

CERTIFIED DREAMVALE

Dibid's Quest to slay the fallen king.

A DREAMVALE STORY BY LEON THAO

Name: Disk Rabid (Di-bid)-NICKNAME

Age: 1928 fairy years(19 human years)

Species: Rabbit Fairy

Gender: Male

Home Planet: The Havens

Personality Traits

- Bipolar
- Goes the extra step for something he wants
- Crazy at times
- lazy
- Chaotic

Abilities

- Fly
- Overwhelming magical powers
- Able to summon Rabbit dragons
- Shape/size shift
- Super speed
- Eat carrots for extra buffs.
- 2 different forms

Moral Alignment

Chaotic neutral

Dream(s)

To fight a strong being.

Fear(s)

Losing any fights. When he knew he could win it.

Backstory: I was born in a planet called The Havens in the fairy kingdom. One day the fairy king called me to his chamber and sent me on a special quest. Although the fallen angels were attacking the fairy kingdom he decided for me to sneak into their castle and eliminate their king. So, I had to accept his quest or else I would never see Discus and mother again. I hope my brother Discus is doing alright, I haven't seen him in a while.

The Celestial Equinox

Molten Crow

Green Quartz River

Coordinates (x, y)	18000, 20000	Government Type	The Talon Gorilla, other known as one of the strongest creatures
Population	8,119,987,789,586+	Intergalactic Disposition	Neutral
Terrain	Watery, slimy, rocky, icy, lava, bumpy.	Primary Race(s)	Birds, slime, pegasus, snakes, leopards, some fairies and Elfs.
Climate	Bipolar, very cold or hot, some days warm.	Primary Resource/ Technology	The green, blue, red, purple, and white quartz river.
Size	30.0	Description	Each river has its own capabilities. The green river can provide healing capabilities if you drink from it. Also, it can provide you magical nutrients. The blue river can give you some energy or give you a burst of energy. The red river can give you a moment of power. Purple river allows you to deflect any abnormalities. Then, the white river there you can find the secrets of anything. But, It costs about a 1/15 of your life span every time you ask for a secret.
Planetary Wildlife	One common creature is a molten/ ice birds. These birds roam the sky, land, and the mountains. The birds could range from a chick about 1 ft tall to a full grown bird to about 300+ ft. These birds usually leave other creatures alone, unless you mess with their pack. They are mostly omnivores and can pretty much consume anything.

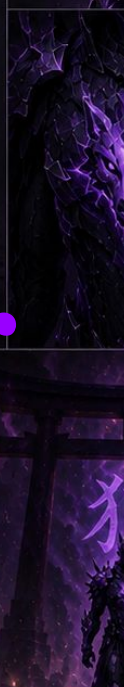

RAGING WOLF
DARK MATTER ARMOR
— 暗黒物質 —

- DARK MATTER RADIANCE
- ANBU MASK OF PURPLE
- SPIKE SHOULDERS
- RAGING WOLF EMBLEM
- COSMIC VOID ENERGY

狼の怒り
— ANBU —

The Purple Anbu Armor

Druvunus

Dark matter

The Havens

Orblirite

Origin Story: Before I left The Havens I had brought some Orblirite with me and went to Durvunus and took some dark matter as well. Then, I had merged them together and created a strong but surprising light armor set. Crafted from Orblirite, Dark Matter, and souls of wolves,

Appearance: A purple and black armor set that gives a radiant glow of dark matter. Spike shoulder pieces and a mask of a purple wolf. Raging Wolf armor

● Tuffen

When struck with an attack to any armor piece it allows you to be buffed and tank about 50-70% of the damage taken from the hit. Also, allows you to heal at a faster rate than usually (15% faster). Gives a speed increase of about 15% as well. (drains energy slowly)

◆ Enhance

Grants strength, speed, and other buffs as such. Depending on how much magic power you are willing to use effects the amount of buffs.

(To activate this power you must use fairy/dark magic)

★ PLOT ARMOR

PLOT ARMOR allows the user to get crazy buffs IF in a life threatening state or close to death. Buffs: 83% recovery, 64% Stronger, 30% everything else. (AFTER PLOT ARMOR IS USED YOU FAINT FOR A COUPLE DAYS TO RECHARGE).

