everyone to the dungeon, I saw everyone in jail cells. I used my magical powers to free everyone but I was picked up by something, it was something big. I looked up and saw a creepy smile, everyone woke up and looked at the big creature and me, everyone tried to free themselves and help each other from this dungeon. I was thrown into a jail cell, the hard cold floors, red lights in the dungeon, only a few torches were up, barely even visible, then I passed out.

I woke up to see I was outside of the castle with everyone laying down. The night sky was beautiful tonight I thought.

BunBun asked, "Paj are you awake now?"

I replied back, "Yes I'm awake now"

"Wait what, I thought you were sleeping forever but I'll go tell the others you're awake now, just wait for me," as BunBun told me, everyone started to run towards BunBun and I, I looked at everyone in surprise with some happiness as well because the mission was going to be over in one more day.

"Are you okay Paj," both the twins ask in a worried voice.

"Yes I'm fine, trust me and don't worry about me plus I should be worried about all of you guys," I replied.

"Yeah sure but I wouldn't say that if I were you because right now you have little blood on your head from getting thrown in the jail cell too hard," a human told me.

"No that can't be right?" I ask worriedly.

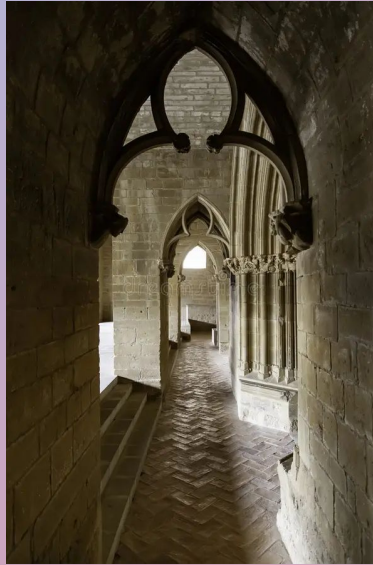

"Yeah you are bleeding a bit go see for yourself," a voice said.

"Wait, who is that?" I asked.

"Oh you're asking who I am. I see well I am your sister," my sister told proudly.

"Ntuj why are you here now plus we got to fight that monster or creature in there now before it kills us all," I told Ntuj .

Chapter 4 :

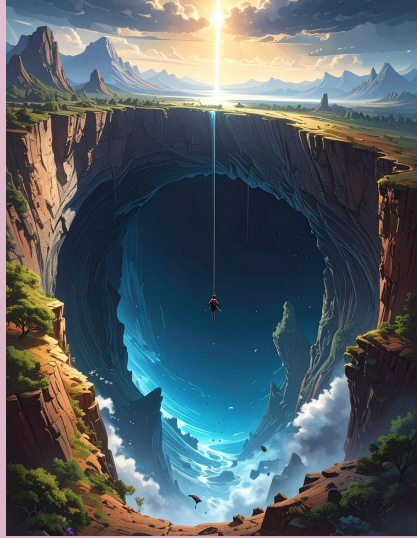

“Yeah, let's kill that monster or creature in there and go back home,”Ntuj and the others said.

I walked inside of the castle and saw the monster/creature walking towards everyone, I walked forward with everyone, the monster laughed at everyone.

The monster asked, “Aren’t you scared of me you little rats?!”

I replied back, “ No I’m scared of you, nobody is scared of you anymore.” The monster looked at me and started to laugh like a psycho/maniac. Everyone together cast their spells to destroy the creature, the creature screamed as it was getting hit by all the magical spells. The creature casted one big spell on everyone. As everyone thought it was over for us, I put a protection spell over everyone, Ntuj helped by powering up the protection spell as well as BunBun. The monster backed up trying to make another spell to destroy us but fell into the void the monster didn’t know before cast the spell because everything was just an illusion Ntuj did, so everything was fake but not the protection spell. As the monster fully fell into the void it threw up, the monster threw up everywhere and then I saw people coming out of the dark slime.

Chapter 5 : The killing of the monster

I saw people coming out of the dark slime and then the monster came back but smaller.

“What did you do to me?!” The monster yelled.

“Your powers are gone now, give up,” Ntuj told the monster.

The monster laughed like a psycho, and the people started to run out of the castle.

“You think I lost all of my powers, think again!” The monster yelled again.

Ntuj and I started to close the big hole up as the monster was climbing out of it, then I heard a crack, creeeeeeeek, I looked up and saw the ice on the roof. I looked at BunBun who was making ice come out of the roof and slowly falling onto the monster, as the ice touched the monster the monster whelped for help.

“Please, I don't want to die!” The monster screamed.

“Too bad, too sad, you're gone now,” BunBun told the monster.

The monster screamed for help as the ice lowered down and pierced the monster, the monster tried to escape from dying when the ice fell. Boom! The monster exploded, everyone was in shock.

“We finally killed it,” Ntuj told me.

“Yeah but now lets go home now,” I told everyone.

Chapter 6 : The end?

In the space rocket I saw something in the universe I didn't really know what it was so I thought it was something new that the other planets were doing, everyone landed at home.

“Finally at home,” Ntuj says.

“Yeah finally now let's have a good nap and eat good food for the success of completing the mission!” I told everyone.

Everyone quickly ran out of the space rocket. I walked out with BunBun and Ntuj outside. Everything was so colorful, I touched the green grass and I picked up a beautiful flower and smelled it, it smelled so good.

At home with BunBun and Ntuj my parents' cooked food for all 5 of us.

“I wonder if everyone went home safely,” I asked.

“Don't worry I made sure that my helper went with all of them so they went home safely,” Ntuj told me.

“Food is ready!” My mother yelled from the kitchen.

“Let's go eat some good food now,” BunBun told Ntuj and me.

I went into the kitchen with the others, while eating I noticed something in the sky. It was dark covering the planet, I hope nothing goes bad.