Chapter One : The Start To An Awakening

As I turned 1300 fairy years old, I was recruited to The Fairy Corps. The Fairy Corps was an organization to train your abilities and powers. The Fairy Corps was also a way to become a trained soldier or knight who would serve and protect the Fairy Kingdom. As I left my home for The Fairy Corps, I said farewell to my mom and little brother. Then, I arrived at the Fairy Corps located in the Capital of the Fairy Kingdom. At first, it seemed pretty normal at the Fairy Corps for the first few days. Until they started testing our abilities, power, weakness, and other tests. Then, they ranked the other fairies there based on their power, magic, intelligence, and abilities. Now, there were rankings for everything, and there was a ranking for overalls as well. As everyone looked at their ranking they were confused, mad, scared, proud, and even shocked. As I looked for my ranking, I noticed people whispering 5 names, but one of them was mine. I looked at the top of the list, and I saw my score. Out of everyone's scores, 5 scores were UNDEFINED, and there were over 2,500 fairies registered in the Fairy Corps. Suddenly, everything went quiet, and 3 figures slowly emerged, one from the sky, the ground, and the crowd.

“Ma, Ha, Ma, Ha, 2 other UNDEFINED scores. I wonder who they could be,” Fairy Captain Astral said with excitement.

Chapter One : The Start To An Awakening

“I find that amusing, Astral, but I think we might already know who the other 2 are,” Fairy Captain Zever said.

But we noticed another Fairy that had a powerful presence right next to them.

“Jeez, what an entrance, Nilerper,” Fairy Captain Astral said.

As they kept chatting, one of them suddenly looked at me. After that, everyone else looked at me.

“I can feel powerful magic from this one,” Fairy Captain Zever stated.

As they looked at me and talked about me, asking what my powers are, my strength, my abilities, and other things.

“I want to train this one,” Nilerper said.

Everyone was chosen for a different Fairy Captain based on their magical power or element they were the most powerful with. But Nilerper chose me. So I went with him and another 20 fairies. As we went with him, he opened a portal that led to his training camp.

After a few years at the training camp, I was one of the best Fairies behind the Fairy captains, I was told.

Although I was strong, I kept getting mad for no reason. I got mad over the fact that I dropped my carrot and made a big deal about it. I exploded the carrot. Every time I got mad, Nileper would make me run around the camp 10 times. The camp is about 10 acres by 15 acres. Although I would take me about the whole afternoon to run around, I eventually stopped getting mad over little reasons.

Chapter One : The Start To An Awakening

After we finished our training camp, we were sent home. When you get home, you will get a letter in the mail, and what you could be. You could be a trainer, a Fairy Soldier, a Fairy knight, a Fairy Captain, or be strong enough to be in line to be the Fairy king. You can climb the rankings as well. You could get stronger, smarter, and better.

As I got home, I greeted my mother, then went to bed as I was really tired

Chapter Two : The Special Quest

As I arose from my slumber, my mother rushed to my room and opened the door.
“Hey Dibid, you got a letter from the castle,” my mother stated.

I got out of bed and grabbed the letter.

It read: “Dear Disk Rabid, you were selected for a special quest. Please come down to the fairy king’s castle for more information.” So, I said my farewells to my younger brother and my mom. I walked down the pathway and greeted the other fairies on the way. I even helped someone get some mystic apples. Then I arrived in the capital and kept walking on the gravel road to the castle. As I got to the castle, I remembered that I needed to stop at a store. I entered the Fairy King's castle and was directed to him. As I reached his chamber, the doors suddenly opened.

“I see you made it. Take a seat, Disk Rabid,” The Fairy King spoke.

“Of course, Majesty,” I said while taking a seat.

“Disk Rabid, I need you to do a special mission for me. You have to infiltrate the fallen angel's castle and eliminate their leader. You will leave in 3 days, accompanied by a squad to support you with this task. Do you understand Disk Rabid?” Fairy King stated.

Chapter Two : The Special Quest

“Yes, I understand, although, Fairy King, I have to ask why you would choose me for this job?” I asked.

“I suppose I'll tell you, you are one of the strongest fairies in the kingdom, you have unfairy-like magical power, you're a prodigy, and you are an excellent choice for this mission.” Fairy King stated.

“I suppose I accept your quest, Fairy King,” I said with a sigh.

So, I walked away from the Fairy King and out of the castle. As I walked out of the capital and into a path in the Enhanced Fairy Forest, I saw them. Fallen angels were setting up a campsite outside and were planning an attack on the capital again. I summoned a rabbit and told it to warn the capital about an attack. As it hopped to the capital, I kept eavesdropping on their conversation. Then, suddenly, they got quieter, so I peeked my head over, and some of them were gone.

“I got him!” a Fallen Angel yelled.

I turned around, and there were about 15 Fallen ones behind me. As they tried to fight me, I used earth magic to shoot rocks at them and then ran away. I ran toward the capital, and I saw a small army of fairies preparing for the attack. I kept walking down the road, and then I heard an explosion. I turned around, and the fairies were fighting the fallen angels. Although I thought about helping, I realized that I had to go to the castle, so I kept walking. But I got hungry, so I looked around for a food stand. There it was, my favorite food stand called Roasted

Chapter Two : The Special Quest

Carrots. I bought some roasted carrots and started eating them while continuing my walk to the castle.

Chapter Three: The Fallen Angels

As I finished my carrots, I arrived at the Fairy Castle to see who was in my squad. As I scanned the room, I noticed that there were 3 Fairy Captains. Fairy Captain Astral, Fairy Captain Zever, and Fairy Captain Nilerper.

“So, Dibid, I see you made it. You will be accompanying these Fairy Captains and one more fairy when she arrives.

So, I started looking around the room while the captains were chatting with each other. Then, someone opened the doors. It was the 5th Fairy for this mission. As she walked towards the group, the king greeted everyone, and so did everyone else.

“I see you all made it. We shall begin.” The Fairy King Stated.

Everyone nodded and began talking about the main plan. As I listened to their words, I noticed that time seemed very fast but slow somehow. I noticed that one of the Fairy Captains had time magic and slowed down time so we could discuss the idea.

“I think Nilerper should lead the mission with Astral behind him. Then, Dibid and I can lead the battle with you guys supporting,” Zever said.

“What about me?” Adrammelech asked

“You could watch our backs and help us take the Fallen Angel King down,” Zever told.

They kept talking about their plans to capture or kill the Fallen Angel King and wipe out their army. Then, we set out for the Fallen Angel King. We started walking on a path to the Fallen Angel Kingdom. As we walked, they occasionally talked to each other about why they can’t just kill the army and go for the king later.

“I don’t understand why we couldn’t wipe out their armies ourselves,” Astral whined.

“I suppose you're right. I believe we could probably kill them; if not, then we can badly injure them. Also, with a third of the captains away, how would they even guard the whole kingdom? I mean, because we each are protecting a part of the kingdom. But now they have to double up; even the soldiers will have to fight harder. I just see no point in sending 5 strong fairies to their castle. It seems like a death trap or an easy mission,” Zever explained.

Chapter Three: The Fallen Angels

We kept on walking while we gave our explanations and reasons why we had to do this. Suddenly, everyone stopped talking and stood still.

“Shush! Do you guys feel that?” Astral asked in a whispered tone.

“The magical power? If so, yes, I feel it coming on the path in front of us,” Zeven whispered.

So, we all glanced at each other and nodded. We were going to continue cautiously forward. Then, I summoned a bunny to check on the upcoming path, but it came back empty-handed. So, we kept walking and walking until we stumbled on a Fallen Angel relic. Relics are used for different things. For example, Relics can hold magical power that enhances your abilities, or some relics give you a boost of magical energy. As I drew my hand out for the relic, someone had pulled me away from it.

“What are you doing?! Are you trying to be cautious? It could be a trap.” Zeven said angrily.

“I was going to grab it. The relic seemed to be telling me something. Have you guys noticed that there were 2 other relics, but off the path about 10 yards out? I think that we are in Fallen Angel territory, and these relics are a marker of it.” I stated.

“Dibid, I think im going to have to agree with you on this. As I scouted the area using space expansion, I could sense the other relics around. It seemed like they would go on forever until I saw something that knocked me out of the space expansion. I saw him, the Fallen Angel King. I think he knew that I was using it, as he used his magic to cancel it out. So stay on high alert while we continue on this path,” Astral said with a nervous look.

We started walking again, but way more carefully. Astral kept using her ability to sense the Fallen Angels, but then, everything went black. As I had fallen due to a powerful spell, I noticed that everything went quiet and dark. When I woke up, the captains were surrounding.

“Hey, you got a huge scar on your back,” Zeven said.

As I felt my back, I noticed the scar reaching down my back, emanating Fallen Angel magic.

“It seemed like they wanted to take control of you, Dibid,” Nilerper Said.

Chapter Four : The battle of the fallen

The power surge seemed to have no effect for a while until we reached the Fallen Angels' kingdom capital. We had Zever cast a spell that would make us blend in with the Fallen Angels. As we walked into their capital toward the castle, we felt the unbelievably strong aura again. We all glanced at each other and nodded. We believed that must be the Fallen Angel King we were looking for.

“Astral, Zever, you're with me,” Nilerper said.

They nodded in agreement and stood by him.

“You two sneak around to the back and try to ambush him. We will attack him up front. Hurry, go!” Nilerper told.

As we nodded, we also forgot about the plan earlier and moved on. Adrammelech and I went around the castle while the others went inside it. As we ran around into a back entrance, we heard fighting and distant explosions. As we entered the castle, it immediately expanded in space and revealed the 3 Fairy Captains battling the Fallen Angel King.

“Get him while we distract him!” Astral yelled.

Adrammelech went towards the battle and used a spell called purify. Purify weakens evil forces or whoever is the target of the spell. I summoned A bunch of rabbits to distract Astaroth and give them an opening.

“Hey there.” A deep voice said behind me.

“You must be him, I've been waiting for you to come, Disk Rabid.” He said with a powerful tone.

As I turned around, it felt as if I was in slow motion while Astaroth used a fallen punch. I almost dodged it, but it grazed me in the arm. I looked at the captains, and they were knocked down. I wondered how someone could be this strong.

“WHAT ARE YOU DOING, ATTACK HIM!!” Zever yelled.

I realized that I was still in combat with Astaroth. I used my rabbit dragons to distract him while I cast a powerful spell called the rabbit hole. The rabbit hole is a spell that summons a hold, and if anything goes inside the rabbit hole, they have a very small chance of surviving it and coming back in peace. But if they don't find a way out, then they will become a rabbit and forever work for Disk Rabid. As he was cast in the rabbit hole, he broke out in record time.

Chapter Four : The battle of the fallen

“Are you trying to make me work for you?! You dirty fairies, your kind despises me,” Astaroth said.

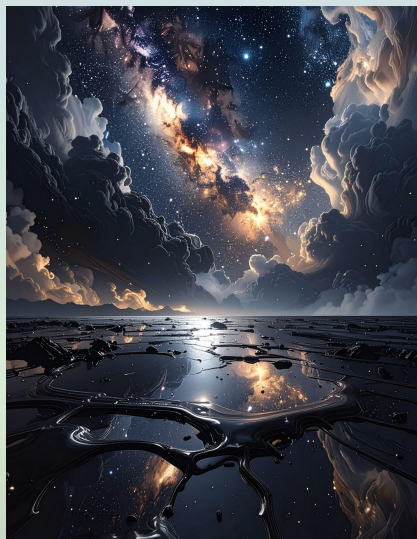

I kept exchanging blows with him until Zever got up with Astral and used a combination spell.

“Witered Star!” Zever and Astral chanted.

Witered Star seemed to be a powerful move against Astaroth; it caused him to stumble back and lose his right wing. As he was severely affected by the attack, I seized the chance to attack him with an attack called Blitz Buds. Blitz Buds was a move that summoned all my rabbits and combined them for a way stronger, faster, and bigger rabbit. This rabbit looked like it had the intent to kill. I had struck Astaroth with an curfix deep in his side. He screeched in a high pitch, grew horns, and turned red. His true form, this also took a blow on me because the scar on my back seemed to open up and spill dark magic.

“Dibid! Your back, it's spewing magic power!” Adrammelech yelled.

Chapter Five : The disappearance of battle

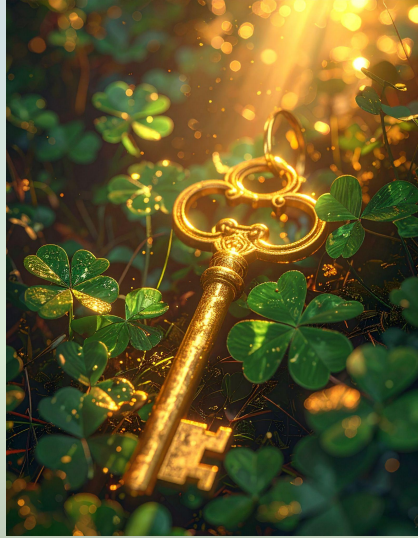

Everything was dark and quiet. It seemed that I had been in this darkness forever. I can't remember or see anything. It felt as if I was spinning endlessly in space, in time, in a place I could not recognize.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

I was jolted awake by explosions. Where was I? I looked around to see if I could see or hear anyone. But it was just explosions of matter. I felt the ground I was on. I felt smooth but harder than anything I've felt before. I suddenly remember, I must be on Druvunus, the planet of matter. I must be on dark matter as of this moment. I only heard of this planet once, and it was back in a tale. Something like one of the strongest materials in the universe, and what evil would do with it. That's right, the Fallen Angel king. He must have dark matter as well. How else could he be so strong? Come to think of it. Who is the Fallen Angel King, and where could I exit this planet? Anyhow, I should gather some dark matter for future uses. I gathered dark matter. Although it was difficult, I managed to fill a bucket and put it in my bag. I walked along Druvunus as I saw a portal of some sort. I walked up to it and it sucked me inside. Was I falling into the sky? I looked around while falling, and it seemed like a planet of everything. I summoned a Rabbit dragon and flew myself down to the ground. I got up and started looking around. It seemed like there was a bunch of nothing until I looked up and saw a flock of birds that seemed to be on fire, but rocky. Perhaps Molten Corws. They were massive, even I could tell from the ground. As I had forgotten the battle with a king of some sort. I kept walking until I reached a cave. It seemed pretty empty, so I went inside. I was right, it was deserted. I had emptied my bag and found some orblirite. I suppose I remember what orblirite was. A strong material used for creating weapons and armor. As I grabbed Orblirite and Dark Matter, I noticed wolf-like creatures coming towards me. They looked like they were out for blood. Considering that im a Rabbit fairy, I could see why they wanted to eat me. As they came closer, I was almost done crafting my materials. I wanted to create an incredibly strong armor set. As they came closer, I used a move. I ended their lives with a move called Wolf Breaker. This move is mostly effective against world-like creatures; it enilates the. As I continued crafting my armor, I noticed that blue-like sparks were flying into my armor set. I noticed that it had been the wolves' souls flowing into my armor. As I finished creating my armor set, I equipped it, and it looked heavy but felt light. I also felt stronger, faster, and could take anything down with the power surge the armor gave me. I started walking around this planet. I figured I would just give it a name called The Celestial Equinox. As I roamed this planet for a while, I came across a river that seemed to be shiny green. But I noticed that being by the river, you feel incredibly light. My back suddenly closed up. It was the scar that was opened. I had noticed something across the river. I swam across the river and found a key. When I turned the key, it had something engraved in it. It read: World Key. I suppose that it lets you travel worlds. So I said, The Havens because that planet sounded familiar.

Chapter Five : The disappearance of battle

Chapter Six : The Return of battle

As the key allowed me to reenter the world that felt somewhat familiar, I started to remember everything. The fallen angel king and the mission. I rushed towards the Fallen Kingdom. Because of the armor, I was super fast and got there using enhance. While spamming enhanced my magic power was depleting at a faster rate. I think I was going with the general direction of the kingdom because I could sense the magical power. As I arrived at their kingdom, I saw the Fiary's captains still battling it out with Astaroth. When I went closer, an energy beam blasted right past me and caused a huge explosion. I kept walking closer and closer.

"You fairies are still trying to put up a fight? I shall end this battle for once," Astaroth said in an intimidating tone.

"We will fight with everything we have. We won't let you survive and keep attacking the fairy kingdom. Give it your all!" Zever said in a cheering tone.

I looked around, and there were fallen angels coming in to support their leader. I summoned my rabbits to battle them so we could focus on the main enemy.

"Start Plasma!" Astral yelled.

Star plasma creates the same beam as before, and it actually hits Astaroth this time.

Astaroth groans in pain as he gets hit, but he recovers by healing himself. Then, I charge in, with the armor, I feel way stronger than before. But then, someone calls out to me.

"Dibid?! You're back?! Where were you?" Adrammelech asked.

"Never mind that, for now let's just get Astaroth, then we can talk afterwards," I said.

As I thought I was gone for 2 days, I was wrong. I had been gone for 2 hours. I was amused that this battle was still going on for more than 2 hours. I decided that it was time for us to end this Fallen King and his nation.

"Hey, Astral, I got a plan," I said.

"What is it?" Astral requested.

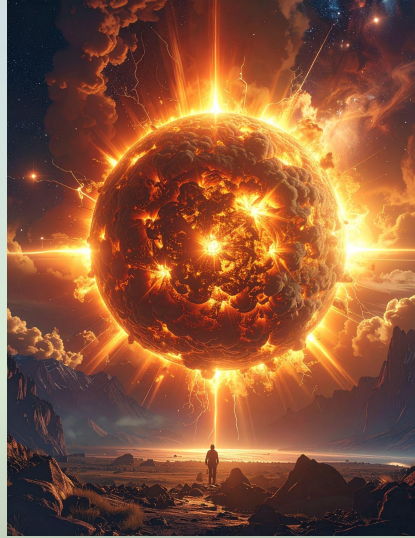

We combine your spell and my magic. So cast that Star Nova, and I'll put all my magic inside of it." I told.

"Wouldn't that make a massive explosion and hit us as well? Astral asked.

"Yes, but Zever could cast a magic barrier to shield it from us," I said

"I think I can do that, let's do it," Zever said.

Chapter Six : The Return of battle

Astral casted Star Nova. Star Nova is a huge explosion, and everything hit by it etheiris disintegrates or gets badly damaged. Also, more magic inside Star Nova makes the explosion bigger, stronger, and more deadly.

“Star Nova!” Astral chanted.

I started pouring my magic power into Star Nova. Although it was tiring, I got most of my magic in. Then, suddenly, the other Fairy Captains besides Zever also poured their magic inside it. Zever cast his spell called The Defying Wall. The Defying Wall was a massive wall that could withstand countless attacks. It can take up to 6 Fairy Captains to break the wall.

“Ready!” Zever yelled.

“3 2 1!” Astral counted down.

BOOM! A blinding light filled The Havens, a trembling planet, and a sound so loud you couldn't hear it. After about 15 minutes, the light had dissipated, and all around in a 100-mile radius was flat ground. I suppose it also flattened everything around us as well. Where we stood was a huge crater in the ground below our feet. We fell out of the sky and into the new crater. We noticed some remains of Astaroth, but only his head.

“You fairies, I suppose your kind aren't that bad. But, I will come back, and we will have a rema-,” He said before his head turned into ash.

“We did it! YEAHH!” I said.

I looked around and saw everyone else caring for each other's wounds. As I walked toward them, I fainted.

I opened my eyes to a white room. Perhaps a medical room. I remembered before pouring all my magical power inside Star Nova, my armor activated PLOT ARMOR. And that saved me.

“Get a healer! Hes Awake!” a nurse yelled.

The Healer came in and started to heal me.

“Do you know how long I've been asleep?” I asked.

“About 6 days you've been out,” Healer said.

As the days passed, I slowly got my health back and eventually left the medical room. But then, the Fairy King approached me.

“Hey, nice work out there, Dibid. Would you want to take the title Fairy Captain?” Fairy King asked.

Chapter Six : The Return of battle

“Fairy Captain? Sounds nice. Fairy Captain Dibid. I accept your title.” I responded.

“Oh, and I have another quest for you,” Fairy King said.

THE END OF THE QUEST